

STARDROPS

September 27 - October 3, 2020

9/27 Transiting Venus sextile Transiting Node Do you need to jump into a new cycle of administrative planning? Are you counting on your employees or team to deliver creative supportive contributions and helpful actionable ideas? Or are you searching for help and support now?

A few days ago throughout the next upcoming week ( 9/24 – Oct 3) we have got the best astrology period to join forces with others and cut through on projects. It won't matter if you are running a business, organization, or your own complicated self, people can be there for you (and maybe even some divine intercession) to pull you out of a stuck situation and shed light on your path. A breakthrough can be had this week.

9/28 Venus at 25* Leo inconjunct Saturn at 25* Capricorn Once this planning jumps into high gear, expect to squeeze your old self into a new matrix which will require a bit more self discipline. Believe me, it's worth it.

9/28 Venus at 25* Trine Mars at 25* Aries Positive creative energies from the planet Venus representing our values, joy, creative ability and love is in a positive flow towards people in our world who might be normally gruff, contrary and controlling – not the usual empathetic types. Take advantage of your congenial and intelligent side of yourself now to get along with everyone and see how this outcome can push through the barriers.

RISING TO THE OCCASION AS IF YOUR LIFE DEPENDED ON IT

Serious planning, reviewing what has happened in the past, and resolve to change it for the better.

9/28 Saturn at 25* Capricorn stationary direct From May 10, 2020 up to Sept 28, 2020, Saturn has been retrograde. This cycle has done several things:

1. Reviewing, resolving and cleaning up past situations, life circumstances, projects, tasks and responsibilities. By Saturn coming out of Retrograde ( re-runs or reviewing) you should now be feeling a hint of energy, wind in your sails as if someone just gave you permission to move forward with your new vision and tasks at hand....whether work or personally. Trust them, they're free to be put into place now.
2. Anytime within the past five months, there might have been reviewing or karmically experiencing any unresolved part of our own life which has in the past, an annoying problem, causing irritability frustration and even heavy discouragement in our lives. This reviewing isn't usually something we're choosing to do, but falls upon us out of left field. Important resolve within, new decisions needing to be made or parts of ourselves that are still not coming up to a level we hoped can be changed now.

There is a mystical grand tester in the universe, and that is Saturn. Saturn returned throughout this period to pick up where we left off a long time ago. Where we left off from trying with, something. He's come back to pick us up, shake us off and infuse us with that determination to try once again only this time, it's for the full potential to be reached. So this Saturn could have brought up our past failures in order to reach 9/28 on...and set our boat's sail straight and this time go for the whole thing in the proper way. Some, also might just be experiencing a bit of positive relief of good karmic energies returning to you (or maybe a bit of both!) Either way, this has been five months of deep profound life review and new convictions and decisions finally reached just about this time.

3. The entire retrograde period can feel like a waiting period of restrictive rules, karmic restrictions, limitations and being subjected to some form of revolving plans going over and over again as if there was something wrong with our brains ....“ What was I doing? How is this to be implemented? What's the plan? What are the goals and outcome I'm to reach? How are we to accomplish this?....” and so on.....(My own Reflection on how many beautiful leather planners I set up these past five months pouring over them for weeks, getting it just right, as if my entire life's future were riding on these magical planners to lead me to my success). Finally, beginning 9/28, let's hope that from this day on a change in the wind's direction will push us onward to speed up our progress and bring some sanity back into the world.

9/29 Mars at 25* Aries square Saturn at 25* Capricorn. 9/28-9/30 Both sides need to come to some kind of mutual understanding. Even if it's a tiny bit.

Three days of enforced policies, restrictive situations and having to go through some things we would rather not do. Once again Saturn in Capricorn calls us out where there has been self absorption, selfishness and myopic vision. Issues with our self image, or even physical things such as our eyes, head, brain, memory, decisions with entangled situations and challenging circumstances need the utmost sensitivity and agreeableness. Keep your cool.

10/2 Sun at 9* Libra inconjunct Uranus at 9* Taurus Love, cooperation and serious diplomacy is required all the while a contrary arguing force is bent out of shape. Know you have some part of the truth and desire harmony and resolution, but this other energy or person is annoyingly influenced by a group thought. There is no way to merge and find a win-win with this one. Simply agree to disagree, make some concessions and walk away.

10/2 Venus enters Virgo What we love and value in our every day life is about to step up and become a drive for perfectionism. This quality of Venus perfects our home, diet, clothing, pets, work, accounting, money, body and planning. Venus in Virgo is also an increase of loving service. We have this beauty of perfecting socially and with all our material issues up through October 27 2020.

10/3 Mercury at 6* Scorpio begins to move into retrograde position, now, peaking on October 13, at 0-11* Scorpio, oppose Uranus ( described in detail in September 20 Stardrops), sextile Transiting Venus at 11* Virgo, and inconjunct Chiron at 6* Aries.

Even though Oct 3 is a peak for the inconjunct to Chiron, the entire string of this theme continues now up to September 19 through the 22 ( Another peak of Mercury oppose Uranus and inconjunct Chiron in Aries.)

What does this mean? The theme of Mercury retro this time is to give up some lazy or backwards pattern which is only holding us back, sabotaging our ability to reach a goal we have envisioned a long time ago. The shift is now! For More Mercury Retrograde Information, check the latest MERCURY RETROGRADE ARTICLE on Starfires.

10/4 Pluto turns direct at 22* Capricorn Pluto began to go retrograde on April 25, 2020. From that date up to October 4, the long deep underground power of Pluto slowly grinding out its purification and exposure of people and situations everywhere is now bringing its findings suddenly out into the light of day. Personally and globally. This period of processing issues now surfaced from the underworld will last up through April 27, 2021.
