Nov 15 – 21

Nov 14 -21 Venus at 22 * Libra square Pluto at 22* Capricorn

From November 14th – 21th, Especially peaking on November 15 and 16th, friendships and social connections are reviewed in a realistic light. What was once a possible flow of give and take, now appears to have either disappeared, or become quite guarded. Venus draws us to like-minded people.

One might review the social styles and preferences of people, circle of friends or environment, and come to some conclusions regarding the trends in the world.

What you do with your conclusions, is based upon your way of filtering the truth and what your priorities are.

This Sunday on, could change the way you look at the world of people and the predominant attitudes and choices people in general are choosing to live like. Are you okay with your conclusions?... and how will this alter your future decisions as to how you want to live?

Examining the who, what and hows of past interactions with friendships could result deeper insight.

Now we go into a possible string of events and life patterns with the world, socially – ad others. Possibly you may have never seen people in general in this way before. Even though I am pro – love, unity, we're all one, themes – something else is occurring since January 2012, and has been increasing regarding vibrational similarities.

At the same time, Venus at 23* Libra also squares Jupiter at 23* Capricorn adding an additional conflict – cultural value conflicts (what one's acquaintances prefer to be, live and think like) are in sharp focus. Maybe a conflict such as, one does not want to compromise any longer yet if one rejects certain situations and behaviors, we just might be singled out as an outsider, or even job/social group etc is in danger of being dissolved.

Moral and ethical issues within these relationships stir these conflicts. Is there in some situations an almost disbelief over the differences rather than the similarities one might have thought existed? As in the case of a global Social square, does this put us in possible danger socially? Why are so many unable to reach similarities between them, and more prone to focus on the unbending attitudes of the differences?

Are we beginning to enter the start of that Pluto Return in the U.S. Astrology, 2022-2025 which reruns the 1768-1776 and beyond? Or is this time around the Epic Wrap Up where all make their decisions to see the big truth of how society has been “handled” or the choice to remain asleep?

Uncompromising, one could trust and value the hearts' intelligence, putting priorities in place, remove the conflicts and deciding to act on these values, this is the challenge. How should I do this? This Venus issue is a great entree into this week's entertainment – ZANONI.

With the original and pure beginnings of Rosicrucian path in mind before the practice became infiltrated in the late 1700's, Zanoni reveals complex social decisions upon the backdrop of the French Revolution. (Do I need to provide a disclaimer here, this is not a Religious or Spiritual pitch, simply an inspiration which popped into my mind as I was focused upon the Venus, and thought I should share it with you.)

“It is Zanoni's ultimate sacrifice that would give Bulwer-Lytton's friend Charles Dickens an idea on how to end A Tale of Two Cities “. (Wikipedia)

Nov 17 Mercury at 8* Scorpio oppose Uranus at 8* Taurus

The last phase of the October 7 – Nov 17 theme of exposure, revelations, separating truth from lies, unhealthy obligations and entanglements, observing extreme compromises and secrets, build up to a crescendo this day revealing a more comprehensive big picture.

The information discussed under this Mercury retro/direct in Scorpio/ Libra led us to a deeper understanding of things that we never considered before. This past Oct/Nov has been and still is, crucial for entering a more complete vision of our lives, who we are and what is the next step now we see so much more. It also may have opened a hatch for some, to peer into the potential future of increase polarizing nature between two cultures and the danger coming. Ah, just thought of another entertainment idea for you'all. Look for it at the end.

As it has been opposing Uranus, we see how we've been Scorpionically entangled in something we don't want and begin figuring out how to plan out and have the courage to act on one's future freedom, congruent with our true values.

Nov 19 Sun at 27* Scorpio sextile Saturn at 27* Capricorn Organized and focused, your vitality is flowing into sharing and reaching out for assistance, another's opinions, help and feedback. Mystical sharing, digging and research is high. Delving into some secrets and discussing the best way to move forward with plans. A minor breakthrough can occur last week, and up through this week, peaking on Nov 19.

Nov 19 Venus at 27* Libra square Saturn at 27* Capricorn Love and friendship, money and financial responsibilities might be tight this week. Create a magnificent affirmation for yourself to enhance abundance and support.

“I AM completely trusting abundance in life, assurance in financial security and multiple paths towards my most important goals.”

