It's getting down to choosing between Transhumanism energetics vs the Purity of the Human Soulful existence

StarStreaks December 31, 2022

With the New Year upon us, a powerful theme is unfolding. Carve out your New Years' commitment to be true to yourself, with grace, diplomacy and love. To thine own self be true, no matter what, and let the chips fall where they may.

Let's unload this 2022 package of glorious potential.

By keeping 2022's goals simple and breaking it down to maybe, three ideas we can commit to this New Year, we're sure to experience success.

First - Tune in to your Destiny and Path. What is your Destiny? Describe your inner motivations, what gets you up in the morning...discover the most core theme of your life? Write this stuff down. The New Year Blueprint is to hold fast your True Self. Much of the process of realizing this True Self is done by your every day tasks or actions which is anchoring that real self's agenda, goal, purpose. This natural living works and deflects the massive waves of distortions which are continuing to hit us each day. We need to hold fast to our Real Self's convictions in order to repel the manipulations and pressure coming towards us from a step up of compromising demands put upon us from the world of insane and abusive powers.

It's a year of holding on to true Identity and how you move through 2022's increase of complexity. Inner Fire within the heart holds intuition, love, common sense and logic. Listen to that, do research, connect the dots and stay true to yourself.

It's time to define why you are here and what you're all about as the crystallization process is occurring right now.

This above all, to thine own self be true. And it must follow, as the night the day, though canst not then be false to any man. Farewell, my blessing season this in thee. Shakespeare

Secondly - List the top three actions you must take right away in order to materialize your new self, your real life and real purpose. List what those actions must be and be true to your heart. Make it a consistent pattern throughout 2022 and it will transform your life in some form - bringing you more freedom, empowerment, happiness and inner satisfaction - what are those three things?

Thirdly - Stay connected to your friends. Even if you are afraid of any numerous situations happening to you, I understand, can you try to find a way, to open up to other humans more this year, with love and tolerance? Anti-human forces attempt to separate people from people, love and bonding. This will make us CRAZY...and weaken the strength of our immune system and our psyche. We need to consciously reverse any thing that attempts to turn us into a fearful compliant race devoid of love and connection to our Higher Divinity, which fears literally nothing.

We need physical interactions so our hearts and souls can feel the flow of love and closeness, as much as possible. Let's make 2022 a year of loving and closeness, building back tolerance, love and relationships. Let's start a trend! This is true nurturing. Reject sterile artificial Interactions, intolerance towards others based upon false fears, as much as possible. Note how much we're getting into the habit of isolating and becoming apathetic to social connections. Force yourself (yes, give yourself pep talks to socialize more) to engage in the world and do things which defy the psychic projection upon the population to remain separate and restricted, for whatever reason. You surely have seen this building for the past 15 years or so.

January 1 2022 Astrology, Setting the Blueprint for the year

Over the next few days, a golden opportunity to crystalize a wonderful commitment to yourself will occur

Why are these three things so important right now? As of December 30th, Mercury, the planet of decisions conjoins Pluto in Capricorn just before it moves into Aquarius on January 2. So from December 30 to January 2, use these few days to make a promise to yourself you'll be more your real YOU in 2022 and claim your right to be a Pure Human versus an altered species. Make a conviction to create what is YOU all around your environment and your life. This includes, friendships, events, outings, your surroundings, your music you listen to, your work, mannerisms, health, body, finance, everything. It really emphasizes jobs, career, ambitious professional goals and financial stability. The plan.

The empowered configuration of Mercury conjoin Pluto in Capricorn, is fertile for making a promise to yourself to become incredibly determined and clear about how you think you should be living. This is an urgent exercise in order to lock in your identity, your real true genuine organic identity ... .lock it in before an increase of infiltration into the fabric of humanities' essence occurs.

These negative energies are technologies and psychic pressures projected in so many ways upon the people. As you know we are in a war between light and dark, and the technology is becoming even more invasive and manipulative. Stay away from new social media AI platforms projecting all of us and our children into a sub-reality world of simulations and metaverse. Get outside, feel the water, the beach, the mountains and the forests. Read a book a month. Make a phone call to someone you haven't spoken to enough.

Recalling a few Stardrops back, we talked about memory - remembering who you were before times got hard, before the world intensified its complex challenges, even before the 2020 period. Remembering how you felt in your more innocent moments of your life.

Now is the time to re-capture that Essence which is YOU and never let it go. As Mercury moves out of Capricorn and conjoin to Pluto, during this history review of your own power, is that action which remembers our power and that date, January 2, is the date it is anchored. It locks onto the North Node in Gemini, which means it will spread throughout the world. It will be discussed openly, talked about on your favorite YouTube channel.

