

Stardrops September 19 – 25 2021

Theme -Transcending the Mundane

Have you ever had an experience where a concept, an idea so strong with every detail sharply displayed in your own mind is being revealed to you, a new concept which could not have originated from you but, somewhere out there? It changes your insides and you can never go back to the previous state, before the idea came to you?

There's emotion within this vision, and a KNOWING. that tells you what you are experiencing is really going to happen. It wants you assimilate it. Something good, powerful and a little bit unbelievable. This concept is not really just a concept, it's a full length movie played out internally all within just a few seconds.

Somehow, this powerful beautiful vision of what is about to unfold, like a movie script, but a good movie, one with a powerful unbelievable ending is alive. It is as if a miracle is about to unfold.

I just had one of these flashes - I could see the whole thing played out. This whole world of people are going to catch on very very soon, and a new maturity will take hold of them. Some soberly, some profoundly liberated. Knowledge is what is coming upon the world. Knowledge of, well, almost everything, and the emphasis was upon putting effort into understanding, impersonal objective truth and reality of any given situation, information, verification, new forms of communication and reasoning, it unfolds so quickly. So many people confronting the old outworn world from every possible position. Old agendas of destructive paths will be laughed at, cried over and almost impossible to believe humanity skimmed right over these old layers of the past world without really paying any attention. The steps to this unraveling of the illusionary world and investing in the real, seemed to be starting within just a few years time.

Progress and intelligent transformation in so many ways open the pathways for happiness, health and freedom. But it's the people that expanded. Something magnificent happened, and the people everywhere, expanded so big and wide, their ability to see way beyond what had been the past as the old world all their entire lives, unfolds and replaces this past with TRUTH and a new desire to engage their vision of truth into the physical world everywhere.

The most important part of this vision is that an enormous number of people all received their own concept just like a movie playing rapidly within seconds within them, from beginning to amazing end. And you know what is the best part of this scene is that each person's truth and vision was in harmony with the others. It had no jagged conflicting beliefs, but could realize ultimately what was real and needed to happen, regardless of each person's beliefs in the past..and secondly, certain types that would love to control and undermine, never ever suspected this could ever happen.

This is what I saw, as Mercury begins to turn and the Full Moon unfolds this weekend. On with the rest of Stardrops.....

Sept 19 – October 1, Mercury beginning to turn retro in Libra trine Jupiter, square Pluto. The entire Mercury Retro Article can be found HERE.

The most intense periods of this Mercury retro began about September 8 up through the past two weeks, culminating on September 25 ...this is for two reasons:

1. Mercury usually begins impacting our world two to three weeks before the first peak. The peak is exactly September 26.
2. This Mercury retro began forming a square to Pluto – it peaks for the first time September 22, second time on October 1 and the third passing on October 21.

The square is usually very harsh, creating sabotaging, blocks to free forms of expression and communications and intelligent decisions based on reality - but In personally , it might help you old ways of thinking, interfering with your potential and reaching your ultimate goals.

This Mercury tends to push us on to dramatically end something – such as quickly paying off a bill once and for all, or ending a bad habit, or changing something about yourself, realizing it's not you anymore.

This one Mercury retrograde is hard on the world, and hard on us individually, as it comes as a tough reminder what has to go and what we're actually going to have to do to end it.

If we want to see changes happen permanently, the message is loud and clear, one needs to penetrate some Plutonian wall of obstinate power, with our truth, the truth and reality, confrontations even possibly legal in order to finally move that energy of Pluto's darkness when it is in a bad aspect to another planet, pushing it back and far away from us as possible. It takes work and staying on it, a bit of ingenuity and support from others. Don't give up!

This Mercury also might highlight positive thinking, inspiration and strong guidance for you as it could be making favorable aspects in your own chart

The power of a Mercury retro vision, combined with the Full Moon in Pisces we are experiencing now is incredibly inspirational. Embrace this Mercury Messenger as the way shower of positive relationships and friendships, inspiring events and gatherings, desiring to be close, to make a new start and put an end to an old outworn living situation or worn out lifestyle and attitude. It opens the way to a perception of our future that truly could be.

If there was anything Pluto might do for us in a square (90 Degree angle between two points) it's ending something not desired, for good, ending an old way of being and thinking or what we have tolerated, once and for all.

