

How Mars Can Influence You

August 21 - March 25 2023

How Mars Can Influence You

August 21 - March 25 2023

Mars moves into the Sign of Gemini August 21 2022 and will intensify all themes related to communication, learning, acquiring facts and information relevant to your personal needs. It activates discussions, arguments, and confrontations. It could magnify tendencies of becoming triggered when opposing opinions are super charged with emotions.

Mars will continue to move through the sign of Gemini up to October 30, 2022, then turn Retrograde, and move what it appears to be as backwards, in reverse, until January 12th, 2023. Mars will still be moving through the sign of Gemini. On January 12th, it will reverse again, moving forward (Direct) and continue through the sign of Gemini until it's over. The date Mars moves out of Gemini into Cancer, will be March 25, 2023. The entire Mars in Gemini period then will be finished and it will be very interesting to see how we have changed! *And the world!

In the future, we'll go into more global triggers with this Mars Retrograde Period up through March 2023, but for now, let's concentrate upon our own personal experience.

The complexity of this cycle when it comes to polarizing and arguments, will contain truth within each side. Because Neptune will be in square to Mars, both sides might exclude relevant facts and deep seated beliefs they should be sharing. Strong motives for why they take the position they are taking, deep within their being must be communicated in order for the other side to truly get the full scope of the motive behind this or that perspective.

Therefore, each position must be courageously transparent with what one actually believes about a situation down to the bare bones of ones' heart and feelings if individuals against other individuals, or groups against groups will ever get anywhere. This is because of the divisiveness of Gemini, being of two pillars, two minds, two sides or using one part of one's self, and keeping the other part hidden, out of sight. It amplifies debate and volatile arguments over key facts presented to prove a point, stimulating defensive postures based upon even the factual information. Only the heart can penetrate through this maze, even if it is confronting darkness.

It's higher energy is releasing unprecedented insights, catching the nuance of information, heightens intuition which enhances a knowing within about so many key things especially for you. I sense this Mars cycle could be utilized by Higher Divine Presences to release an opportunity for all of us to access our Higher Self and other Divine Teachers now. The way it seems to be working is when something is not right in your life, access to a higher piece of instruction is immediately transmitted to your outer mind if we would only stop and ask for help. Show me the way to handle this, or do that, then with internal quiet, listen to the guidance. And the key? We need to try it!

This Mars can release supernatural droplets of information, wisdom and a knowing, a state of consciousness in order to add depth and richness with our existence. Mars assists us with transcending the regular every day stuff, which actually feels more real and true than the old normal life. In other words, we are being introduced to a new norm, developing supernatural powers with regards to depth of insight, connection if we will use it, increased intuition, vision and understanding of things which seemingly appear in our minds out of nowhere. But these pieces of information we're receiving seem to be the very thing we were in need of or looking for. How amazing is that! I have been testing this theory, and so far, by asking for guidance, something has been happening faster and amazingly helpful. It could be about any old thing, daily frustrations, or mishaps....I feel the Higher energy of Mars is being used to facilitate this acceleration of our supernatural abilities. Mars is the planet which rules identity, brain, self image, and action. It is energetic and fast moving. It can also trigger unwanted reactions. Because it is moving through the Sign of Gemini for eight months beginning now, August 2022, it will intensify the qualities of Gemini, which you can read through the sign descriptions below to your own Sun Sign. Gemini/Mercury are the messengers of the Zodiac. They transmit information and accelerate our intelligence.

This Mars is here to inspire us to accumulate facts, ponder information, review, discuss and lay out all the issues on the table and make smarter decisions based upon a higher goal one desires to achieve. That higher goal based upon progress through love and standard of truth, what's best for the higher good, reviews these facts helping lead to conclusions and positive actions taken

This Mars overrides our limited thinking, mechanized information which is two dimensional, replacing this thinking style with multi-dimensional solutions. No more patience for the mental state alone, we're wanting something more, profound.

As with all forms of Gemini communication, there will most likely be extreme polarizing because of the twin pillars, two sides of Gemini, however, if one looks up to a third higher Presence above these two side by side issues, this higher vision on the third power, creates the one pointed goal to one could achieve - the power of unifying all under a banner of Love, Transparency, Truth, Kindness and Progress for Humanity (or any given situation one finds oneself in, where opposing sides might be happening.) So, the two pillars of the left or right back and forth horizontal pattern, this or that conflict, needs a third point above. If both sides of one's mind, or if it happens to be individuals, or groups split would seek out the higher answer from that profound dimension, a new concept could be inserted into the discussion. It doesn't matter if it's in your own head or in a crucial meeting with two contrasting positions.

