

STARDROPS JULY 31 2022

I don't like playing this role, but here goes. If we don't prepare, something might happen we'll regret not seeing beforehand. If we prepare, nothing might happen. That's the way I prefer it to be. A reminder - have food, water, metals, energy and fuel. We want these in our possession. Every time Mars turns retrograde, or Uranus aspects have the potential to trigger politics, we as human beings, sit vulnerable. Never was there a time when humanity was so close to advancing into the next era of magnificence and perfection, or be shut down once again, into an unnecessary reset.

Chip away at any bits you can handle. The action taken to be secure as Mars moves retrograde, can send the message out to the Universe, we're ready for any thing which comes our way. Even that could diffuse the dark.

AM DISCOURSES

July 31
Mercury 22* Leo and oppose Saturn 22* Aquarius

This day stresses the need for careful communication, focused writing and expression of opinions, relaying facts to others, or simply attempting to nail down some form of commitment or plan. This can be strained today. It might not have anything to do with the people involved, simply the situations in your every day life might be so tight and complicated, it's difficult to see through the time constraints. However, Typically, this opposition, requires addressing the importance of truth, facing a reality about someone - a situation, what your take is on a person or nature of something, and can not be ignored anymore. This truth might help your future paths you want to take and how you walk it.

I sense this cycle moving in already as of July 28. Saturn oppositions to Mercury can push or motivate us to address things in our lives with regards to tasks, filing, responsibilities with others, and even handling difficult situations with another, as if we can not avoid it. There is a sort of karmic glue or cement that connects us with a situation to deal with it, until it's settled.

July 31 - August 2

Mars in Taurus 18* degrees conjoin Uranus conjoin Node (Entire period of influence is July 23 - August 9)

Mars is now fully activated on the Uranus/Node conjunction. Expect certain financial, markets, economic problems to escalate. Expect the start of an 8 - 9 month news, media, information networking wars to escalate.

Continue with your manageable security plans in order to counteract the continual challenging fuel/supplies/food manipulations. While the archaic systems are falling apart, numerous pathways towards resourceful thriving continue to emerge in many creative ways in order to maintain transparency with truth.

Stop for a moment and consider how you might have been pressed to adopt a more original approach to functionality, emotional and spiritual empowerment and increased practicality.

These shifts we are making are guiding us to survive this transition the world is in - and the Mars/Uranus/Node moment could be looked at as the trigger as to what we know we have to be, do and learn in order to advance through the years ahead. It influences the outlook on our lives with independence, self sufficiency, and originality. You might not relate to this right away, but even internally, you're becoming stronger with your assessment of life around you, your intelligence, connection to information and your understanding of the world, has expanded in just a short amount of time.

Energy is very high now so take care of your nervous system with all forms of natural and supplemental B-12, and other B vitamins, foods, calming grounding things if you feel stressed. Also, watch high blood pressure, blood sugar levels, maybe needing more proteins during this cycle.

Triggers of territorial actions involving takeovers are much higher starting now, even though they have been seen as strong possibilities for months.

Irrational stubbornness, defiance and oppositional stance with our personal interactions with others, and within the global leadership arena. These escalations of arguments are over any issue. It is not a good time to get into hard conversations regarding touchy subjects.

On the positive side, this cycle is explosive for one's rights and independence and one's worth, how one is being treated, what you deserve to have or receive.

Compulsive behavior is high and irrational actions and statements, ultimatums, can erupt along with the opposite reaction, push back and extreme measures taken in order to control the situation. Anything refreshing, leading to independence and freedom, innovative and new could be seen as a threat by some force.

There have been times I have sensed in astrological cycles incredibly strong breakthroughs which help us globally.

You would think the positive potential of Mars - Uranus - Node might be one of those moments, but I don't sense that with this one. It is strong yet could go either way. It definitely motivates fighting for independence, justice, financial fairness where many have just about had it and are willing to take extreme measures in order to force change. People can snap.

