JANUARY 3 – 9 2021

artist Harold Hume Piffard

Here We Go. Theme for this cycle:

Acknowledge and embrace 2021, have A HAPPY NEW YEAR, through your innate power to make it so.

The lead planets for the entire 2021 will be Saturn now moving through Aquarius, Jupiter, in Aquarius/Pisces, and Uranus, still moving through the sign of Taurus.

With every planet in a particular zodiac sign, there's a higher expression or a lower frequency of expression. By now, you're all understanding, it's what we do with them, how we can harness them and bring the action of that planet into its highest form, that is key. It's also, doing our best to stand up to circumstances and individuals who are out picturing the lower behaviors of these cycles and learning to say NO to the more destructive release of these planets.

It's an absolute miracle as Mars moved retrograde then direct through the sign of Aries from late June 2020 up to January 13 2021, that more violence than we already witnessed did not break out.

It was however, an obvious Mars Violence cycle.

There are a variety of interpretations to this one square of Saturn and Uranus. I can see both sides, Saturn/Jupiter in Aquarius as our challenge towards progress and innovative advancing into the future of individuality and independence dealing with the Uranus interference coming through a variety of situations, groups, government or people, or, We can easily be the Uranus also, advancing in Economic Independence, individuality and revolutionary consciousness grown out of the old social engineering giving us a false sense of progress and connectivity, but instead has the capacity to corral us into the herd for a tighter social engineering. It's simple, everything requires balance.

This year, focus upon your closest friends and people as your greatest treasure now.

For right now, below are some ideas to ponder. One major theme seems to be this: A Uranian energy is hell-bent on rattling us personally, our progress towards accelerating and becoming more and more intelligent, innovative, free and informed to move through life.

Our challenge is to become the Saturn stability, focused upon Truth and Independent Wholeness however you want to interpret that, and ward off the Righteous Unstable and Massively Dysfunctional and Desperate Energy funneling into the world through one Narrative after another Narrative, either through Groups, Special Social Communities, Powerful Spokespeople who appear brilliant and advanced or just your little old neighbor down the street that seems to disrupt your happy weekends at home with the family.

Your job is to root yourself in your Alchemy of Truth and Freedom. Aquarius is a fixed sign – unmovable and is determined to make sure you are safe, free and secure wherever you are.

The Saturn in Aquarius in square to Uranus in Taurus ( and later, we'll bring in Mars temporarily in Taurus and Jupiter in Aquarius) will be the first cycle to take in.

The square technically starts in February, but we're experiencing its theme already, since Saturn did officially move into Aquarius, partly last March to July 1, 2020 and returned Dec 20-21 for two years.

Here are some ideas which might be a challenge:

For people to use technology, utilize all the brilliant advances in science, tech, business, medicine and space, internet, your professional industry that requires internet networking technologies, social media but maintain individuality, integrity, privacy, human rights, freedom, and one's creative power to advance in life is the key. Finding a balanced way to maintain one's sovereign beingness in this advancing world will be the Aquarius/Uranus challenge. Even at the DNA level, if something has been patented and modifies our own DNA, then who owns that patent and the product of it?

A square is a conflict between two or more situations, options or activities. We need to be the positive of the Saturn/Jupiter and the Uranus in Taurus, both.

Think of any global situation where there is a suggestion towards plugging into a system for our ultimate convenience, security or protection. We are adults, we've been saturated and educated in the past decade with information about narcissism, psychopathic and variety of psychological illnesses which masquerade as healthy supportive individuals yet only to discover deep in the agreement, it has become detrimentally one-sided. It's very possible this social mass education from generous professionals about personality disorder patterns was to prepare us for just this time in order to better recognize the signs of these disjointed and irrational narratives pushing an agenda(s) all in the guise of our best interest.

With Saturn in Aquarius, the sign of truth and freedom, science and serious self improvement in a conflict with Uranus in Taurus, groups, there is no way at this stage of Earth's cycles, we will tolerate this fakey agenda. All communities which have financially invested in particular outcomes for increasing wealth, control and ownership over areas, social communities and individuals will be severely challenged. And can you see this is a year of taking the higher road of Saturn and being the Adult not only as more informed than in the past to recognize dangers to our own human culture and individual happiness, but also, how to progress, move forward and establish boundaries in order to preserve truth throughout this 2021 and beyond, while progressing into our beautiful future?