Nov 21 Venus enters Scorpio from Nov 21 – Dec 15, 2020

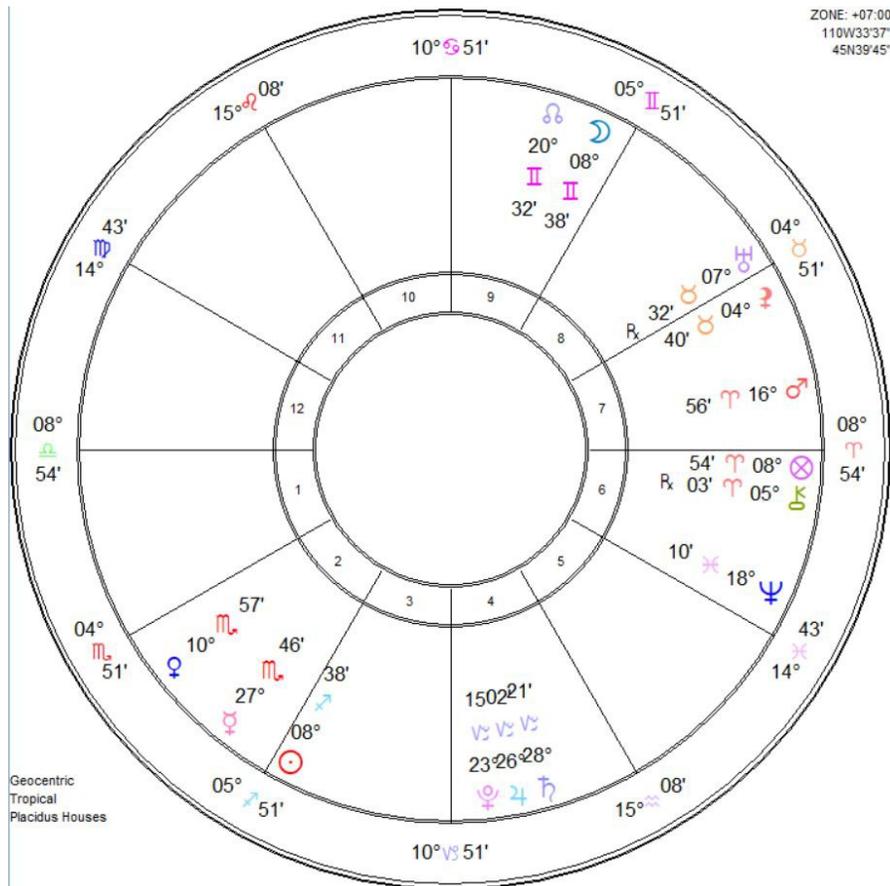

Our love and emotions begin to go underground. Deep wells of powerful feelings tied to our fondest dreams, memories and what matters to us, bring greater meaning to our days. We want to resurrect these experiences, yet adjust them to our new reality. Longing for that excitement, or the meditation, silence, contemplation. Urges to get away and be on a quest, read spiritual and religious or inspirational materials. Finding yourself open to receiving insights, asking for a sign, dreams and guidance. As Venus opens the heart yielding to the light, the return current sends whole concepts that can only be interpreted by the soul. The period helps us stay tuned in to those paths that lead us to safe ground and remind us of who we are and what we love, in the midst of others all around us.

Nov 21 Sun Moves into Sagittarius Sagittarius is ever seeking adventure, expansion of one's normal boundaries, pursuit of liberty and knowledge which has philosophical meaning. Positive outlook and optimism will arrange how you move through your day. Physical movement and outdoor quests help us maintain inspiration. Use these two cycles, the Sun and Venus as backdrops for your next few weeks. The love opening into deeper meanings and the Sun in Sag increasing the desire to believe anything is possible if you have a plan and work it, will sustain you through these strange times. Again, what do you need to do to align yourself with your inner promptings?

Nov 22 Mercury at 15* Scorpio inconjunct Mars at 15* Aries A few days of information disconnect, miscommunication, missed messages, disruption of connection, power, energy and words. Something is amiss. Have backup plans ready. Get your stuff done before the 20th, work, errands, finances, internet and travel, as the 21-23rd might be a bit weird.

November 30, 2020 Chagrined. Another Lunar Eclipse in 2020 – Even though this Eclipse does not happen until November 30, 2020, you can prepare for this now.

Between Nov 20 peaking November 30, especially, continuing up to Dec 3, the Lunar Eclipse in Gemini/Sagittarius inconjuncts Uranus. Sudden out of left field surprises might throw us off balance.

This is not the best time to count on accuracy of facts or take things at face value.

Opinions, information, media and/or pronouncement might change after a few weeks.

Not the best time to commit to anything. Not a good time for purchases, signing contracts and accepting deals/arrangements of any kind that are meaningful and important to you. (my own experience with Lunar Eclipses is that it seems to be safe to make important decisions and purchases up to about 1 week before a lunar eclipse which would be November 23rd on. About the time we are two weeks prior to a Lunar Eclipse, you just might feel it tugging on you – November 17th?- but most likely we're not in any temptation until the very last week and especially, please note this, ON THE EXACT DAY of the lunar eclipse itself.)