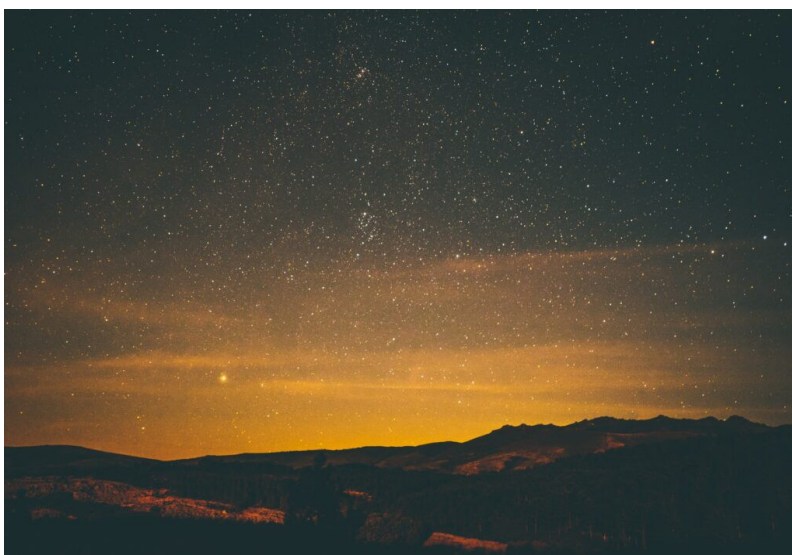

I'm concerned however about that push back mentioned earlier, coming from the most unexpected sources and in the most unpredictable ways. False flags, distractions and eruptions which appear unrelated to each other. Important major statements made. Bills suddenly slipping by us, try to get pushed through by the most brazen gutsy attitudes in leadership during this Mars escalating period now up through eight months. All the while, media grab parts and ignore other parts, people get half truths, and we're left in the dark.

Many Astrology cycles can begin weeks before the exact peak, so we explore the start of this stubborn and fed up, territorial survival of the spirit moment in time as beginning even as far back as the April 29 2022. This was when the Solar Eclipse Sun conjoined Uranus
Could the intensification, week by week since April 29, 2022 involving leadership and governments transitions, the sudden death of the Japanese Prime Minister and other escalations of nations' extreme change which went from May 1 leading up through July 5 be possibly linked to a string of commands from a higher place? Was it a coincidence Cern turned on July 5? Taurus rules engineers, machinery and Uranus high tech. Remember, April 29, 2022's Solar Eclipse was in Taurus conjoin Uranus in Taurus? Solar Eclipse themes last five months out. We are still in the matrix of that Eclipse.
Could Mars (machines and weapons) in Taurus, the sign of engineering, conjoin Uranus - the unconventional and futuristic tech, conjoin the Node, the population be somehow messing with our reality? Some technical Cern specialists say portals are being created, which could impact our world. Does this technology have the ability to create massive shifts in power or anything it's directed to effect? Is it positive or disruptive? Does it alter agendas and timelines? Is there some thing which is stimulating this acceleration of change during these times and are our astrological themes (planets positions) just symbols of timing, but mirroring a greater source of power? Could it also be disrupting the balance of power in the world while also messing with our reality and even our consciousness?

Again, this cycle as so many we've discussed in the past, is requiring us to get truly grounded and strong with our higher identity, our force field The last possibility to consider, is that there are those who are behind these artificial manipulations, as also cosmic cycles are accelerating humanity simultaneously. Are these artificial ones possibly changing, some faction of it, for a positive outcome, and how many of these sources of energy systems are actually in operation? Could Mars be seguing into Gemini on August 20 for eight months, intensifying mind bending, contradictory information which challenges our every day stability? We are going to have to work harder to keep on top of what is happening on earth, and even just managing our every day lives. I believe this Mars/Uranus/Node is instigating many of these phenomenon launching them into a higher potent reality we are having to handle now. It is as if cross waves of thought, intention, manipulations of ideas, projections and energies are passing through the earth, impacting social groups (and individuals), so now more than ever, we need our shields, morning intention, meditations, focusing upon our goals and inner light building and building in order to be invincible throughout it all.