On a more positive yet still challenging note- think of Saturn in Aquarius as the practice of precipitation of any thing you require to experience, to have faith it is possible and not except limitations - not only materially financially and emotional/spiritual advancement for our security but humanity as a whole. We will want to be deciding universally upon how we intuitively KNOW THIS BEAUTIFUL WORLD SHOULD PROGRESS AND THEN CLAIM IT TO BE THAT WAY.

This requires Trust that there actually are Millions who think pretty much just like you do, want the same things you want, and feel the same way you feel. Unified, the majority can transform the highest and strongest Narrative for our Earth.

This is Saturn in Aquarius. And it's also Uranus in Taurus! ( Especially when it begins to sextile Jupiter in Pisces June through July, 2021.)

We can be that stability of Saturn, moving forward with our Truth, the alignment to our life -purpose that you already have deep inside of you, no matter how challenging your outer life can be.

Do you understand, this is your time to transcend apathy and feeling stuck. setbacks, rigid oppression and all forms of internal personal self limitation. This cycle of Saturn alone, will last two years.

We went through this before, 1991 – 1993 All of you who were born during this period, already know what this feels like – to master the Air Element, soar through the clouds and focus upon a dream, have hope and pull your team, your friends together, your special people and walk through life bringing that dream into the physical world. It rules the Air and pouring transformative improvements upon all situations, people, circumstances you find yourself in.

Advancing yourself will be crucial throughout this period. If something is bothering you and you want to fix it, figure it out, get to the bottom of it, then research – start now.

In 2021, other situations, whether global or personal, could be barging into our world out of nowhere, throwing us more challenges, requiring us to hold fast to our path and beliefs. It's all about your truth and your independence now.

Being Different. Be the one that is going to make it because you can adjust, transform, learn quickly and think fast on your feet. Your mind is swift and if you don't know how to do something or what the right path to take would be and you feel stuck, simply be a stubborn one pointed Uranus in Taurus bull and keep asking the Universe, “Bring me the solution, I need to know how to move forward” ...and sooner or later, it will land right in your lap. Others will tell you it's never going to work, or are you sure you know what you're doing – or, that's risky or impossible.

This Saturn cycle, guided by an other worldly spirit, a beautiful intelligent progressive and I should say Electrical Knowing, that is just waiting for your heart to pull the Presence close to your heart and listen. The square part of this cycle, is the unrest, disruption, restlessness to want a higher Truth, but also it is the unexpected changes and conflicts of erratic behaviors displayed in the world globally. The square will continue to expose erratic discombobulated thinking coming out of people in positions of responsibility, creating a feeling of instability in our world – they were suppose to be our anchor, but they appear more scrambled than the masses! Saturn is the stabilizer, but riding on the air of the Spirit/Mind- believing in a Higher Path of change, knowing your future destiny and the faith you will get there.

The other part of the Saturn is being true to your destiny, the reality of your life lessons and yes, even some limitations because the karma has not yet solved itself, or, the people you want to see succeed that you are waiting for, have not yet evolved out of their old karmic situations. So the second part of this cycle would be not wishing with all your heart, for something that will only cause you suffering.

If you wished more than anything for something you felt would bring you so much happiness, and now you are living in it, wondering what went wrong, commune with the Light above and within, and in absolute sweetness of Truth, ponder the possibility you could resolve this wish that once seemed so right, and learn how it was given to you to understand how it might have steered you onto a path that was not necessarily required to walk. Ask for another opportunity to adjust this path back onto your original road. Aquarius is the sign of wishes. It's coming clean with what we thought we wanted.

Saturn in Aquarius brings Truth. Truth will saturate the world of people for the next two years, and in the dates below, it could be hard to swallow.

The Strongest Dates for the Saturn/Uranus square:

( This cycle has already begun)

February 1 -20, peaking Feb 17, 2021

June 1 -20, peaking on Feb 14, 2021

Dec 15- 30, peaking Dec 24, 2021

Mars quickly joins these planets creating triggering heated up words, behaviors, posturing and outcomes.