People could subtly lead you into conversations and ideas that seem just fine at the time, require more than normal commitments or investing energy.

I've also noted, that life seems to move along as normal, just up to an eclipse, where even though some hint of a theme is building, it isn't like any other astrological cycle, one hardly notices anything off.

Other cycles you can feel a sort of emotional mini-whirlwind building until the day of the peak, not so with Lunar Eclipses. Somewhere their might be poor boundaries demonstrated by someone. You would think or assume things are normal and handled, but no. Don't count on it. Do your own analysis now.

The Lunar Eclipse can continue up into the first week of December, but we can catch the trickery somewhere very close to the 29th to Dec 1, 2020 and pass right through it if you're on guard.

Jupiter Pluto Saturn is in its last conjunction now.
This aspect has been ongoing all 2020 up to Dec 21 2020.

The year started out Jan 12, 2020 with a Saturn conjoin Pluto 22* in Capricorn and only hit once. It set the new years' theme for 2020 with a concentrated plan we were to roll out. The challenge was to make your own blueprint plan, or something else would do it for you, something in control which decided what the plan for all was to be.

Then came the Jupiter conjoin Pluto. It had three strong peak cycles, returning and returning to remind or attempt to impose a cultural mindset, a mental/emotional conditioning towards a particular Capricorn power and blueprint, people could adapt to (increasing repetitive and escalating concepts where the media, agencies, organizations and government and/or experts etc expressed their authority and experienced opinions which led to new rules, regulations and restrictions, which are all Capricorn qualities) enforcing, molding consciousness into new global policies. Will it be your own Jupiter moral and expanded wisdom conclusions you desire to base your life upon or someone elses?

Personally, the test was this: the conjunction challenged people to work under greater restrictive situations and still remain as creatively free as they could. Situations Plutonian and Capricornian which appeared to be above anyone's person's control, was released. Why now, when we've been in Pluto in Capricorn since 2008? Why was this one so much more intense?

(Personal observations below)

Patience and trust in higher authorities have NOT been one of the 2020 tests, by the way.

Observing power and control, Capricorn/Pluto – Saturn, and figuring if it is accurate or not, or have there been alternatives that were not used, was and is the correct theme for 2020.

How you lock into your own HIGHER BLUEPRINT in spite of the abuses of power in the world throughout 2019, and especially 2020. Those have been the themes AND STILL ARE.

The three dates of Jupiter conjoin Pluto are: (Please give it 2 weeks before and after peak dates)

April 4, 2020 Jupiter conjoin Pluto (always give a few weeks before and after these dates)

Jun 29 2020 Jupiter conjoin Pluto

Nov 12, 2020 Jupiter conjoin Pluto

December 21, 2020 Saturn Conjoin Jupiter in Aquarius (new) (This transit is being included in this Stardrops because we're quickly moving into that event now)

Jupiter conjoin Saturn in the sign of Aquarius (Not Capricorn!) a judgmental of some sort, an absolute final conclusion, whether it seems fair or not.

Aquarius should be an objective decision, a higher and humanitarian mandate made for the betterment of everyone, enlightened, evolved thinking and universally objective – marking the end of one long 2020 cycle which was to assist the world into waking up and had its beginnings of a new cycle based on Aquarian truths....a marker point.

However, what has been normal so far in 2020? I'm concerned it will play out like this:

Whatever situation you have been walking through in 2020, or at least, most of it, you very well could suddenly come to a new decision. Let it be the most enlightened and positive decision.

Also, a decision could be made somewhere between Dec 16 – 21 globally.

The decisions will most likely be based upon the social norm or lowest common denominator, the majority of easiest group thought which isn't so much based upon the Truth of Aquarius, but the socially accepted ways of life, what seems to be trending among the predominately more powerful group or the world community....and will impact your social decisions for a long time to come for good or for ill.

So this Astrological conjunction in December 2020, and all the themes leading up to it can be seen personally and globally to mark the start of a new social period of our lives.

Aquarius tends to be unconventional, cool and rational, yet can be radical, contrary and potentially alienating.

Saturn and Jupiter in Aquarius should mean we are all entering a time of higher genius and innovation, objective problem solving for betterment of the greater whole, whether it's your family, business community, social connections or the world.

However, it will most likely be restricted, governed and controlled where people are telling you what to value, what to be like, how to conform into the group Aquarian ideal, because of Saturn in Aquarius wants to control the future of all the people -(Aquarius represents the future and communities.)