Whatever takes place, I want to utilize this cycle for zeroing in on what truly matters in my world every single day. I Am projecting positive outcomes for news sources, information platforms, media and an acceleration of understanding spread throughout the world, in order to change the world.

Sun in Leo trine Jupiter in Aries

This cycle gives us a bit of a break, if we can grab a moment in the midst of this potentially disruptive period. It is an opportunity to get away, find relief, slip out of the chaos and tension. Find a place where you can experience expansion of heart, relaxation and self care in the midst of this invisible and not so invisible war we are in during these times and retrieve your sense of hope and confidence in the future.

August 2

Venus in Cancer sextile Node in Taurus, Uranus and Mars in Taurus

Venus brings appreciation for beauty around us. It might be a pleasing environment with friends, food, a sense of security, personal needs. Prioritizing loved ones and friends, caring about people in your life is number one. Your money or anything related to business and income is positive....even though Mercury inconjuncts' Pluto below....it is a helpful day for starting new plans to bring greater security and reach important personal goals.

August 2

Mercury at 27* Leo inconjunct Pluto in Capricorn

Challenging Conversations, irritations and information.

Mercury is all about logic. It governs our memory and decision making. With the inconjunct to Pluto, one part of our day might be stuck, out of sync, something doesn't make sense. Something we think should be working out, the way we would desire it to be is not working. It is out of our hands at this time. A temporary set back, illogical move or disjointed situation, personally or in the world, is focused on. It's a time for shifting gears, and move on with what we can control now, or what is logical and feasible. Letting some part of our agenda go, for whatever reason, might be necessary. At this time, there might be nothing else we can do but find alternatives.

August 4

Mercury enters Virgo

Mercury enters its own zodiac sign Virgo. Now there can be an emphasis upon tearing apart an issue, investigating, going into the details and being more specific with your analysis. Mental concentration is strong now. A project or task has all our attention. Along with getting the job done, could also reveal how it could be fixed or improved for the future. Emphasis is upon order, cleaning, or weeding out the unnecessary. This cycle of increase mental sharpness and excellence with any thing you want to handle, continues up to August 24. It is a cycle of justice and discernment.

August 5

Venus in Cancer inconjunct Saturn and trine Neptune

Whenever Venus moves into Cancer, July 17 - August 11th, a softer feeling permeates our life. We feel inclined to enjoy anything domestic, friendships, family or home. During the August 4-6 however, something clearly important we are emotionally connected to is out of joint. The trine to Neptune smooths out the situation and creates a canopy of higher love, acceptance and compassion. If you can organize and prioritize your needs now, and have them coordinated with others, with a few snags straightened out it could be a nice 3 days.

August 7 - 8

Mars at 22* Taurus square Saturn at 22* Aquarius

These two dates when Mars is in a conflicting aspect to Saturn, can be felt in the background beginning now, and building up to the 8th of August.

This square causes an increased determination to finish something, to cut through and get issues out of the way, however, the friends, the group, the company or department is so rushed and overtaxed on their urgency for you to successfully fulfill your regular every day work, it interferes with this ever so important thing you want to complete. If there is a way to adjust, and do both, or simplify one to make room for the other issue that you feel tug on you now, it would work eventually. Be aware of where you are going and avoid frustrations. Watch for accidents, depleting your strength, your immune system, or sprained muscles, hurting the body, or over heated and becoming fatigued.

The body needs a break. Eat well, take supplements and get a massage!

August 8

Sun at 16* Leo trine Chiron at 16* Aries

The Sun radiates enthusiasm and a general optimistic energy for the best infusion of love and energy today.

