

STARDROPS JUNE 14 -20

Theme for the next three weeks: Boundaries are advised.

As you read through this week's STARDROPS, a theme of protection is emphasized. Your mind might be concentrating upon securing your homes, cars, family and possessions or yourself.

Within this Stardrop is also a link to the Mercury Retrograde which highlights this theme.

It's a good idea now to make sure people have what they need just in case anything unexpected should happen in local random areas near cities.

People are talking about feeling insecure, vulnerable and in danger. People wanting protection and security, and willing to make deals, bargain and make big mistakes with regards to whom to trust during dangerous times.

Try to resist buying into quick solutions from last week of June up through the first two weeks of July during the Lunar Eclipse peaking on the fourth.

Reply instead upon the Solar Eclipse in Cancer power on the last 10 days of June peaking June 21, which brings us more helpful and long term answers. The Solar Eclipse starting June 21 would be a time where everyone wins and does not have to give up true freedom, financial or physical security and creativity in order to find inner satisfaction.

Good boundaries and re-establishing the parameter of your life is absolutely necessary including additional safeguards in a new way.

July 4 2020 Yet Another Lunar Eclipse.

Please be careful, careful, careful. Extra attention to your children, loved ones, beware of who's around you, your environment, homes, what kind of food are you eating, where you're walking and be awake and tuned in to your own space. Increase your circle of protection. Keep an incredible eye on your children especially little ones.

Try not to allow self to become emotionally upset and loose control, as you want to be on your toes thinking clearly throughout July 3 - 5th.

June 21 Solar Eclipse 0* Cancer inconjunct Saturn

Security is made but hard shifts ahead in order to achieve it fully.

Beginning now and reaching a peak on July 21, 2020, an incredibly sharpened laser awareness assists each one of us to tune into what we need in order to maintain security and survival during these times.

This will be like a new start. Many challenges are now behind you opening the door to the next phase of 2020.

Please take one challenge which is on your mind, one superior issue you would love to take care of. Without moving beyond this one challenge or shall we call it a test, or an initiation of some sort, you might not be able to fully invest yourself in all your other projects or tasks that need to also be accomplished.

This one thing will be represented by the position of Saturn at 0-1* Aquarius in an awkward angle to the Solar Eclipse at 0* Cancer. It demands an adjustment of your priorities and a shift towards the one thing rather than so many.

Because Saturn is in Aquarius- it's more than simply accomplishing something important, it's about moving through the process of this issue and improving upon each part of it – mastering it, upgrading or making it even better, efficient, fun or deeply meaningful and functional. There might be a very special reason to complete this task or go through this process, as if you were in an amazing alchemy to create a deeper security for the Cancer Eclipse's needs.

Making adjustments in the way something is experienced or handled so that it is more positive, better than ever before, supporting something that changes you for the better is possible now.

Is it a psychological issue you must tackle and resolve recognizing the truth? By accepting the truth and clarity within the way of looking at some dysfunction you can start to address it, instead of talking yourself perpetually into just putting up with it, and finally have peace. All steps taken after this change within leads to future security and deep happiness and peace.

Without the shift, it is as if the foundations keep crumbling with everything you try to build on top of this partially compromised viewpoint.

If it is a financial/physical/material thing you are struggling with, the same process as above will be required... a replica of the above description but a very physical practical thing you're doing. Here's a silly and small example. While finishing my last two rooms' wood floors, the mess of fir wood flooring had one section of boards laid down in the wrong direction, (sideways). We had originally decided to just sand it all as is and just say it's the character of the house. I just wanted it done.

Instead, as we approach the power of this Solar Eclipse, somehow, it all evolved into taking the extra time to rip up all the boards which are laid wrong and replaced with new fir all laid in the same correct directions as the rest before sanding. Simple but just one more thing. That would be like a Saturn in Aquarius inconjunct the Cancer (home) Solar Eclipse.

Take any one of your challenges and you could find yourself being tested to go through a more time consuming path that your other self would have put up with in the past. See, you're changing. (I'm changing!)

All inconjuncts have secret lessons of inner soul growth residing within. It is worth it. Because this Saturn in Aquarius is pulling us up higher to shift and change in our method and detail of accepting a better way even if it is more work, and because it is inconjunct the Solar Eclipse in Cancer, (the laser focus upon our deeper feeling of security and completeness) it means this Cancer eclipse will be deeply satisfied within your own world for a long time to come because of this more detailed effort you put in to something now.

The concentration of this task and possibly others related to this one supreme thing could carry on throughout the next five months in smaller yet related ways, until the next Solar Eclipse.

June 14 Sun at 24* Gemini inconjunct Pluto at 24* Capricorn

A frustrating day for some. Potentially sensing a disconnect from ones' normal creative productivity. Just take it easy and take care of the tasks one would normally not handle because of being too busy. Let's get them out of the way.

June 16 Sun inconjunct Jupiter at 25* Capricorn Some inconveniences and distractions can occur today. Along with June 14 frustration, this day might cause disruptions to your schedule. If you need to cut through and concentrate, put yourself in a place where no one can find you and shut off the phone! Try to stay out of polarizing discussions.

June 17 - 19 Mars at 24* Pisces sextile Pluto A powerful cycle of planning, discussion, coordinating schedules and receiving and giving lots of help. It will usually be a bit of a strenuous task you might be involved in with another but now is the time to really move on it and make this day happen!

June 19 Sun conjoin Node Your mind might be focused upon your budget, finances, others' money and yours and others' possessions and what can bring happiness to others. You are in tune as usual with what is the best way, the best activity and people to connect with during this time. A prosperous business and personal decision making day. Very motivated!

June 20 Mars 25* in Pisces sextile Jupiter in Capricorn

An amazingly energetically constructive time with much cooperation, efficiency and support between you and others. Ethical positive attitudes are involved. People are basically honorable and cooperative. There is a helpful spirit in the air infecting everyone. It is a happy productive time shared with key people who are compatible with your own tasks and you with theirs at this time. People connect and things should go fairly well.

Progress is made in the global national issues with Mars (military, police, special agents) effectively solving serious cultural problems.

MERCURY RETROGRADE IN CANCER – JUNE 17 – 18

Check out the full article HERE

With the emphasis upon the Lunar Eclipse in Capricorn/Cancer, the Solar Eclipse in Cancer, and the Mercury retro in Cancer, you can see we have a strong theme going on here to create your own Bubble of Reality and Circle of Fire. How could you strengthen your filters of life in order to invest more into what kind of environment, lifestyle and activities nurture your own soul, while resisting those projected upon you by others and the world? How do we strengthen and are about this yet still interact with those who might not share exactly the same reality? More about this amazing theme, later! Promise.

See you next time,
Christine

Starfires Astrological Services

(406) 222-1763

Website: www.starfires.com

Email: sirius@starfires.com

Receive Starfires Newsletters

Facebook

Twitter: starfiresalerts