

Stardrops

March 27 - April 10th, 2022

Mercury enters Aries

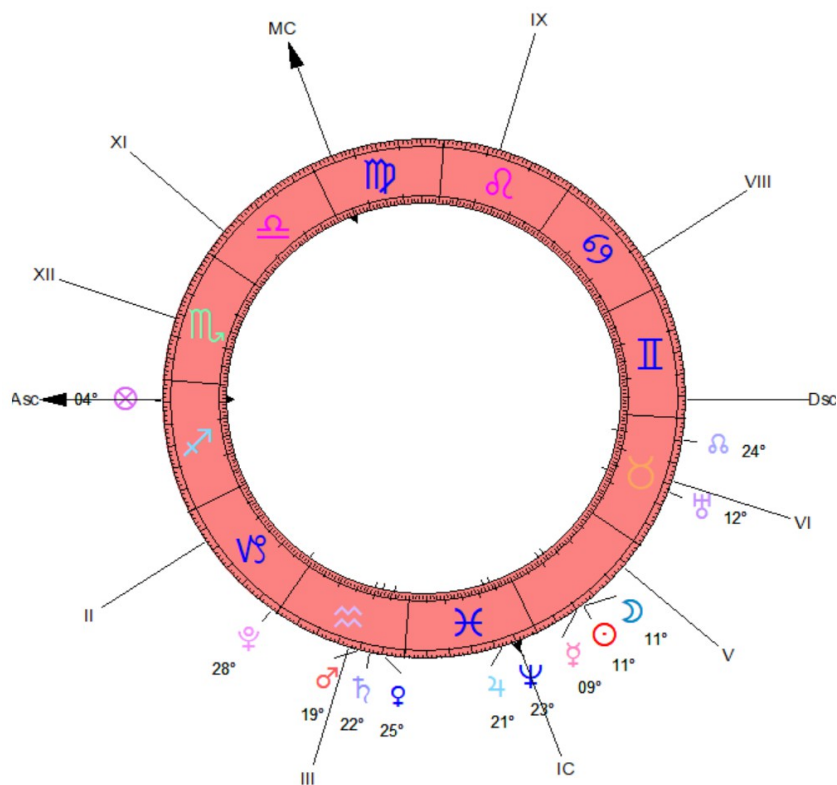

Mercury is mind -communicating, networking, choices, decisions. In the Sign of Aries, we process quickly what course or choice we should take then act.

Our minds are clear and decisive. You know what is before you, making the decisions to start fresh and begin again, try again, jump in and just doing it, is what you're motivated to do. Nothing is stopping you! Just decide, "I will do this now" -and stick with it. It is a very positive time to begin new challenges, get things done which have been nagging you for a while.

Mars rules Aries, and so as long as Mars is in the sign of Aquarius, until April 15th, the motivation behind the decisive action is for becoming more free, independent, have greater movement and liberation, greater awareness of your options in life. We're all a bit sensitive and jumpy about having to endure any future restrictive and oppressive situations which might occur, and those could show up in some of these following cycles, along with this Mercury in the decisive and impulsive Aries..

Mars conjoin Saturn in Aquarius April 1 - 8 peaking April 4.5.6 Situations in the world, or your own personal outlook might surround you with a compressed feeling. Restrictions over money, currency, price of fuel, the markets, metals - this is one of those dates, reality is setting in. Nice to get things pulled together before the peak on April 5.

April 1, 2022 New Moon in Aries

This new moon in Aries, can stimulate a different sort of battle..a more defiant posturing, war, black and white perspectives with an arrogance and unswerving attitude. Is it happening in your own personal life or simply the world?