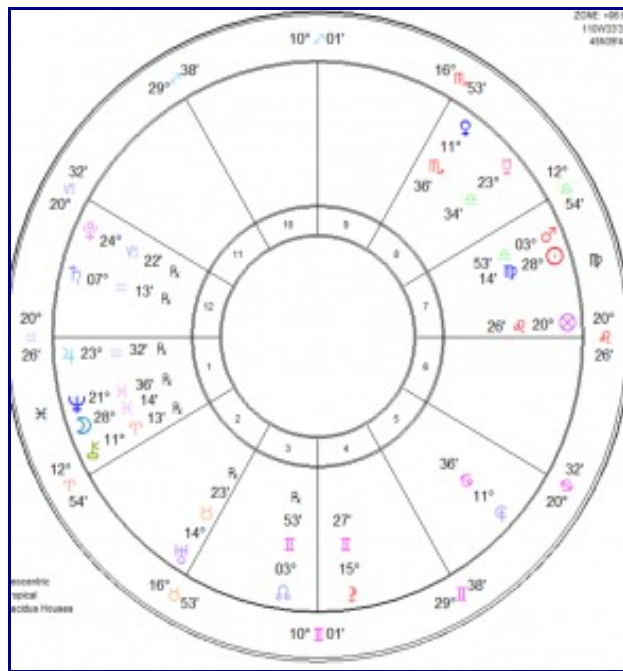

Sept 23 Venus in Scorpio at 14* oppose Uranus in Taurus The 23rd is a touchy day for either expecting others to bring to you what you need, or being possibly triggered emotionally from others attitude, expecting you to accommodate them. Socially the day might provide some electric highly charged interactions with others, having revealed issues you would have never thought of before. But for the most part, be careful not to disclose too much of your own inner feelings and past experiences as this time, as the people around you might not be able to relate. Be supportive, helpful and smart, making sure your boundaries are good. A sensitivity to being disrespected, alienated and unappreciated might be in the air.

Sept 24-27 Mars at 7* Libra trine Saturn in Aquarius A productive weekend for sure! The power of Mars in Libra which inspires one to be close to others, socialize, make plans, get away and have fun is in a trine to Saturn in Aquarius. This combination is important and meaningful events work out very well for everyone involved.

Constructive energy, planning, common sense and effort poured into some adventure, or project, or relationship is purposeful and almost we could say, guided by a higher hand?

Sept 22 Sun enters Libra - A beautiful time of relationship focus – beauty, wealth and prosperity, balance and geometry, symmetry and peace. Good taste and highest style, artistic, food, business, design. Building a bond between you and others, reaching out, meeting someone half way. Making a truce, agreeing to accept reality versus delusional denial and self preservation of one's fragile ego and self image. Take advantage of this harmonious Libra Sun cycle.

Libra brings us reality with our actions/reactions – what we put out, returns to us one way or another, so why not be honest about everything! Transparency is the theme for this Sun in Libra until October 22.

Sept 20 Full Moon in Pisces

Full Moon In Pisces September 20, 2021

The Full Moon might release strong emotional responses to bring up memories from our past. Don't be surprised if you here yourself or others saying frequently “ Remember when...”

The pull to go back in ones' mind to the highlights of ones' life and miss those people and those activities as you reflect, creates a peculiar bittersweet mood now.

The most important thing one can do during this Full Moon, is note what it was you loved, and be determined to find that in your future reality, life and even relationships in some fashion. This is part of that projecting into the future like a movie in your mind, of something you believe and KNOW will occur. Ask for it to flash upon your mind, bringing you the scenery.

This will bring hope into your world, excitement and something important to look forward to. It isn't wishful thinking or illusion, no, the past is actually the pulling back to the illusionary world of longings for some treasure from your history. You can blame it upon the Neptune conjoin Moon in Pisces making the opposition to the Sun in Virgo and Mars in the early degrees of Libra right now. The flashbacks to the past are trickery and the projecting a powerful incredible vision onto your future, and the future humanity, is the Sun/Mars.

The Moon and Neptune draws us into a strange uneasy mood of regrets, fatigue, longing for something beautiful, more meaningfully pleasurable we once enjoyed. The people, the sounds, the activities which were once so satisfying, but were they really? Remember, the Neptune this close to the Moon is a trick – It's the Sun we want to move towards now, and the Mars right by its side.

The Sun/Mars strategizes your future, brings a potential pathway into your hands in the here and now. The Neptune In an opposition, is a haze of amnesia, remembering the great parts, but forgetting everything else you went through. See how much more aware and present you are now, how much more discerning.

The Sun in this Full Moon period, trines Pluto, which energizes the future convictions to achieve something so important, with much diligence and focus there's a sense deep within, it's going to work! Why not believe one can achieve it? Even if it's so big it involves the world? There's no going back. We're all in now for making a world before us exactly as you know it should be, for you and everyone.

This full moon could surely cause one to feel divided, split and even depressed, as this is all again, the Neptune/Moon in Pisces to blame. Avoid severe escape tactics, avoidance of reality within your every day life.

Avoid all forms of addictions and breaking your own personal commitments to self improvement.

Realize there might also be people close to you who are torn, split, having a hard time with projections playing upon their minds of the worst case scenarios, with no vision of how to get through. Your role is to make that plan for yourself and those who need even more help than you now.

Envisioning empowerment of positive situations, people, events and outcomes, this is the key with this Full Moon cycle, peaking on the 20th and putting new inspirations into motion in our physical world, full of this magical energy for the next two weeks up to the New Moon in Libra on October 6, and beyond. Enjoy your new vision!