August 9

Venus at 26* Cancer oppose Pluto at 26* Capricorn

One issue that you're trying to connect with another about, might be delayed, or you're not happy with the connection. We all need to take a deep breath and not become hopeless or fatalistic.

Simply get through the day, and start fresh tomorrow, as Venus oppose Pluto tends to trigger unconscious resistance towards being kind, supportive and diplomatic. Even if you are normally a friendly helpful person, this might be a day when you're tired of always being the hero. If not you? Possibly someone else is down and overwhelmed, by life and needs your love and help.

Mercury in Virgo inconjunct Jupiter in Aries at 8° Aries

Another inconjunct which means, incongruity between your obvious solution for a problem, your idea of how soon it should be handled and someone else's position. A hard communication which you've expected to have resolved by now, and the reality of the situation, not so easy. This day could create social disconnect, a break, incongruity between you and what should be an obvious moral behavior or attitude.

August 10

Sun in Leo square Nodes and Uranus at 18° Taurus.

Today the vitality of the Sun might represent or be symbolic of a person of authority in the world, is in conflict with some crucial decisions which must be made. Sometimes Nodes involve financial, political trends, what will impact the population. Ego conflicts, pushing ones' weight around are part of this day, but especially, leadership challenges and big decisions made which would stress the people, as The Sun in Leo is in an arrogant entitled place. Watch for big military mistakes.

Mars at 23-25° Taurus sextile Neptune at 24° Pisces

August 1- 12 holds the power and energy for excellent meetings, collaborations, communication and spiritual psychologically helpful information. Analysis is spot on now. Sharing and connecting, helping others and others supporting you, it's all good, harmonious and feels uplifting. Today, a truce can be made, but only after a stunning realization of the alternative outcome if none is made.

August 14

Sun in Leo oppose Saturn at 21° Aquarius

This day is a mini - culmination of what we have experienced so far from July 31 up to August 14th. It marks a time of stopping whatever it is you've been attempting to achieve, and sizing up how you are doing, how much have you accomplished, and assessing your life in some way.

This also goes for leaders regarding their past goals and agendas, their previous course of action. Something halts them in their tracks on August 11 - 14th.

For the rest of us, we re-assess our goals, modify, re-align ourselves. Time to get out our calendars and organize the next month or so as things may have changed, and we are now able to get a crystal clear picture as to what we should do, when, and how to go about it.

August 11, 2022 Full Moon in Aquarius

The Full Moon conjoin Saturn in Aquarius opposes the Sun in Leo at 19° are square Uranus, Mars in Taurus and Node at 18° / 17° Taurus/Scorpio. Prepare for anything. Find your Warrior within and strengthen all things in disarray. This can be seen as an electric, potentially disruptive energy funneled into yet another step up of revolutionary actions taken, political posturing and challenges.

In general, this energy creates an expansion or fullness with over bloated statements and decisions from incompetent people in power, putting greater restrictions and vulnerabilities onto humanity - multiply this trend out into many regions with its own unique set of complicated polarizing and potential accidents. This Full Moon will be a new escalation of trouble in the world. Brazen, stupid and incompetent.

Full Moons create a culmination of something which has been building up for a while, then bursts out into a new set of circumstances. With Moon in Aquarius, it's about human rights and freedom.

China and the Mars/Uranus/Nodes - The July 29 - August 11th Grand Cross

Territorial, unpredictable and bold moves are what this Full Moon might trigger for China.

These energies have been building since July 28, when Mars conjoined the Node and Uranus.

How many other nations' astrology charts are revealing escalation of conflicts during these times?

Personally speaking, we all might relate to this cycle as a fairly important goal we are engaged in, and making an even more powerful conviction to achieve it. It has something to do with our own independence from the mediocre in our lives and expanding out to accomplish breakthrough after breakthrough.

In order to achieve it, we're realizing we have to think outside the box and take a risk to commit to a faster and more expansive original way of achieving this goal. That's Uranus' energy with this Full Moon.