I'm concerned that this December, Saturn/Jupiter in Aquarius will take the path of least resistance rather than the revolutionary fighting for higher causes, love, truth and liberty it was meant to bring. (Did you know Aquarius actually is the one sign which represents Powerful Love expressed in waves from the heart? It makes sense, since LOVE is required to achieve an alchemical experiment. And Alchemy comes under the sign of Aquarius.) We'll see.

In our own personal lives, I do believe it inspires one to ask the most important questions: How can I be more free and what path do I need to take to achieve that?

During this Jupiter/Saturn in Aquarius – and continuing Saturn in Aquarius from March – June 2020, then returning December 17 2020 – 2022, the whole dark energy of the world is going to try to stop the Power of Love and Liberty. It will be like a dragon.

People will easily reflect on how life was before Dec 15-21 and after Dec 15-21 period.

A time people will remember.
Hence, Zanoni.

(Section of astrological Planets and Aspects included in regards to last January 2020 chart for sake of Astrologers out there)

I still hold onto the strong belief the original tri-conjunction of Saturn Jupiter and Pluto and South Node in Capricorn back in Dec 17, 2019 through January 2020, oppose the Uranian planet Hades and the North Node at 9-8* Cancer, then moving up to the Saturn conjoin Pluto at 24* Capricorn, Jan 12 – Jan 24, 2020 was the start of the release an evil matrix into our worlds....we can't forget the heaviness hundreds of people I know felt throughout last winter, beginning in December 2019. It was a weird Christmas, with a strange feeling, dark and heavy, as if many of us were waiting for something to happen. Beginning in December, I and my family, and many who've told me since, were quite sick, and some experienced this sickness off and on up through March 2020.

In that Stardrops back in December- February, possibly one in March also – we were looking at a period of possible Capricorn blueprints, positive values, new restructuring and empowerment activities for you personally to engage in, and claim as your new BLUEPRINTS yet, these 3 planets, SATURN, PLUTO AND JUPITER which had the potential of releasing this strategic systems for the empowerment of so many people began moving into an opposition to the Uranian planet Hades and the North Node. We touched on this, asking the question, what is this? My attention was constantly being drawn back to that weird alignment. It bothered me to no end.

The North Node is looked at as sort of a destiny or fate or something karmic the public must deal with, face or go through or manipulated to go through and it was being highly influenced by Hades (Hell) or an astral dark agenda that is anti-good.

This polarization began to create an extreme war and tension between the BLUEPRINT POTENTIAL we were to claim and achieve and the Hell designed to entrap the public in. The alignment of these planets began on December 17, 2019 exact continuing to increase and expand its potential of destruction impacting the whole world by its last peak of conjunction and opposition January 14-20,2020. Yet even though it passed, it influenced the next several weeks as if some creature was unleashed from Dec 17, 2019 on, and now it was too late to capture it and drag it back into its cage.

By the time Jupiter began conjoning Pluto, March 26 (the very last aspect shown above) instead of a new expanded and positive culture taking hold of the world's people, a negative manipulative enforcing a control system began to mold culture. (Jupiter is culture, Capricorn is power, authority, government and/or abuse of power) (Pluto is manipulation or absorbing the people into one large order or cultural system {System: Capricorn} with no other options.) Keep in mind what led up to 1776. We're almost in that returning 1776 cycle again in the U.S. Astrological Chart. See article HERE)

Jupiter conjoin Pluto - March 15 – April 13, 2020 peaking the hardest and enforcing cultural recommendations and mandates on March 21 to April 4 – April 13, 2020.

Jupiter conjoin Pluto June 10 – June 29, exact on June 18, 2020 all the above descriptions revisited.

Jupiter conjoin Pluto Nov 5, 2020 -Peaking November 12, running into November 20, 2020 Again, revisiting the theme of all the above, only this time the most desperate of all the three. Three peaks tries to set the matrix.

Hades conjoin North Node at the bottom of the wheel, Jupiter/South Node, along with Saturn and Pluto at the top – Dec 17 – January 2020.

I am thankful, if you've read this far, for allowing me to process an astrological indicator of a theme for 2020, that might have caused energies of our world to be poisoned by Hades in the most unusual polarization with three planets and the nodes (BTW, the nodes impact the population).

The original purpose of these three planets might have actually empowered us, but instead, because of Hades, sabotaged us. Never the less, we will transform this heaviness into a new success, I have compete faith.

In future Stardrops, I am inspired to concentrate on empowering astrological cycles and matrices with personally uplifting Affirmations and other wonderfulness. I think it's time to move on and take our global mindset up and above this garbage. In that way, we do unify our spirits in the Higher Aquarian Power of Love, and win.

Welcoming your thoughts,

Christine