The walk we are going to take is the determination and tenacity with which we claim our individuality and do something for ourselves to anchor that Highest Self into this world, each week, week after week of the entire year.

2022 Blueprint Mercury from 28* Capricorn to 2* Aquarius trine Node at 1* Gemini

We'll be using the January 1 2022 Midnight chart below, to capture the theme for this year.

This 2022 Mercury in Aquarius trine North Node in Gemini, is an intellectual and spiritual motivation towards transcending a part of our existence which has turned into partly mediocre and oppressive. Mercury assists the world with objective ideas and innovation to improve and enhance methods and programs, projects, information and "how to" manuals spread across the public to reach liberating agendas. Aquarius will also expose the truth, everywhere, assisting the population to embrace even more of a higher way.

Mars/Moon in Sagittarius squares Neptune in Pisces

The Mars/Moon square Neptune warns us there is still multi-layered activities going on attempting to steal our treasures. Everything is going to try to distract you, trick you. Don't dismiss your convictions this year.

A continuation of distractions, crazy theories, trends...tricks and fakes, distortion of information, bending Sagittarius opinions until it becomes a propaganda tool. Neptune releases a string of distortions emerging over several key themes in the news. Because we put the erection of the New Years' Chart at midnight January 1, the Neptunian deceptions are sitting within the 6th house (wheel below).

JANUARY 1, 2022 MIDNIGHT-BLUEPRINT FOR 2022

Neptune squaring the Mars/Moon in Sag in the 3rd house, would address the scrambling and interference with any bright light of expansive vision. Neptune tells us, nefarious activities have been purposely hidden. The square is symbolic for the presence of massive dystopia and confusion. The activities that instill fear in the boundless nature resistance to oppression activities of the Mars/Moon in Sagittarius. It's all appearing in the 3rd house of mind, communication, reports, information, news, presentations, lectures, videos, writings, speeches, documents and bold open out there reporting. Neptune would cloud it, try to denounce it, change it, wipe it away or erase the history. Just because a square is present in a chart means a big reveal is about to take place:

1. The square defines the problem and outpicturing in our world. It presents a challenge to overcome with the two points/planets (stated above).
2. It brings opportunity for the viewer or participant of this challenge to wake up, notice and identify the problem.
3. It provides the opportunity to get square with this aberration of energy, challenge it, dismantle it, replacing it with order and functionality again. In this case it would be transparency, facts, truth in reporting, relaying facts and statistics universally, and eliminating censoring the truth.

With Neptune square Mars/Moon in Sag in the 3rd house. The 3rd house is all about News. The news hiding things, yet because it is right there in the chart, the 3rd house of journalism, this problem has to come out in some form. The square firstly, reveals there is a distortion of third house facts and suppression of personal expression which needs to be addressed, that has been going on for a long long time, via barriers of deception, cover-ups and pressured individuals. The 3rd house is all about communication, . News stations, media outlets, documents, emails, messages, photos, images, recordings and videos and secret contracts. The 3rd house is about contracts and messages given and received, like orders.

This square will force out and reveal things which have been deceiving the people. It rules facts versus speculations. It will intensify the discussions of factual information upon the most disturbing subjects, people care about this year. The square reveals the problem which needs to be addressed, and the opportunity for those who desire to take it on, to open up this secret chamber of oppression, even mind control, which is basically what Neptune square Mars/Moon is, whether the perpetrators are conscious of it or not. When you are born with this aspect in your chart, the challenge is to be constantly aware of the possibilities of everything and everyone around you lying and presenting a false life to you, whether directly to you or simply what you live in day by day. This square is a blueprint for a year, 2022, and is like living in an illusion and our task is to dissolve it, replacing it with the stark reality of facts and morality again.

The goal is to tear the veils away and attempt to get at the source of suffering and how we have been misled.

Through this exposure of Neptune square, failures to manipulate money, sabotaging financial activities will be confronted. A step up of other forms of exchange of money for goods will rapidly come out as alternatives to the old system. For every undermining head-fake projected upon the population, Uranus in Taurus trine Sun in Capricorn all 2022, will find an alternative solution for the people in order to maintain our quality of life and freedom.

The Moon/Mars square exposes an ongoing deception and manipulation which goes against the good will of the people, and simultaneously intensify many attempts to introduce more deceptions which will be discovered, vetted out and challenged starting end of December up to January 12. This is the start of a new trend of confidence in facts. Neptune square Mars in itself, shows us there is and has been an incredible dysfunction ongoing. This one square in our 2022 chart is layered onto an already packed year.