Divine Self above me, I call upon your incredible ingenuity, eternal wisdom now into my world. Penetrate into the issues involving _____ and re-direct my outer mind to the new path which leads me to perfection and resolution with this thing, always!

This cycle of Mars will be triggering people's causes and needs and increase their desire to become very vocal about them. Expect explosive information, media, videos, documents and so on to continue to emerge throughout the next eight months of this Mars cycle as it builds and builds, leading up to its first peak crescendo, October 30th 2022, then continuing to its second peak as it turns Direct, January 12 2023. Each peak has a berth of two weeks before and after the peak dates. October 20 - November 10 is the first Peak, and January 1 - 20th 2023, is the 2nd Peak.

In our own world, a general description of how Mars could impact your most important planet, your Sun, is below. This can be used as a guideline as to how you might respond to this driving energy of Mars at this time. For all of us, our minds will be working overtime in order to make sense of certain things in our lives, in order to make smarter decisions for our future. It's an excellent time to get real with ourselves and make new rules, guidelines to follow so we can finally overcome some pesky habits we've inherited from our early childhood and even from past life carry overs which sabotage what we really desire to see manifest in our lives.

Experience the logic of this Mars thrust and try to mold your daily decisions with a new conviction based upon clear insights, conclusions and commitments now. Have fun with this, and good fortune!

ARIES

Mars in Gemini sextile Sun in Aries

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(October 30, 2022 Mars turns retro exact at 25° Gemini;
Mars turns direct exact January 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

The power of Mars in Gemini can help you communicate your perspective, inspiring you to regain control over some situation. The ability to convey a deeper knowledge from a higher source, will be introducing to others the need to change and begin considering what you are saying and experiencing from the heart, is just as valid as documents, reports and facts.

This theme could last for eight months with many layers and versions continuing to emerge you to take action. Each layer of new insight, new information provides a rich experience for you where your growth in wisdom seems to have no limit. Your understanding of present situations which require action, is now becoming so deep and complex, is there really anymore only one black and white correct way? I think not - it's all becoming so spherically complex now. Going up in ones' view will feel more and more as the natural next step. You are trusting a supernatural alchemy, which is combining your own Higher Essence which desires straightforward progress with this magical energy, capturing your higher desires for advancement and progress, and somehow begins to change outcomes in ways you would not have expected to occur.

Mars energized the Sign of Gemini and with your mind hungry for sharing information, the Aries can experience a huge step up of stimulating conversations and plans. The mind is lit up. You could be more curious to find answers, desire to talk, share and connect with the important people in your life. Ideas flow back and forth between you and your friends or co-workers, so much more can get accomplished as out of the norm ideas are discussed, comparing notes, facts and realizing these ideas might inspire taking action in order to feel you're back on track with a semblance of balance. Your thoughts go from one idea to another, and people are receptive. You might be handling an influx of things which require more laser-focused decisions based on the information you have either researched or been told. Writing content, outlines for projects, and organizing material is strongly emphasized now.

Energized Aries, take action and know there are people around you that support your ideas. Paperwork and research might play a big role, also an announcement or presentation? You and others are making decisions, and it will pay off.

Something to do with new friendships, community of like minded people, or any artistic or musical creative self-expression could be playing a high focus throughout this period. Mars is in a good aspect for eight months to your Sun, so in general, expressing your truth will not be in vain.

Enjoy this busy period.

TAURUS

Mars in Gemini semi-sextile Sun in Taurus

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Turns direct January 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Mars in Gemini stimulates you to plan how to get physically financial stable, achieve self worth and surround yourself with others who truly value you. These people are the most important people to you and without a sense of being valued by them, you could wither.

This special Mars brings its supernatural abilities into your world in many layers and actual physical events now so that you can grow, not just spiritually and psychologically but financially and with security. It is somehow opening doors for you to achieve tangible productive accomplishments, with family, work, housing, money, health and friendships. This transit is enhancing your own intuition to go after things you might otherwise have denied yourself. Somehow, Mars is taking your attention away from your old human limitations, and raising your vibration higher in order to believe the impossible. How is it doing this?

Mars appears stationary in the sky, beginning August 20 - up through March 25, and turning Retrograde on October 30, 2022. This creates a very intense release of energy pouring through the sign of Gemini to all of us during October into November especially. Then its next intense phase will be the first two weeks of January 2023.

Because this long cycle lasts for so many months, it will be an exceptionally powerful cycle of learning, study, communication and making financial decisions for you. But more than that, it is inspiring you to commit to a quality of life, meaningful life purpose and committing to expressing your Masterful abilities all around you, no matter what others might say or think. You are so over being intimidated. You have come alive!