Mars enters Taurus on January 6

Mars in Taurus brings a very intense new theme of concentrated desire for digging ones' heels in and not budging . It can be evident in our own lives and outside in the world events. Money and territory are key themes. In the past Mars was about Control and Aggression. Now it's over territory, what's mine. ( and money)

Mars moves through the Taurus Sign between now and March 2, 2021, business building, expansion, financial focus and concentration, securing relationships and launching very physical material successful ventures are positive.

As Mars begins to square Saturn on January 5- 15, and square Jupiter on January 20-25, we could witness increased belligerent behavior and a denseness with others' determination of what they want and on what terms. If you are not affected by this cycle, be very careful where you venture out in public - a belligerence is in the air.

Focus instead upon your own environment, money, budgeting, business, body, health and diet, food and physical improvement. Become disciplined, organized and productive. It is a material sign, so get all your material world in order. Stabilize everything.

Concentrate upon Taurus worth, value, self esteem. Embrace down to earth values and what you do have. Write a gratitude list, five new items you are grateful for, up to March 2, every single day, not one the same.

I did this once and I could definitely sense its benefit.

This will elevate your human existence in this 3rd dimension up to a higher state of richness and fullness. It will counteract the greed of Mars in Taurus. Insatiating lower nature, it's never enough, and there's always something blocking me, attitude. Let's get rid of this during this square between now and January 25, 2021 especially.

It is the strongest on: January 13 and January 23, 2021.

January 4 - Mercury conjoins Pluto in Capricorn at 24 degrees. New information could surface to ponder which is crucial now for having the full picture. This information might have already been filtering down into your mind for the past day or two, helping you connect the dots, explaining many anomalies that have been in your life. Action is required under a conjunction, in order to start a process of rectifying some of these challenges.

Seriously intense mental digging, communications, exchange of information and depth of research, data and decision time is in the air. Flow through this day easily as it will most likely be a universal pressure out there to claim power through information.

January 8, 2021 Sun sextiles Neptune – a day of full access to your imagination, love, intuition and creative power.

However, Mercury begins to square Mars on the 7th-8th-9th creating pressure for issues to get resolved quickly, simply because we might be experiencing fatigue, exhaustion and impatience for things to get put in order, as it has been piling up for too long now. Impatience, urgency and quick harsh words, pushing people to hurry or finish things, handle things or be upset in one's mind, things haven't gone the way you needed them to go.

Jupiter is also in the sign of Aquarius amplifying the more lofty idyllic wisdom of Aquarius friendships and future goals. This cycle began around Dec 19 and continues up through December 28, 2021. So for all you air signs, Jupiter is enhancing nicely your friendships, social connections and supporting you with realizing dreams.

Jupiter is sextiling Chiron from now to January 12th, opening up original spiritual insights and promptings to heal things you suffered with, from the past. It wants to help you get right with your life again. Making peace with hard lessons is the theme for this cycle. Reflecting on how far you've come.

The 10th - 17th of January, leading up to January 21 and beyond Jupiter in Aquarius squares Mars in Taurus. Be Careful.

The Jupiter expands and magnifies people's convictions of what they believe is right and true, yet there are hypocrisies, conflicts and exaggerations. Fights can erupt now.

It will begin to square Uranus, as we talked about above. Just keep oneself away from crowds if possible, as Uranus rules communities, large groups of people and riots, mass of crowds irrationally moving in a direction of chaotic random rebelliousness – potentially. This Jupiter square is lining up with Mars in Taurus, The Black Moon in Taurus, Uranus in Taurus, and on January 21, Moon in Taurus, all square Sun and Saturn in Aquarius – 2nd Chart Below All January, especially now through the 21st.

It simply emits a strong possibility of people going berzerk. Stay out of the way.

January 3, 2021

Divine Invincible power of eternal Freedom, Peace and Order, I call for this light to penetrate into all humanity, instill a higher intelligence and beauty, truth and diplomacy, support and love everywhere. I call for myself, my loved ones, friends and family, and the world of divine humanity to all be sealed and protected in the light of God and Light, Universal Transcendence now and forever, Amen.