If we can keep our heads on straight and maintain clarity, mindfulness, pay attention to where we are going and who we are, we are going to be GREAT. Making a bigger effort to take on the activities which matter to us, rather than give up, this is how we are going to have an incredible 2022

The Sun opposes Hades

The Sun in Capricorn opposes the Uranian planet Hades in Cancer. End of December moving into January, right now, mirrors the original pandemic poison cycle when a group of planets in Capricorn back in December 2019, crept into our world from December 17 2019 up through February 2020. and opposed Hades and North Node.

[Hades and transit of the North Node in Cancer opposed Jupiter/Saturn/Pluto/South Node all conjoined in Capricorn ( and squared Chiron in Aries)]

Together, we were all positioned symbolically, on the South Node's empowerment In Capricorn on the right, back in 2019 facing something insidious creeping in on the left.

The South Node is where we found ourselves on the right side, firm in our momentum of functioning systems we could build upon for our future goals....this was December 2019, and where we all were in our lifestyles, our consciousness at that time.

We were so ready to launch greater things for our future....in the sign of Capricorn, which inspires goals, putting blueprints in place and strategizing our steps to reach these goals.

These powers of the Capricorn at that time, funneled into our jobs, career, finances, status, public work and our roles as leaders and parenting.

Yet this Hades moved into position on the opposite side, ever so subtly in an opposition to the Capricorn empowerment, bringing with it a game changer situation, a multi-leveled undermining in the sign of Cancer, the sign of security and certainty in life.

It began sabotaging our security, certainty, economy, families, emotional stability...but I always felt the strength of that Capricorn grouping of planets, on the right side, especially because of the Jupiter's position in Capricorn, would override any negative situation we had to face, eventually. It's almost as if we had all the good cards in hand from the beginning, even though Hades was going to try to wipe out our world, and appeared to get away with some of it. Think of Hades as Hell, and the Nodes represent the population. (Among other things).

The Sun is once again in the sign of Capricorn opposing Hades in Cancer, again.

Look at the situation astrologically, as not just a day or a week's theme, but the potential Blueprint of 2022.

The theme:

New systems are emerging to challenge the corrupt as the Sun in Capricorn oppose the Hades. Nefarious forces and the negative systems which perpetuate insidious poison are symbolized in Hades. Because the Sun in the 2022 chart is trine Uranus, these new positive systems can take over the old agenda. In fact, it won't even bother challenging and eliminating the old corruption, but leave that to other planets' job, building a new breakaway lightbearers' society, parallel to the dysfunctional one until the old outworn insanity, diminishes over time. Two parallel realities existing on the same planet simultaneously. These are the frequency separations I've been describing in our past Stardrops. The new system must become more powerfully functioning and morally liberating and efficient to cause the old system to become obsolete.

People are becoming more independent and resourceful as they refuse to give themselves up to insane oppression, utilizing their own genius, innovation and common sense.

We're still going to be dealing with the insidious scenarios which traumatize the public but more and more people are finding a power they've always had, and refuse to compromise in their quality of life.

Hades would be the trauma, in Cancer, towards the people. (Cancer can also represent the public, along with the Nodes). Uranus trine the Sun in Capricorn, is the breakaway. Think Breakaway in Taurus/Capricorn - these are earth signs, industrious, financial, Uranus/tech and ingenuity, freedom - Capricorn-systems, order, new structures.

It's getting down to choosing between Transhumanism/destructive AI and Alien energetics vs Purity of the Human/Soulful/Organic integrity.

Image Credit

The opposition with the Sun in Capricorn, is the strength of the people, and their experience (very Capricorn) within any given industry of progress, status, stability and structure pushing back, and outsmarting the Hades, all 2022.

This will permeate all industries, all systems, businesses and blueprints for any basic functioning activity necessary for life.

We need to be this Sun theme opposing the Hades' dystopia created, which attempts to ruin every productive thing in the world and we need to cement that order and functionality into our every day way of life. This is embracing our true Chalice for a Blueprint from a higher plane, which is suppose to descend into this dimension.

We travel up and down this ladder of the hierarchy of light as we all intuitively climb to our own greatness, individually and as a community, visit each other freely on the other side while we sleep at night, then return, and compare our notes, many times not knowing we planned and strategized while in our sleep, what the next game plan should be.