There is no way you will ever be able to return back to your other lifestyle and pattern again. Gone are the days where you're not sure if you'll be able to get away with being yourself. You are a supernatural being with masterful abilities. It's time others allowed you to be this without constraint.

It emphasizes purchasing, financial commitments, whether job related, income analysis, budgeting, mortgages, bill pay offs, savings and investments. Because of its position in Gemini, which rules two things, two people, partnering or polarizing, the issues with money and self esteem might very well be also involving another person where you feel polarized. You desire union but something could be irritating you, as the other person or group might take another posture.

You might even wonder if this person(s) has a heart.

Mars can also inspire a new car, some quick trips, exciting rendezvous, or just business scheduling and networking. Your mind is incredibly stimulated and in high gear. Situations regarding study, reports, presentations and lectures could be in high focus. A warning, some background tension might arise with you feeling torn, split in two directions. It's all in your desires right now. Let go of the tormenting desire and need for just personal validation and stick with a practical plan for inner alignment with your true values. Trust the intent. As for the hurt feelings, just erase it each day, and simplify your life. If the universe has not made it easy for you to achieve something from someone, just let it go. Begin arranging your life's choices to be completely aligned with who you know you really are, and what you believe in and what you don't believe in. Your values inside are now going to begin to be mirrored with all your outer choices. Even if it takes years to ultimately get there, it starts now.

The world in general will be going through an intense and extremely agitated period of conversation regarding facts, documents, papers, witnessing, advanced forms of journalism, information reveals, videos, debates, logical conclusions and long, drawn-out discussions around legality, the future security of the world, and what to do.

The second intense phase of this Mars is when it turns direct January 12th, so give it from December 28 - January 20th 2023, where you notice another crescendo moment of intense decision making, important meetings and discussions, planning and logical conclusions made.

But for you this should be a fairly happy, cooperative, sharing cycle. Stressful in a way but productive. The conversations and mental and professional options you talk over with others, make you feel loved and boost your confidence. It's an excellent period for writing papers, making plans to increase income, or increase a sense of ownership over your own life in some way. Is it a big purchase you want to make? Whatever the planning is about, it's all about valuing your life and what you naturally know you should prioritize and care about. Your mind turns towards caring about money, practical things and discussing important issues with people in your life. Signing papers, buying, selling? You feel doors opening to make things happen now. Your mind is stimulated, assertive and convinced that the intuitive path you can see before you will work wonderfully and you could sense a new conviction to it all playing out to the dramatic end!

GEMINI

Mars conjoins Sun in Gemini

August 21, 2022 - March 25, 2023

(Mars turns direct exact January 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

You have the magic touch now. You're living in another higher world, while still walking through your day in this very physical dimension. Information comes like water flowing, your job is to say it, show it, and demonstrate your knowledge. Work and life becomes more excellent as you speed solutions up, and experience the respect and gratitude of those working around you. Mars is honoring you with its magical energy of knowledge and wisdom, enhances within your world now, as you become somehow, spiritually smarter and feel even more advanced. However, it is also telling you what you need to do to humble yourself, get out of the way of your ego and fears, and take your heart to the next level. It's time to get real with yourself, what you still haven't handled in your life, and decide to just jump and do it. What is it that your ego has not wanted to deal with? Mars can help open the door for help in order to finally get this last thing out of your way so you can experience a peace which you know you deserve. Mars is possibly driving you Gemini, harder than any other sign during these next eight months, up through March 2023.

Mars in Gemini is intensifying your natural gift to log information, numbers, money, budgets and come to logical conclusions as to how to proceed with life now that you are more clear where you stand and what you truly want!

You have goals in your mind as to how you desire to live your life in the future, so continue to make lists, outline and write them down. Share with others who have an ability to help you achieve these goals. You might need a team now to finally get these things done once and for all and stop delaying the inevitable out of habit, sabotaging your ideal future self!

It's excellent time to communicate and produce information, learn, read or absorb material. Your mind is finally coming to one pointed conclusions about things, and all horses pulling your chariot are all aligned, running in the same direction. Your hands holding the reigns are in full control of your destiny.

Your mind is concentrating upon the very subjects and pieces of information you love the most. So pay attention now, to what kind of information you're gravitating towards, as it is nurturing a deep place within your soul you must have in order to be a shining example of empowerment and confidence. These pieces of information are mirroring what your inner self already suspected. You know the truth and now it's all coming together in your mind.

Could you be inspired to initiate new business? A new level of productivity? Taking new actions to provide information for others?

Energized Gemini, take action and know there are people around you that support your ideas. Paperwork, writing and speaking, reaching goals quickly and all forms of support and collaboration, contracts or agreements bring you a sense of progress. Artistic or musical creative self-expression all play a high focus throughout this period.