The inspiration will culminate on the 11th of August, where the commitment could be reached to do it this new way, or take this path which will demand more creative process, but get the end results faster. And in this case, it's a good thing!

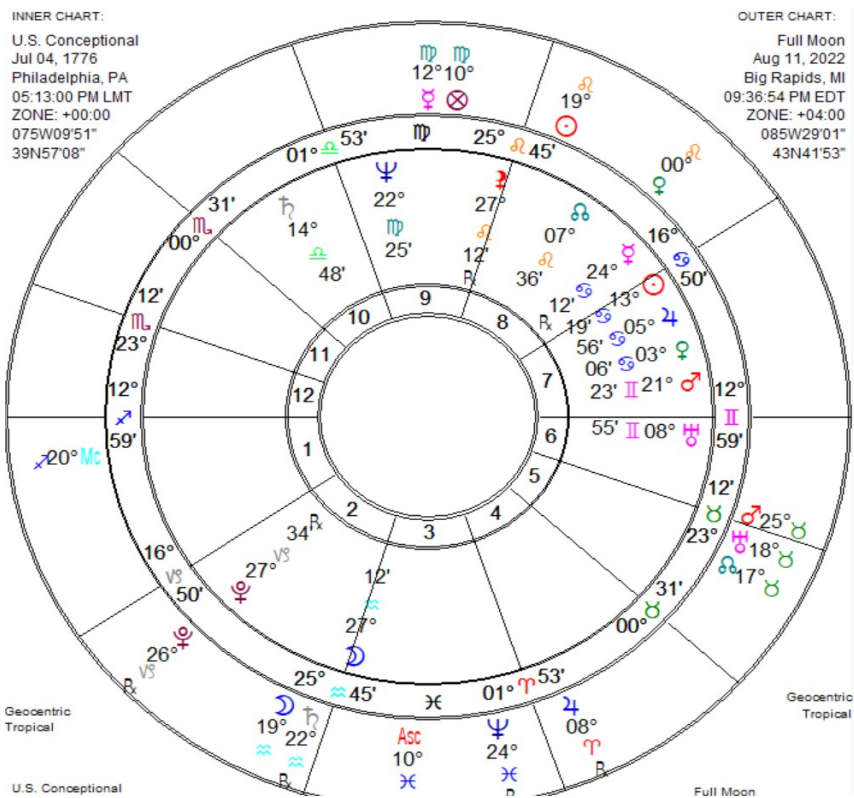

There is tension building up during this cycle from July 23 up to August 11, as we re-think how something should look, how to move forward with specifics, and taking a leap of faith and confidence to change our approach. It might be out of necessity, but excitement and optimism should be part of the challenge.

