

STARDROPS OCTOBER 11 -17

KEEP YOUR VISION CLEAR

Mars square Pluto began on Oct 5/6, the strongest Oct 6, running through Oct 12 – will return again on Dec 22-25.

Last week we talked about this challenging energy. I wrote:

“Oct 8,9,10 Mars at 22* Aries retrograde square Pluto at 22* Capricorn

Three days of potential challenges with energies that are lower, stuck and want to hold on to their position of power, not budging. Best to walk away, retreat to tasks that we are able to control and have some power over rather than argue or push too hard. Financial stress can pop up at this time. Don't worry about it, Mars wants to regain an ideal situation in one's life, yet Pluto enforces another situation. This is potentially a harsh display of an abuse of power.”

Many friends called me with really weird similar episodes of panicky feelings all last week, not able to even put their finger on what it actually was that was wrong. They all asked if there was something up they should know about because they had periodic waves of fear, doom and panic.

I sense it is Mars square Pluto, but, something possibly using that square to release an energy or release something in our world that is not good. I have no other explanation, but I do believe something out of the ordinary and not good happened somewhere. There are people that even mentioned the electricity went off and on then off, then back on, with a “Whoosh / Zip” Sort of loud noise with it. It was so loud in the middle of the night last week, they looked outside, and also saw their neighbors up, lights on also looking out their windows. Probably nothing...'

Below, is a quick screen capture of last summer's Mars retro description, and the most negative challenging Mars dates in hard aspects to other planets.

Some of you might have missed my Mars rants over the past 6 months, so I will try to find all my comments in old Stardrops and create a post with them.

Oct 10 -11- 12 Venus at 10* Virgo trine Uranus at 10* Taurus, sextile Hades at 10* Cancer.

A strange three days where we accept the truth and what is inevitable. This truth could be in us, the positive, the best and goodness we have, and that which still must change. Recalling last week's description of Venus in Virgo, the path ahead is one of self examination, purification and perfection. If that all sounds a bit too lofty, it translates into basically getting yourself together and deciding to change the constant repeating of the same thoughts for one's entire life. No wonder certain things never change in the outer world!

Globally, Venus will demand the same sort of change and acceptance of truth and transformation, so we'll see a lot of splitting hairs, micro – analyzing in regards to issues involving the need for fairness, discernment, justice, health, immune systems, accuracy of info, the truth, and any situation or individuals where there has been compromise or cooperation with the dark (Hades) now being brought to light.

Oct 11 Sun at 18* Libra square Jupiter 18* Capricorn, and inconjunct Neptune at 18* Pisces. A day to maintain one's good judgment and balance in regards to all things. Watch out for issues to be ultra exaggerated today. You don't have to jump just because someone is urging you to accept a position or take some form of action without seriously examining the facts.

Oct 12 – Oct 20 Jupiter at 18* Capricorn sextile Neptune at 18* Pisces An uplifting and positive week in general if one can ward off the disruptive wave of strangeness. Jupiter provides moral, spiritual, psychological conversations with others who relate well to you.

Relationships are made with much sharing at a higher plane, reaching out to grasp hands and bring people up to a higher vision, if they would truly listen. It represents the opening of a heaven path in some mysterious form. It would be good to reflect and commit oneself to Creative Arts, Music, love, Beauty, Faith and Hope in the highest happiness, regardless of the condition of the world.

(The trouble in the world could continue for a very long time)

...excerpt from last week's Jupiter sextile Pluto description...

“ Beginning October 3 and peaking strongly on October 12, continuing up through October 20, 2020, transiting Jupiter in Capricorn sextiles Neptune in Pisces for the 3rd time this year of 2020.

This cycle brings once again a gentle cooperative energy one wants to achieve in any form of organized activities and where a particular system, business or activity is trying get put into place. Now the probability of you achieving this happy outcome is enhanced and supported by higher energies of Neptune – an essence of ideals, intuition, dreams and creative powers can be realized. What have you been struggling with? This transit can bring the obvious solution to you. Act on this as it could very well be the next step to relieving the issue.