Enjoy this busy period!

Because this is a stationary Mars, this is an extra epic time for you to plan your domestic, family, home and security issues.

Take advantage of this cycle.

With Jupiter in Aries along with Mars at this time, stretching your mind to grasp a larger potential is definitely available to you along with your prompting for initiating action with people that might have been stagnant for a while. Self initiating, self motivated, Mars conjoin your Sun is absolutely key and powerful for you to harness this extremely advantageous logical time for you to re-arrange your life according to your goals. Do it now, and keep disciplined, as this is it!!

Mars is energizing you to express yourself, get clear and focused, and speak your mind. Quick car trips or vacations could be in store for you! Use this cycle wisely and enjoy branching out with your impact on others and relationships you desire to make or simply nurture now.

CANCER

Mars in Gemini semi-sextile Sun in Cancer

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30, 2022 Mars turns retro at 25° Gemini

Mars turns direct exact January 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Mars in Gemini helps you plan security for your future. It is guiding and motivating you to plan a move, do something special in regards to your housing, home, comfortability and stability now. It might also be for your family in order to provide closeness and express how you really feel. Possibly your family could be your community of friends, but whatever and whomever they are, Cancer is motivated to begin a deeper process of bringing people into a circle of protection. This will be healing for all those special people in your life.

It is a very busy and stimulating time where synchronicities just keep occurring all around you all the time. Mars is networking you into relationships, meetings, groups, conversations, dropping key pieces of information about new possibilities, that you stop and might wonder, is someone organizing all of this for me!?! How is this so perfectly arranged helping me provide the right method, programs, steps and guidance for myself, my family or for others? Mars in Gemini is putting you in the center of a hub of people who need your Presence as the Nurturer, but it's different than normal, as this cycle is actually enhancing steps and methods as you are being guided to use with a lot of guts now, more than you have done before. Drastic times require drastic courageous measures! Trust Mars' guidance as it magically increases your trust in your own supernatural abilities to love and protect others' security and safety as you help them grow up.

So, this can be a great period for inspiring visions for any home and domestic projects. The need for security, financial certainty will be filled with activities involving networking, discussions, meetings and sharing information. The information coming out during this Gemini Mars stimulates you to make some pretty strong decisions for others who otherwise might be all over the place with their problems.

You are all about build relationships but based upon truth and facts, not favoritism. A major family event might take place in these eight months from August - March 2023.

You desire to nurture community or family but Mars in Gemini has some things to say first.

Logical conclusions, discussions, planning and examining options get your mind excited about new possibilities. Because Gemini is such a nonconformist zodiac sign, Cancer can experience the excitement of a new start or plans for work/projects which are unconventional and fresh. New situations you find yourself in, open up new options.

Bringing family and/or your people together, scheduling and counting on others' cooperation to be on the same page with you helps you feel closeness and prioritizes that emotionally satisfying feeling of alignment of hearts with those you love. Any decisions made throughout this entire cycle, will be well thought out, even outlined into a great plan which will eventually increase your personal security and quality of life. Good Fortune Cancer!

LEO

Mars in Gemini sextile Sun in Leo

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(October 30, 2022 Mars turns Retro at 25° Gemini
Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Mars in Gemini increases fun, love, vacations, investments, much excitement and possibly even a big purchase, or investment in something which increases a sense of high quality of living for yourself and those you love.

This cycle is very important for Leos as Mars will appear to slow down in the sky, and look as if it has stopped. It will be radiating its drive and pressure for stimulating sales, networking, increase financial success and a busy schedule as Mars moves through the zodiac sign Gemini. This increases your meetings and networking with others. Your thoughts turn towards increasing quality of life, enjoying life, vacations, getaways, investment ideas and spending time with your kids.

With Mars energized in the Sign of Gemini and sextile the transit of Jupiter in Aries and trine your Sun, at the same time Mars sextile your Sun in Leo, wow! you can experience a huge step up of stimulating conversations and plans to launch something great.

If you just happen to consult, teach, lead, write, lecture or advise, this period is excellent for you. Also if you are involved in investments, financial dealings, real estate and other corporate growth, good for you, you're playing an important role increasing value of a company and/or pointing out important facts and info for the people you work with, to give them a heads up on certain issues. Smart financial or business ideas provide confidence for others to move forward to inevitably grow business.

Reading and absorbing novels and movies get you inspired. Writing and sharing information is at an all time high for you, so take advantage of these eight months of increase of information, self education and any material shared and produced. You could be more curious to find answers, research, connect with important people, information, data and facts now.