We need to be the positive vision and the positive ethics of Moon Mars in Sag, squaring off the Neptune in Pisces' deceptions and false narratives. We need to keep our Sagittarius standard very high for ourselves and for each other, be the coach, the teacher, expand the mind's narrowness of one's capabilities. All year, let's tear down the fake, the distorted and manipulated facts, the limitations and expose the sources of these deceptions in order to bring truth into our world.

The Saturn in Aquarius

Let's embrace Saturn in Aquarius all year, which is a path of progress and alchemy. It is also the way towards that Capricorn Strength and Order, by taking the higher road, the path of integrity, invention and humanitarian helpfulness, as Saturn is the ruler over Capricorn. It strengthens the Capricorn with futuristic Aquarian technology in finance, banking, medical and business. It increases effectiveness of a new sort of education, music, arts and media. Saturn increases success in individuals discovering their magic again and empowering them to not be afraid to seek freedom of expression and individuality. This year, Aquarian thinking individuals who have the mastery within themselves for transforming stagnant situations into a higher progress, will explode and multiply.

Visualize a large number of individuals embracing progress, thinking big and much more positive courage and strategies put into place in 2022. Think 2022 innovation, the new way, the new path, advanced humanitarian industry, financial movements, banking, educational systems and efficiency, freedom and Aquarian values, as Uranus also trines the Capricorn Sun exact, and remember, Uranus rules Aquarius. Imagine this innovation for our new way of life, is taking place in 2022 powerfully, simultaneously as the oppressive restrictions continue to try to escalate, but continue to fail. Hence, a split will begin to become hard to ignore.

This split is seen in the Hades oppose Sun and the transit of Neptune oppose the U.S. Neptune's chart. An opposition is a split. And with the Sun trine Uranus's positive breakthroughs and the Neptune square the Moon/Mars continual false flags exposed and challenged, along with more attempts to perpetuate deceptions and perpetuate fear, yet so many individuals online catch the mistakes as more crisis actors are discovered employed by agencies online being hired to pretend they are real life victims, nothing can get by the population any more for very long. Why should there be crisis actors if the truth is there is real suffering? I don't know, I don't understand it - because I know there are those suffering...what's with the crisis actors pretending to be victims?

Remember the Three Major Inspirations you want to bring into the physical in 2022. Remember who you really are and what your true motive in life is, and remember to reach out and visit people in person as much as possible in 2022. By concentrating upon your empowerment, we all move up.

The Black Moon trine Jupiter in Pisces

Consider the Black Moon in Cancer trine Jupiter in Pisces exact. This aspect alone promises empowerment among millions within the population who preserve love, nurturing and staying in touch with a higher creative energy, increases intuition and the launching of new media, the arts, music, healing modalities, science and innovative biology, presenting a higher form of thriving.

Jupiter in Pisces December 28, 2021 to May 10, 2022 Returning October 28 to December 20, 2022

The beauty of sacrificial Jupiter in Pisces, is active for the 1st half of the year. This beautiful energy intensifies compassion, helpfulness and brings new forms of medical solutions, theories and remedies for the public.

The Black Moon in Cancer, presents the opportunity to provide security and certainty in areas of our homes, where we live, how we live, do we need to relocate, build a mini-farm, do we need to garden, purchase more real estate. Do we need to reach out and provide security for others and simplify our personal priorities and our views of how we approach people, deal with people.

The Black Moon is a power of destiny, a purpose for humanity as a whole, and the theme resonates with public comfort, protection, shielding and increasing the vibrations and frequencies within ourselves and our homes, families and neighborhoods, our schools, our childcare and surrounding our loved ones with great rings of invincibility and love.

Uranus in Taurus trine Sun in Capricorn

Space technology and innovation in every industry is happening in 2022, without giving up our individuality and ability to claim ownership over our lives and possessions. Financial opportunities are changing the way we exchange money, will rapidly flood the market. Discovering the technological means to track metals attached to your account is one of them, without us being tracked.