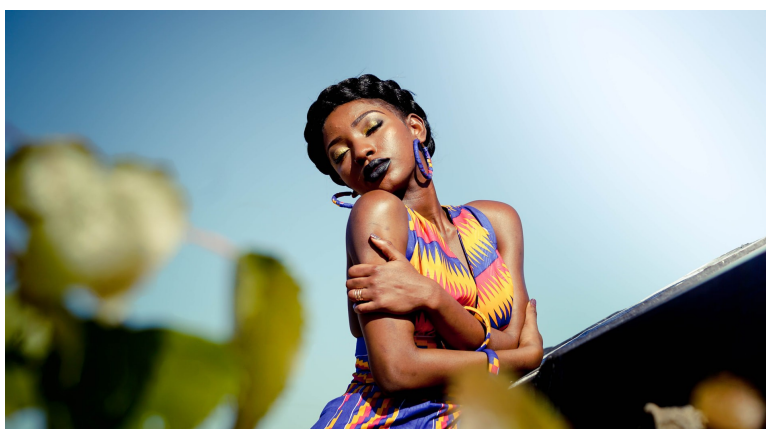

It can push leaders, companies, political narratives or even you and me, into a more serious energized intellectually journey of unyielding perfection, an assertive collaboration with partners, teams, community and organizing every single last detail perfectly for a new vision desired to be brought to life. This theme is strong as Mars, ruling the Aries New Moon, is moving through Aquarius. This sign of divine intelligence inspired by the motivation for serious improving on any existing situation with almost a genius mind, points out every detail which requires fixing. It brings the unconventional, the shocking, the stripping of all backwards hiding of things, and reveals an intelligent organized observation of such details of information in order to progress towards solutions and a better world.

Change is in the air, once again, with the energy of this New Moon peaking on April 1, for the next few weeks. Watch for any indication of your own motivation to incorporate a more perfected something within your life as we move into the New Moon on April 1.

March 25 - 29, Venus conjoins Saturn.

This puts us in another reality check state of mind. Issues involving money, finances, bills or world economic situations could oppress us, even just a tiny bit. During this transit, we take strong notice of the stark reality of Venus/Social situations fright in front of us. They could be friends, family, loved ones, associates or any social society where they could be leaning towards a backwards, course behavior, or a bleak outlook, a more harsher truth of the level of coldness or lack of care which always comes from Saturn conjoin Venus in Aquarius.

Venus is meant to be an abundance of love, kindness and magnetizing good things for our needs, emotional and material.

When Saturn and Venus in Aquarius connect, it's time to wake up and face the reality about people, a person, or some decision one needs to make about certain people in our lives. This combines with the Mercury moving into Aries, the Mars ruling Aries conjoin Saturn then this Venus conjoin Saturn right now. It pushes us to make unpleasant decisions about the people or situations in our lives, because we do care about ourselves, our situations and the things we do value. So basically, we could say from March 27, 28, leading up to April 5, we're all making decisions about things which are going to support our own personal needs, taking care of business and if possible helping others close to us do the same.

We're beginning a new awareness for personal thriving, whether it is preparedness, our body, a new diet, a new regime, a new way of living, making strong decisions about who is and who is not going to be part of our world, how we now need to live, or even moving towards a new discipline of study, and embracing something we realize we must get through. It's for our own good. This cycle can be difficult, but good. We will love it!

Venus, March 31-April 1, then Mars, April 6 - 7 squares the Nodes.

Venus is what our emotional attachments are and Mars in Aquarius now, would be that desire for liberation and continued freedom and opportunity we love so much to continue reaching goals and the space, things, money and people in our lives we need to make it.

When the squares happen, our world tends to feel harsher, things get in the way, we're not in the best mood and on top of it, people in general could appear more uptight, stressed.

The bigger picture, (I like to call it our Astro Umbrella cycle, the big Pluto re-set revolution transit in the 1776 chart) is the big picture.

We can't forget this astrology cycle which began building a few years back, and kicked hard exactly February 22, 2022. Who knows how long this new cycle will play out? Technically, it is over on December 29, 2022, but was it really over the last time within one year 246 years ago? Not really.

The 2020-2021's Pluto oppose the 1776 U.S. Conceptional Chart's Mercury at 24* Cancer, and Pluto square the U.S. Natal Chart's Mercury, in Aries (1789), those two astrology cycles were unbelievably oppressive, releasing destructive events unrepresented.

Those Pluto transits are over now, but an even more daunting one has moved in, February 22, 2022, launching the global awakening revolution we're all witnessing. So even though we experience good astrology cycles here and there, we need to keep the big picture in mind, we were and are still having a very intense once in 246 year Astro cycle.

There are tentacles within the core financial darkness which has long sabotaged the abundant nature of our lives, showing within the natal Pluto in the U.S. 1776 2nd house of finances and our value and worth. One by one, each individual corruption based upon dark values, dark movement of profits made from corrupted activities will be challenged throughout this 2022 on period. They will be exposed, brought out into the light and destroyed. This could take a decade until everything is turned inside out and replaced.