Love and romance almost always plays a role in a Leo's life. If not you, possibly you're helping out a loved one with their personal life. Ideas flow back and forth between you and your friends or co-workers and so much more can get accomplished. People are very receptive to what you have to say and you are definitely not bored throughout this period. You might be handling an influx of things which require more laser-focused decisions based on the information you have either researched or been told. Decisions to purchase software, phones, computers or devices, or even a new car may be part of this stimulating period. Also leadership, guiding others with strong recommendations in order to move forward on an idea or stop and wait, are all part of this Mars for you.

Many short enjoyable trips are on the horizon for you during this period - so enjoy! During this time, the theme involves mental agility, communication, getting your facts straight. Possibly some advertising, printing or publishing. Even making life seem like one long performance, where you're the person which has the empowerment to share the key features or facts others want to know about.

This is a realignment period with your real self which loves leadership, vacations, fun, children, happy moments, progress with increasing quality of life for yourself and others around you. The re-alignment is for the purpose of experiencing the power you hold to design your life, and allow it to merge with that spiritual essence guiding you each day.

Your children will be involved in many of your conversations, discussing options for them.

Energized Leo, take action and know there are people around you that support your ideas.

Enjoy this busy period and definitely plan this cycle out on your calendar. Think what you would love to see yourself achieve or do by the end of this cycle, and use this time to make it happen!

VIRGO

Mars in Gemini square Sun in Virgo

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30 2022 Mars turns retro in at 25° Gemini)

(Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

You are being called into a service unprecedented, thwarting a future darkness and diverting a hiccup on others paths, which will alter others' lives in beautiful ways.

Your love and discernment, refined mind and intuitive guidance, is showing you step by step the most intricate pieces of a project, it's almost unreal how it is all working out. Your receptivity to service to life, is now accelerating profoundly and your reward is more love and expansive gratitude for everything around you, now and in your continual journey from the start. The satisfaction you'll receive from detouring others from a dark precipice, will be immense, and only grow as these eight months of Mars in Gemini continue.

Mars in Gemini can trigger some irritability, just enough to motivate you to fix something annoying in your life which has been neglected for a while. It helps you list the logistics and details so you can create an action list analyzing just how to proceed in the best way possible. You will cut through and put order and create justice and correct a dysfunctional situation even if it takes eight months to do it. Your deductive reasoning is excellent now. Placing each step in order of importance, then walking through the steps until it's accomplished. This irritating thing may have already been brought to your attention months ago. Now is the time to figure out how to solve it.

If you notice the time frame of this cycle, it's much longer than the normal Mars transit period. Mars is going to turn retrograde on October 30 in the sign of Gemini and continue to increase intelligence and curiosity as a theme from August up to March 2023!

However, we start tracking these Mars themes as soon as Mars moves into Gemini, August 21, 2022.

Purging, cleaning, throwing things out, going through ones' wardrobe, closets, categorizing and eliminating is what this is all about. If it's your business, your place of work, the same thing applies. Your mind is working overtime to fix things.

What this does is lock us into one project or state of mind regarding something we are working on, for many months. There is one predominant theme. A Gemini theme. If you are a creative type, strong urges to express your artistic, design or musical side might emerge, along with video and photography. If you are not artistic, or do not support these artistic events, it should be funneled into money, budgeting, achieving minimal stress in life, eliminating encumbrances and disorder, even in our relationship commitments. Simplifying is the key as you continue to realize logically how life should really be.

This cycle is very important for Virgos as Mars will appear to slow way down in the sky, and look as if it has completely stopped. As this occurs, the radiation of the intelligent, versatile yet logical pressure of Gemini energy will tend to agitate your Virgo to address what's not perfect around you... as it is in a 90 degree angle to your Sun Sign. However, Mars pushes you to organize, improve, analyze, and pinpoint errors, perfect things, and feel even driven to put life in extreme order. This cycle definitely brings you lots of energy, ideas, details, information, and options, you might feel overwhelmed. Service and work, perfectionism and making life more functional are all part of this time.

The Virgo's health and body, routines and regimens. You could feel exceptionally pushed and driven now to be more on top of your day, incredibly focused and working more indiscriminately Are you motivated to work on your diet, body or health now? Moving into an even more refined routine? Fitness, body work, or health issues can be exceptionally strong, however, because this Mars squares your Sun, you might be drawn to these activities so might wonder if you can feel even better than you do now!

Critical thinking and editing a more streamline way of efficiency, especially when Mars motivates your Sun. Your job is to gather all the info and discern which parts are viable and then prioritize the best options. Projects, business, or even doctor appointments, dentist, body care, fitness visits, etc... could be high on your list also.