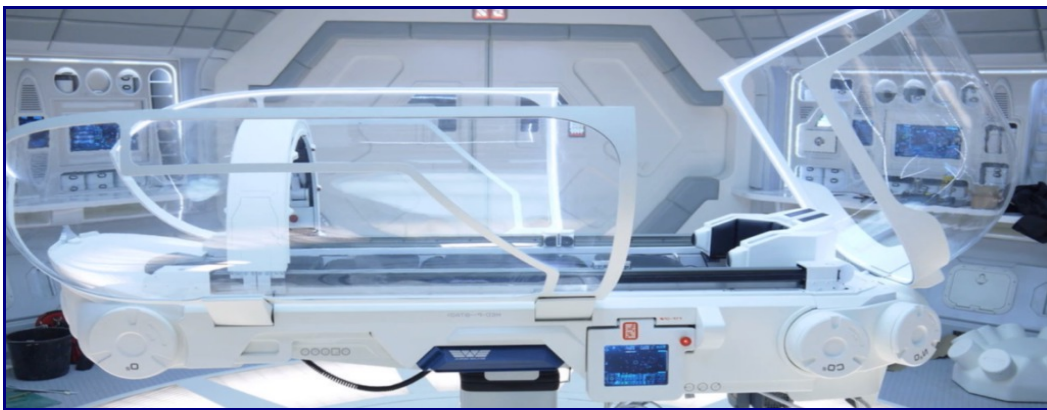

Transportation independent from old systems will emerge including flying cars and journeys to planets. Space planes reaching destinations more quickly and efficiently than jets we have now.

Technology for medical revolutionary treatments. Innovative food production and transformational health and restoration can penetrate old theories and systems which used backwards theories to solve problems at a huge price upon humanity's innovation and creative process.

A new awareness of Uranian energy physics, empowered humans energetically busting through old oppressive imitations and discovering limitless light which can alter outcomes for the better of ones life and humanity. Think of the old stuck ways being replaced with efficiency and elegance.

The understanding among a large section of the population, that by one's higher radiant energy and infinite power of the soul, one can open doors to precipitate not only what they need in life, but protective shields and forces carving out new advancement for the world if one will simply use them. It takes patience and practice, but bit by bit we will achieve. Independence from the power forces who dictate when and how we can have these things while demanding we give up our precious values in exchange. This is the new path beginning in 2022. Can you see what we have ahead of us? Not only the vision and the work, but the Neptunian forces which will attempt to coerce people into thinking it's impossible without them. New leaders in innovation will take stands and many will follow to create this new Aquarian civilization. Everywhere there is oppression and intimidation, degrading ways of living, the people must believe, there is another way - and work towards that path. It will most likely be very messy in that in-between stage we are entering now, but remember, simultaneously, is the new reality launched even now.

The Nodes in Gemini/Sagittarius square Jupiter in Pisces

Looking for a savior, projecting ones ideals for the solutions to world problems, into conflicts with the science, biological and pharma declarations and more, will most likely continue throughout 2022.

Large percentages of the people (the nodes) continuing to believe in things which are not hitting the issues. Jupiter squares reveal poor judgment. In Pisces, Jupiter squares create a theme for serious idealistic projecting upon this and that theory, etc..and what needs to occur is to be very awake and alert towards that tendency to believe and put trust in any one thing as the solution. The greatest power this year will be groups of motivated individuals, building a new civilization, industry by industry, taking it one step at a time, small steps at first and watching it take off like lightening. The most important key would be to not allow these social satellites to become infiltrated nor corrupted and sell out.

Chiron in Aries

And last, Chiron in Aries, at the tip of the t-square between Sun, Venus, Pluto and Mercury in Capricorn oppose Hades and Black Moon in Cancer, emphasizes the process of healing wounds inflicted upon the people by ripping away their own individual control over their lives. Through addressing the violations put upon the population, and supporting the public with honest transparency of facts and history of the past decades where trillions of dollars have been stolen from them, and diminishing the potential of their own greatness, the healing comes from addressing these originators of the problems, and stop trusting them in positions of leadership and finance. The healing of these violations begins in 2022. Chiron is the wounded healer, but first must have the knowledge as to how it became wounded.

What wound we are targeting in 2022, is the wound of the warrior. Aries initiates action for ideal causes and confronts issues which are destructive. If Chiron is in Aries, we must pull down light and grace to empower the warrior within a certain segment of the people to reignite that spirit that can initiate constructive change without fear or hesitation.

In addition to this empowerment of the warriors in the earth, the focus of a t-square, Chiron, in this Blueprint of 2022, will be changing our own helplessness to empowerment and action. Healing from years of having stripped from us our the dignity and control over our own progress, moral and cultural advancement. Healing from being lied to and set up against each other, is going to change now. The Healing from all the Secrets. Let's get into 2022, and really see the world change. Knowledge and verification, facts and documents proving these secret orders, plans, insane agendas and atrocities, subtle or overt, have occurred and have been strategized. People need to see the documents with their own eyes and allow themselves to accept the facts that there have always been dark individuals in power behind the scenes pulling the strings.

Warriors, listen...in these times you have been shown in the inner planes, even though the odds seem great, you will win. Take Heart and move into 2022 with a plan and with confidence.