In the meantime, our lives, society, businesses, financial world must thrive and continue while this war is ongoing. We are truly in the war. I am quite emotional as I write this, as I saw this coming many years ago looking ahead, and it's almost surreal to witness, we're actually here living through it at that very time. It's emotional for me, as I know everything conglomerate in corruption which has been here for centuries, is going to be ripped wide open and challenged, replaced.

There are wonderful expansive things as a rare evolutionary acceleration is happening. Which leads me to another powerful astrology cycle coming up very soon:

Jupiter conjoin Neptune 23* Pisces sextile Pluto in Capricorn and sextile North Node in Taurus.

April 1 - May 3, exact: April 5- 13, and Jupiter sextile Pluto May 5, 2022

We've been waiting for this Neptune cycle for one year, since Transiting Neptune squared Nodes January 2021. The past Neptune/Node situation created confusion in the world, deceptions, secrets and unreal narratives and players. The New Neptune/Jupiter sextile North Node this March 10 through April 20, peaking exact on April 14, 2022, replaces certain people and circumstances which have been at the root of social depression and massive secrecy of the destructivity only Neptune negatives can do. The lower nature of Neptune, is continual lies, madness of mixed messages, denials, and layers of undermining behavior.

This is the midpoint period we are in now, where the past Neptune/Node cycle (January 2021) symbolic for a year of unfortunate confusion, up to the next extremely favorable Neptune/Node cycle on January 2025, Neptune conjoin the North Node.

The Neptune cycle right now,, is a sextile, which acts as a midway point between the January 2021 Neptune square nodes and 2025 Neptune conjoin Node. This cycle now is very helpful for depth of discovery, uncovering destructive activities. However, it is not as anchoring and initiating power as conjunctions which we experienced Oct/November 2015, and again January 2021, then again January 2025, but this March/April Node/Neptune will be bringing ideals and dreams of a more productive and high standard universally embraced all over the planet. It can answer many many questions for the world, if the world will hear, and provide solutions. Many will adopt a more realistic facing of facts and accepting the inevitable next position to take, globally, because of the universal agreeing upon facts and discovery of information. No one can deny these things, shove it under the carpet.

This cycle can assist with important exchange of information openly and fairly, increase honest cooperation regardless of the price they personally need to pay for accepting this transparency. It brings an energy of goodness to all professionals who do still have the capacity to receive the higher energies of Neptune, which are qualities of universal love, progress and compassion.

This cycle supports society with problem solving, communications, forming like- minded groups, unifying professionals who desire a higher and more accurate, efficient and intelligent systems, solutions, innovations upgrading quality of life.

It segways into the transiting Neptune conjoin the North Node on January/February 2025, which has a much more powerful action energy, a launching of something dynamic, powerful and extraordinary in the world. It releases the full power to launch progress for more functioning, sane, beautiful and efficient for nations, while providing opportunities for expanding ones' best self, increases financial opportunities , health and medicine and inspires innovation in all areas of life. It will be the power of sanity, the opportunity for the etheric to mesh with the physical, bringing that clarity to all situations. It exposes undeniably the evils in the world, perfectly, and quickly deals with them, as new programs are put in place. This will occur even in spite of a continual opposition, threats and dark underground activities continuing.

Personally from now up through 2025, Neptune, the planet of dreams and inspirations, reaches out to others easily for collaboration, friendship and unity. It can stimulate and motivate moving forward with fulfilling our destinies by a globally mutually shared ideal which is soon becoming the new standard for the world, beliefs of freedom and independence, humane fairness an opportunity to live in a world which uses advanced spiritual and technological standards for all to thrive, transparently. I must add however, the years where truly we are beginning to see the light at the end is 2027 through 2032. No world war - it is not allowed, there is too much at stake and we're almost at the finish ...again, reflect on how far you've come in your own awareness and understanding. Multiply this effect throughout all humanity, everyone knows what is going on. The negative Neptunian lies and deceptions are over.

The Neptune conjoin Jupiter, peaking exact April 12 2022

From March 27 to April 20, peaking on April 12th, Jupiter's good will, ethical and moral nature combines with Neptune's idealistic vision of divine standards. Compassion, truth and humanitarian progress, honesty and care for higher global concerns challenges the old guard's horrible agendas for humanity. More and more are jumping on the ship of inevitable transformation of the world in higher forms rather than insane control or genocide.