It will be causing pressure to discuss and hold meetings, sharing information. You are usually tolerant with Gemini, but as you take in all the options and information, your sifting nature is attempting to grasp how to apply it to a pragmatic plan and don't be surprised if you are experiencing an increased agitation, irritability and feel more critical during this time. it's important to eliminate pieces that are not yours to be concerned with. Virgo's are usually very good at this.

You notice even more things which need to be done than normal, however. It can intensify sales in your work. As Gemini and Virgo are both ruled by the planet Mercury, and Mercury is the planet of ideas, self-expression, communication, sales, contracts, noting crucial data, facts, information, numbers, writing, speech and authors and books. You're busy with crunching numbers, streamlining schedules, working with budgets or bookkeeping and sorting through all options determined to make all these plans work within a minimal amount of time and money.

Technical issues with devices, technology, electronics, phones, programming, coding, software decisions, correspondence, emails, contracts or upgrading your computers, even cars can be stepping up, demanding more hours of your day, possibly even frustrating but necessary to improve and keep functional.

All issues with trips, schedules and making travel connections could be stressful but you feel driven to get it right. Pay attention to the details now for eight solid months. Efficiency is key, yet not mechanically driven towards having every single thing perfect. You're not a robot.

Some Virgos have issues with relatives, siblings experiencing some unfair behavior with others. A sense of frustration as you experience injustice about a situation needs to be handled carefully. Much patience and discernment as to how to help or handle situations with your family or partner/friends is required at some point during this cycle. Take it easy with the people in your life, as it's a touchy cycle for you whether how you are taking in things, or how you're dishing it out.

Your thoughts go from one idea to another, and people are receptive now if you are tactful and loving.

This should be a mentally stimulating time, with pressure to organize information, ideas and insights in order to perfect something important in your life, relieve others from wrong choices or positions, and finally reach some functional physical goals that make life just basically, much better!

LIBRA

Mars in Gemini trine Sun in Libra

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30 2022 Mars turns retro in at 25° Gemini)

(Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Libra, you can experience strange things during this time. The information you receive is special, almost privileged. You're very likely to be given very refined intricate information, nuances, intuitions, coincidences and synchronicities as if you're being pursued by some higher force that desires to bring you closer into an important relationship with those who only share these kind of insights with those who are ready to advance. Are you ready to advance during these eight months of entering the most unconventional Gemini Mind?

Use this time to ask the Universe and all those who guide your personal destiny to deliver to you amazing information, key pieces of material you must have to finally know your place in the Universe now. Other than this most powerful and secret part of Mars cycle for you, the most common outer evidence it's working for your advancement will be relationship building.

People wonder how you just know people so well. Little do they know, your magical abilities to read people, yet treat each person with diplomacy and compassion, is becoming extremely strong, helping you become a leader of others Mars is training you in this way, as you now have a higher multi-dimensional spherical wisdom and intuition you will want to use to bring understanding, comfort and guidance. Your role is to help stabilize others and maintain balance and peace. You might also have a powerful step up of prophetic dreams or hunches, and be in wonder yourself, how they come true.

Mars in Gemini enhances Libras' opportunity to bond, share and build a rapport with important people or a special person now that provides for you a sense of belonging. Your heart and self confidence only increases as feedback continues to come your way reassuring you of your abilities to bring beauty, caring, support and true helpfulness to others. Counseling, therapy, partnering, confiding and building trust, this is what it's all about. You are truly making a difference now in several people's lives, as you have that gift of empathy and seeing what others are going through. This cycle can also bring a special love into your life now.

Libras are mentally energized from stimulating engaging people. Supportive friends and co-workers reach out and desire to spend time with you. Everyone seems to cooperate and suggest helpful ideas for your projects to get done. When you delegate now, orders are followed beautifully. Stimulating and helpful information comes your way. You are informed of things that can help you make smarter decisions.

Art, music, creative design, decorating and style play a big role for eight months. Are you thinking also about a new style for your appearance? You are lovingly responsive to others' needs but don't let others dominate so much of your time, that you neglect achieving a huge professional goal during these eight months of Mars enhancing your Sun in Libra! Achievement is coming, rewards are coming, and so might an increase of money!

Your love and caring is reciprocated. Positive energy is coming to you and you can get so much done at this time! Family gatherings, good fortune with relationships and meeting new people, quick trips, outings, meetings, adventure and everything feels like an up mood! Love can fall into your lap, so stay alert to this new person. Your Mars in Gemini connection will simply be to allow that intuitive knowing you feel inside, to flow through you, as you talk, care and share with others around you, even during tense moments when you're faced with opposing viewpoints. Open and learn, negotiate and bend. This isn't the time to be hard, blocking potential opportunities for future peace. Love is your key!