*These powers increase productive results with whatever you are trying to achieve.
What outcome are you attempting to realize now?*

In a higher realm, the truth is, millions of beautiful souls which have been diligently working on themselves over the years and wanting to move up and go to the next level of truth and liberation have inadvertently incited the anger of that astral realm of darkness, whether they are in human form or otherwise. These energies that have been controlling this planet for ions and can hardly believe so many millions have successfully pulled themselves into a greater intelligence, awakening and desiring a higher freedom. Their greatest fear and upset is losing control over the humans divine.

Millions understand they have a source within and above them, which is their very own nuclear reactor, capable of transforming and supercharging their lives, overriding any Capricorn perversion (Saturn, Jupiter and Pluto in Capricorn cycle 2020). Every zodiac sign has high qualities and also we can find very particular negative ones also. Capricorn negatives would be found in those who are attempting to control others. This extreme abuse of controlling the masses using any desperate means available is going to backfire. Is it possible that now is the time to merge (a sextile) your inner power with the highest desire for bringing heaven to earth in our worlds. How would that look in your world? What are your inner promptings to realize this potential of being free? What does that look like for you? Can you see how individually (YOU) by improving and striving for more and more freedom brings collectively a mass revolution because so many are unified across the world, doing this?

An enormous group of souls are moving up towards higher levels of existence, greater beauty, freedom, higher beliefs. They are evolving and changing rapidly. There are shadow groups who are physical and many live in other dimensions who have witnessed this sudden motivation to accelerate of humanity and they are trying to slow down this rapid development of millions.

It is reaching its ultimate polarizing confrontation in 2022 – 2024. This is because of an astrological aspect found in the article U.S. Astrology and the World, 2022.

This could be the pinnacle of humanity escaping their ancient control.

Those darker control forces who observe this activity are highly agitated. They desperately are trying to find methods to implement and calculate just how effective each one of these methods they are releasing onto the planet are successfully slowing down the soul evolution of humanity leaving this 3rd dimension of the purely physical realm, seeking its ultimate freedom...this explosive race towards their true destiny is increasing rapidly.

Because these dark forces can not create anything original, they live off of higher souls' divine spark and originality.

They want to own it, control it, manipulate and steal the beauty of divine intelligence within, this is why I urge affirmations for putting on one's shields in so many Stardrops and other Articles. It works. We require extra protection now as the enemy in 2020 has stepped up their agenda in the physical against this amazing epic revolution of souls.

We are becoming free. It doesn't look like it does it! But believe me, it's true. The level of higher consciousness within even just the people I speak to each day has become 100% evident

The majority of the population are moving up up up into higher realms, to the point where soon, the veil that separates the physical world from the etheric world, where magnificent divine beings inhabit, will be just around the corner.

Once people see and experience the full truth, all darker and lower level entities and beings will realize they have lost, as we have been their food, in more ways than one.

So, Jupiter in Capricorn as I see it, is the magnanimous Arch-angelic Powers under the Divine Hierarchies now in 2020 uniting with those that are moving out of this cage. These powerful beings are extending their arms through the dimensions, holding fast and breaching any sense of separation. The dates below just possibly could be the highest moments this activity is taking place.

How do you know? Look at the unification of minds all over the world, one mind choosing truth, love, higher paths, disentangling from negative drama and shadows in the world, working hard towards their freedom, researching practicing and applying higher principles to be their lives. Even if it's financial, business, family, body and health, it's accelerating. The intense longing to be free has never been so strong universally."

Jupiter sextile Neptune Higher Realm Intercession Dates:

Oct 12 - 13 Mercury at 11* Scorpio Retrograde sextile Venus at 11* Virgo; As Mercury turns Retrograde on this day, the Messenger Mercury which stands between the higher worlds and humans, is creating a bridge. This bridge might come as an invitation to receive a special concept, thought, plan or commitment.

Sun at 21* Libra oppose Mars at 21* Aries Retro A sudden aggravation over one issue could interfere momentarily with the vision you are trying to hold. Even though the issue must be handled, resist obsessing over any fabrications.

Oct 15 Sun at 22* Libra square Pluto at 22* Capricorn and trine North Node at 22* Gemini
Keep your vision strong today. All your planning and work on your outlook has been tested by Mars' unrelenting abrasive nature. Upsetting people, upsetting circumstances, upsetting and confrontational energies or issues must be diffused with your cool demeanor. No need to respond to crazy when no reasoning exists. Just walk away and say thank you.