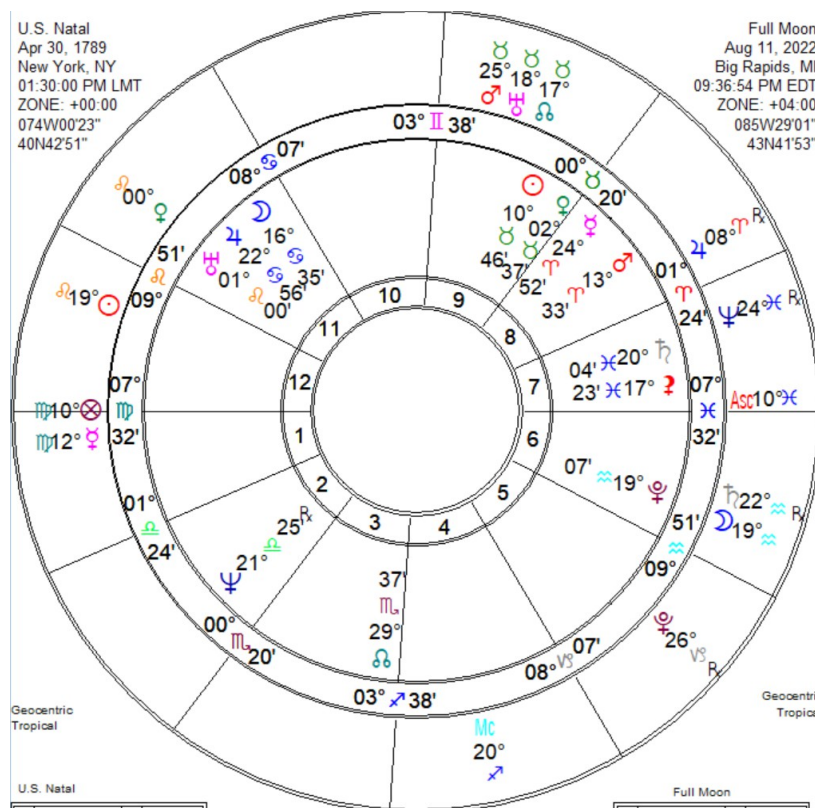

Taiwan and the Full Moon in Aquarius Grand Cross configuration like China's, is full of extreme tension. Taiwan's chart showing the Sun in Leo activating Venus, ruling the 7th house of allies - yet Venus and the Sun square Neptune - Allies are at a disadvantage - great strategic moves will have to be taken in order to overcome this line up of planets.

Hidden Allies make a surprise move, counteracting the territorial actions taken against Taiwan. Even though Neptune is in a loss position with this July 28 - August 11 energy, Neptune can be creative and mysteriously successful sometimes, as it holds secret support and invisible allies. What's my assessment on this exciting time we are in? An escalation of frothy battles for power, control of information, truth and facts spilling out which are verifiable, while others bashing against these facts as they are all implicated.

All extreme and disingenuous sides are being checkmated by a revolution of highly intelligent people who have emerged in the past several years. These groups are setting up their own independent voices and positions in the midst of this chaos, journalistic equipped, who can see the 30,000 foot vantage point of what is really going on. They are not afraid. Mars is the planet of War, and it's moving into the sign of Information and facts, Gemini.

The possibility that the media is being fed false information on purpose in order to achieve specific military outcome within several regions and situations is high. If we focus on the target planets, Mars, Uranus and Node placing strong emphasis upon the 6th house (military) this is where we might understand what is going on with any given region. With the Full Moon in a near conjunction to the U.S. Moon in Aquarius in the 3rd house of media and disinformation, t-square (putting the source of the disruption) on the Mars, Uranus and Node in the 5th/6th house of a genius move by U.S. Military.

On The Lower Right, See The Full Moon In Leo Conjoin Saturn Targeting Again, Our Military (Pluto In The 6th House?) Not Good At First Glance. The Axis Between Those Planets On The Lower Right, And The Sun In Leo On The 12th House (Left) Creates A Trigger Now Up Through The Full Moon Date August 11, Potentially Erupting Into A Territorial Maneuver. However, Saturn/Moon Is Trine Neptune - Ruling Pisces On The 7th House Of Allies. Neptune Rules Secrecy. We'll Have To See How Several Escalations Turn Out In The Next Few Weeks Or Months, But I Sense There's More To The Recent Escalation Of Conflicts Than Is Being Told.

Many have information, plans, and underground strategy others don't want them to have. The battle continues until the new level of information and movement wins out. But it might take many months. Are there those who are willing to pull plugs on society in order to continue hiding reality? You know it's true. We are in the most vulnerable place now. While at the same time, many good people in power positions move to outsmart any nuclear attacks, purposefully or by mistake. False flags could continue, but the theme is more on battling lies and deceptions, with truth, the economy, Russia/Ukraine, Taiwan/China, the elections and plagues. We are definitely in a crisis peak for information wars and most people are extremely confused as to what is really going on. Below is an interesting discussion on only a few slices of our global disruption.