SCORPIO

Mars in Gemini inconjunct Sun in Scorpio

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30 2022 Mars turns retro in at 25° Gemini)

(Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Mars in Gemini presses you towards some pretty important decisions involving others you are tied to. These decisions won't be easy, but it forces you to finally figure out how to position yourself in an important role involving a project and also at the same time, what role you play in the life of another. This cycle might take the full eight months to finally work out in your mind. How to make everyone happy, and not sell out yourself? Do it in chunks, take it apart and realize each part has its own life and needs an investment of your energy put into it. These parts might always be incongruent with each other, and that's okay for Scorpio. Gemini Mars helps you accept this fact, working on one segment at a time, until you feel resolved.

Adjustments are required in your approach now. A shift may be necessary in order to get where you need to go, as new information and feedback come to you.

Even if you are not used to experiencing your life as a mystical experience, even if you are spiritual but personally desire more of that higher continual connection you know exists, this cycle can enhance your inner abilities tremendously now.

Mars is the co-ruler with Pluto of your Scorpio Sun, so, this period is adding a layer of telepathic communication with your higher self where you stop suddenly from what you're doing at the moment, and question " Did some higher consciousness just tell me something I need to know? Did I just have a very quick almost imperceptible conversation with My Real Higher Presence Self that normally I wouldn't have even noticed? Has this Presence been speaking to me all along, but now I can experience it, hear it because some part of my own density is going away?"

New mental and intuitive centers are now opening up inside of you quickly. The Key for Scorpios, is to trust it. It's really happening to you now. It will help you with your money, your love, your family, work and service.

Scorpios are mentally energized now, but this mental energetic period could lead to being impatient over others' lack of organization, practicality, timeliness. Finances are also part of these decisions, staying on top of your own budget and not overspending. Juggling others' money questions and needs, while juggling your own.

Are you dealing with a problem with certain people who are not able to either help you or support your request for assistance or understanding? Or do they want to help, but inevitably it seems there issues are more and demanding.

It might have to do with more work than you can successfully handle. Try to be patient during this period and don't be surprised if you are having to do much of the work yourself. Walk others through it, teaching or showing how something is done patiently until everyone finally gets on the right track.

During this period, be on the lookout for fast drivers cutting you off or challenged by others through their irritable moods. This is a positive cycle for coming to terms with all the realistic logical facts of your life situation, yet frustrating. Again, taking each thing apart and tackling each one separately seems to be the key. A productive time of doing the best you can to support others in much needed role you play in their lives, but how to also feel healed, satisfied and get your own needs met, that's the question! You can do this! Just use this period to compartmentalize parts of your life and schedule everything in...and stay true to your financial limits! Mars in Gemini steps up your progress with finding resolve with all issues now.

SAGITTARIUS

Mars in Gemini oppose Sun in Sagittarius

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30 2022 Mars turns retro in at 25° Gemini)

(Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

The powers Mars releases into your world throughout these eight months enhances the impulse to share your higher wisdom, intuitions and visions with others without any concern as to what people will think of you now. It is providing impulse to share, teach, provide that freshness of new ways of seeing life and world events. It is uplifting others so they can get re-connected to their own Higher Presence as you very well could be the link to reminding them of their own ability to know the way.

In other words, your higher role as a go-between, a teacher and coach to support people on your path, is becoming clear. Mars is working hard on your self image to prod you to step into this role now, and allow it to flow. Something is changing inside of you, and it's as if you don't care anymore what people think as you know time is short. This is the magical power Mars is releasing into your being.

Mars in Gemini polarizes with Sagittarius causing opposite perspectives, challenges. It is presenting examples for you as to how you might look at things in a new simplified and much more factual logical manner. It can put you in relationship with another who is good for you, teaching you to zero in on the facts in order to help shift your perspective during this time.

Motivation and pressure coming from another person gets you moving to solve a problem, settle a situation, communicate the facts or make a truce with a misunderstanding or hurt feelings someone might have. Don't be overwhelmed with pressures from others to conform to their attitude and opinions now.

Trying to bridge a gap and stretch to show up and be present for something even though it might be hard. Why is it hard? Because of another person's behavior that created a rift. This would be a time when I think sometimes, a dark force is trying its best to influence others to cause distress in your life, trying to cause a problem by causing people to do stupid thoughtless things that could hurt your feelings. Just realize, people can be influenced by external mischievous energies, but are not necessarily bad themselves. Feeling strongly about a logical path must be communicated, yet present a win-win for both sides.

During this cycle, you will want to be careful with your health, body, risk of any kind of accidents. This can also be a potentially upsetting time for relationships frustrations, such as a major disconnect with your friend, partner or spouse.