Oct 17 - 19 Sun at 25* Libra square Saturn at 25* Capricorn A continuation of tests. At this point, handling other's rules or complaints are just counterproductive. It is very possible through this week, you are walking in two worlds: The world you sense is your right to experience in the very near future, and another world where some situation is presenting an irrational upsetting issue that has the potential of restricting you in some way. Again, this must be handled tactfully, graciously and move forward with a plan to provide one fact or concept that is truthful in order to help that individual, positive decisions for your future you have been making are not going to be messed up by this restrictive complaint.

Remember, Mercury retro is guiding us to disentangle ourselves from something a bit irrational and upsetting. It may have been this way forever, possibly changing faces, circumstances, etc...but the pattern is becoming clear.

Oct 10 - 18 All week Mars at 19* Aries retro square Jupiter at 19* Capricorn Similar to the Sun square Jupiter above, but a bit more emotionally tempting to exaggerate, embellish, or buy into someone else's dramatic explanations thereby pitching us to cave and go along with something that just might have been completely unnecessary. Would a large expense be part of this? Is it a commitment someone could be needing from you but it just seems a bit too much? Best to wait just a bit longer, and get as much facts or alternative options as you can.

Oct 17 - 19 Venus at 18* Virgo oppose Neptune at 18* Pisces ; Venus at 18-19* Virgo inconjunct Mars at 19* Aries retrograde and trine Jupiter at 18* Capricorn

Even though Venus does make a nice social happy trine to Jupiter throughout this cycle, waves of discouragement could translate into life letting us down. These sensations might come and go.

Venus the planet of what we value and treasure, is in a strange energetic conflict with some thing attempting to project a failure, a loss of some kind into your imagination. What might be at state could be your social relationship connections. It is projecting something you might consider a difficult thing to go through.

Please don't fixate on these feelings or "what if's. With this Venus, and the Mars description below, something weird is going on, and it might not all be you.

Have you been sensing a disturbing feeling of something wrong or negative trying to intrude upon your world? Push this opposition back. With this sensitive Venus position, on top of the past week's Mars Retro in Aries square Pluto from Oct 6 – 13 especially, dark forces have been encroaching upon many minds and emotions, projecting worse case scenarios bringing many people down.

Shake it off and capture the many things you can be thankful for right now, and hang onto those.

By the way, this destructive Mars square Pluto first emerged on August 9 – 15, peaking exactly August 13, 2020' Returned on August 5/6 – 13th, then one more time on Dec 19 – 26, 2020 and then will move on.

Heavy negative antics manipulating people and situations in order to bring the energy down, cause depression, hopelessness and unfair even severe challenging battles in ones' life, must be reversed by powerful affirmations all the way to the end of the year.

AFFIRMATION:

“By the powers of the Seven Archangels, and Archangel Michael, I call down Mighty Shields of invincible crystalline electronic light to cover me, my body, mind, soul and feelings now. Nothing can penetrate the armor I have upon me. My mind is joined with the Higher Mind of All That Is, and Its supreme wisdom dictates the terms. Nothing can defeat the fulfillment of my divine purpose, and I call for the full force of this protection around me 24 hours each day, Amen.”

REMEMBER: Mercury RETROGRADE on October 12/13 in Scorpio in opposition to Uranus at 9* Taurus retrograde. Link to Mercury explanation for this October/November.

Oct 5- Nov 6 Transiting Pluto at 22* Capricorn inconjunct North Node at 22* Gemini

An unusual financial economic shift and adjustment has been in process globally. Several important details are being altered, adjusted and new ways of receiving monies, communication of data, transferring of financial information and money, currencies, exchange and value of money, and something to do about speed, electronic AI rapid results with Gemini Mercurial information part of the process (I personally don't understand this, but It's economic, involves data incorporated into money some how, and causing a huge alteration and adjustment globally with financial world?)

So, there you have it – another week of particular cycles bringing opportunity to embrace or transform our lives. How can there be so many many variations of planets, stars and cycles to navigate around and through each week of our lives? Amazing.

See you next week,
Christine
