

STARDROPS September 26 – OCT 2, 2021

September 24-26 Mars trine Saturn These days are quite constructive, energetic and brings us a more upbeat energy. The inspiration to experience, harmony, beauty, design...the opportunity for justice, fairness and reality. This is because Mars is in the sign of Libra, powerfully connected to Saturn.

Saturn in a good aspect to Mars always delivers not only inspiration and engaging in activities of a productive, functional and well organized fruitful thing, but the combination of these two planets in a trine denotes anything you engage in at this time that is meaningful, will last for many years into the future, and reap good karma. So, if it's something you are just doing in your own business, work projects or around the house, some meaningful conversation or exchange of ideas, or if it is more public and has a larger impact, it is the absolute best time to engage in anything during this time because of the capacity for it to take, endure for years to come and bring good things.

Sept 25/26 Mercury in Libra at 25* retrograde – Links Here In general, we're in a hard and somewhat dangerous Mercury retrograde. Rather than review this again, the links to the description of this cycle which goes well into October, 2021, are above. If we get through the next few weeks with no surprises, globally, locally, (which if you're watching the news, this cycle is already escalating) then I'll eat my hat. I don't know where that phrase came from, it just popped into my head to say it...well, you know what I mean.

Take care of your stuff, your car, make the changes in your life you want to see happen, use this period to reflect, review and set yourself up with some important challenges – a 30 day challenge to workout, stay on your budget, eat only healthy meals, etc...I'm going to do it. I want infuse this astrological cycle with positive transformative success, and use it for an incredible empowerment of shattering the old paradigms, the old agendas, and outworn programming, how about you?

Sept 28-29 Venus in Scorpio trine Neptune and Sun trine Saturn Deep feelings, introspective heart, reviewing life, being grateful for so much vision, insight and having any connection at all to a higher source, to God, to the Divine.

This Venus brings a love, inspiration and sweetness deep within the heart, transports us through the thin veils which usually do separate us from this world from the refined etheric place. You can feel it throughout the day, something effervescent and happy is trying to press itself into your finer bodies.

Bring this experience into the rest of your week and remember it, wake up every single day, excited to be alive at this incredible time, and trust, a higher plan is in play, looking out for you and all you love. Much higher and more powerful, than your run of the mill galactic presences, no offense meant....but truly, the world has friends in high places that are Heavens' world, not just outer space.

Sept 30 Venus in Scorpio square Jupiter in Aquarius Patience and practical decisions is needed with this day. Overly sentimental, emotionally jaded, frustrated, in conflict with someone? Let this day pass and try not to indulge in prejudice or irritation against someone who has tested your patience.

Oct 1 Mercury retrograde square Pluto This cycle began Sept 22 peaks again Oct 1, and again on November 2.

You could say we are in an incredibly significant and potentially vulnerable time of this Mercury retro square Pluto from September 22 – November 2, 2021.

Again, check the Mercury retro links, for the entire picture. Anything related to information, data, important documents, transportation, cargo, travel, communications, networking, internet, phone, decisions, make your Mercury list and include it here! Because it's square to Pluto, it causes drama, epic revelations, oppression, shocking actions, stunning comments, exposures, terrible news, unexpected news, problems with health, health industry, new virus, new statements, new data, shutdowns, blockages, lockups, threats, blackmail, murder, "suicides", that's the Pluto part. Just hang tight and focus on your path, be productive, keep your car in good shape, and don't lose your purse, wallet or your phone. Once again, Mercury retro article link

Coming up –October 10 - Saturn turns retrograde – increases productive solutions with so many things that have been slow, stagnant, on hold. Excellent time to engage in projects. Now they are able to move forward, increases financial and project successes beginning at this time.