Personally, we can expect motivation for us all, to project ourselves into the immediate future and hold on to the vision of how our life will look for us, when we get past this or that challenge. Whatever your challenge that is before you now, this conjunction provides faith and belief it's going to work out so better just get on with it. See it through to the other side. Move past this and get on with the grand potential of your life ahead.

This will be a powerful time where we sense we're waking up from a long sleep. We look around at our lives, our environment and want to slow down and drink in every detail.

Psychologically, we review our lives, get very real with our human self's past choices and behaviors, and many times even ask ourselves, "why on earth did I do that?"

Something miraculous is occurring to people. A sharpness of thinking is getting stronger, a level of increased intolerance, in-credulousness Veils are being torn down. An incredible outrage everywhere triggered by the continuous outpouring of documentation and exposures of greedy corruption impacting our world, is taking place worldwide. Lies, lies and more lies.

A clarity is happening. Truth is easier to grasp. Information is clear now, and above the world we seem to be living, looking down at the bigger picture, now it all is beginning to make sense. Delusional thinking is now trending.

We are becoming aware of a process, an action of support and networking from all over, expertise or help brought to us (or you towards another) from new planetary aspects which creates a thrust of power, surrendering to a situation as it has occurred, yet determined to transform it at its roots. This cycle challenges us to stay reasonable, grounded yet hopeful. Neptune and Jupiter in Pisces is ultimate power in seeing the huge big picture, being outraged, yet directing compassion and solutions, comfort and love towards those who require help. This is a highly refined intelligence, with a strong sense of idealism and intolerance towards anything stupid or gross, abusive and evil. It is beginning already, but just wait and see how it spreads.

This aspect is very strong, and can amplify either fears and confusion as people become aware of where they have been and what is looming, or hope and idealistic promises given in order to bank on some future relief...but just like a turn of the dial, Neptune with other planetary energies, can bring vision, idealistic dreamy experiences, hopeful news and events, yet are they real or illusions? I sense they are a mixture of both.

Overcoming some situation within our own lives where you simply haven't had the ability to take care of something, some dysfunction, something which as been malfunctioning for a while, or something you have been putting up with that is not the best is now confronted and taken care of. Again, it is as if you finally see it so clearly, and coming out of a long deep sleep – like you've been partially sleepwalking through some part of your life up to this point – well, I should say truly, up to maybe 2016 – 2017 – (as that was a tremendous time of shattering immobility and density everywhere) might just have been the start of that waking up period for many. But now, facing lies, illusions, overly idealistic parts of our own natures is the theme. The intolerance for this unrealistic sabotaging state, will also come with the Neptune conjoin Jupiter in Pisces. Normally, Jupiter might have crossed over Neptune three times in a year, but in this case, this is only happening once.

Magical moods can trigger deep beliefs and premonitions or a knowing of events, the meaning of events, the ability to see through veils of deception and be guided into the right path. These planets *Mercury and Venus, and soon, Mars, along with Neptune and Jupiter in Pisces) can represent a bending time experience, opening up opportunities and breakthroughs, suspending the activities of evil, a trick of the hand and voila! A magical something, coming in the form of grace, intercession, is replacing the darkness, but there is so much more in the way of challenges to go. Regardless, we welcome this Jupiter conjoin Neptune in Pisces.

These planets release healing and divine love, yet it is intense, unmovable and serious in nature.

These Astro cycles emphasizes anything related to retreats, technique of energetic work on self or others, rejuvenation, fasting, body cleansing, raising vibrations or a theme highlighted now, surrounding clinics and hospitals.

It will also unfold issues regarding lymphatic, blood conditions, energetic conditions within our bodies, immune system, drugs, pharmaceuticals, sickness, and humanity that will come out requiring us to deal with. It increases the synchronicity and union of heart and mind within people everywhere beginning to unify their perception of things.

The planets in Pisces, (March, Mercury through Pisces, mid-April, Mars enters Pisces, and April, Venus through Pisces) could also trigger the mind with a feeling of being quite vulnerable

Some event which takes place around April 1 -20, 2022 which requires our utmost courage and facing truth might come about. Focus upon the practical functional plan, and you'll sail right through.