Remember what oppositions require, an ability to take turns expressing each sides' position, then attempt to negotiate a new path to walk together. Try to absolutely avoid antagonizing the situation or engaging in any confrontation now.

Be careful with your own body and physical sports/driving/physical movement. Watch what you are eating and how much. Take good care of yourself, and do not get in altercations with anyone...remain neutral, peaceful, nod and say, "Oh, I understand. Thank you for sharing that with me," especially if you are confronted by a difficult person in a stressful situation or upsetting conversation. Mars in Gemini for a Sagittarius, stimulates your mind with tons of information you need at this time, and some of it might break apart your old perspectives. That's okay, let it happen! And remember, the Mars transmits to you a deeper wisdom as to why this or that is happening. Hang on to these droplets of truth, and never mind others being on board with your insights each time. They are for you in order to be happy and at peace with yourself.

CAPRICORN

Mars in Gemini inconjunct Sun in Capricorn

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30 2022 Mars turns retro in at 25° Gemini)

(Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Usually you are one pointed, move forward on one obvious logical course in order to achieve the most predictable next step of accomplishments, however, Mars is blessing you with a diversion, a split off onto a different timeline.

You might not want to take this new pathway, but it's key to your soul advancement and might not seem logical at all to your normal patterns. It's magical ability is permeating your very being with an inner direction to surrender to a new insight, new way of serving and providing information to the people you love around you.

Mars in Gemini brings you layers and levels of important conversations, discussions, information and facts for you to ponder, in order to re-position yourself, your career and life choices. Much of this information is coming to you from what others are thinking and planning that you might not have understood before, the entire picture is at hand.

Because it is inconjunct with your Sun now for eight months, it might take that long for you to digest this realization of reality of many situations, which are not that easy to handle. But if you don't know these things how can you continue with a successful journey to realizing your greatest potential?

Capricorns are steady and loyal. It is not an easy thing to do to change your direction or plans midstream, but that is exactly what you might be needing to do in some area of your life now. If you were heading towards a particular timeline or goal, the diversion or split off, might be the date or timeline speeding up and it messes you up!

Or the vision you had of how to go about fulfilling your work, your divine plan or a goal with others, is either altered or moved to another group, company or way of working now. This is the nature of an inconjunct. The information you are hearing is presenting some important facts and statistics that cannot be denied. Intelligence, paperwork, documentations, meetings or some form of communication helps you understand a better path to take. Pay attention to the new dates or timelines. Accept them and adjust. Also pay attention to all the information you're listening to or taking in, as they are realities which could alter your plans.

Try to remain clear, calm, and focused upon your ultimate goals, but adjust accordingly. It could simply mean a temporary shift of some kind. Be careful with your health and body now. Be careful driving, navigating stairs, rocky pathways, hiking or any outdoors activities. Pay attention to your general health, your nervous system, bones, dental, knees and legs, sprains and infections. This is a bit of an unstable period but necessary to adjust your thinking and inspire your true creativity, in order to get busy with your life's' purpose! The Spiritual Essence of this Mars is to help your direction in life be totally aligned to your higher destiny, and break the old ways of thinking about your future self. You are shifting into more of your power Capricorn. Go for it!

AQUARIUS

Mars in Gemini trine Sun in Aquarius

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30 2022 Mars turns retro in at 25° Gemini)

(Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Aquarius, Mars is happy to transmit to your beautiful self an enhancement of peace and trust in the incredible cycles of change occurring all around you. Your presence in the lives of those close to you, is most needed as information flows through you to give to each person exactly what they need. How do you do that? It's amazing you hit it on the head each time, describing and explaining concepts to others which they really need in order to advance in life.

You are in sync with this Mars enhancing group and friendship understanding, all forms of communication abilities transmitting such higher ideals and insights for others now.

Mars in Gemini is flooding you with news, information, facts and one thing after another is revealed. It is truly so exciting for you to watch layers of density and the old ways drop off from the world. This period of time just might open the way for a special visit from friends of old.

This is the best time for Aquarian to feel transcendent, bright, useful and witnessing progress going on all around them. You love progress and change, and even more, love to see people embracing truth. Your spirit is fully engaged in spreading an aura of invigorating energy to the discussion and the issues others are talking about. You add important elements to the talks, uplifting others and enhancing an almost magical essence bringing greater power to the changes happening for good in the world. An intelligent step up from the mundane. Life is interesting and very mentally stimulating. You are in the flow now and everyone seeks you out, love being in your presence.

Projects are positive, motivation is high. Creative involvement with exciting people and friends are fantastic. People in your life are curiously introducing new ideas and activities to you to take you away from the normal. Some kind of emphasis upon reading, absorbing information, passing certifications, exams, resumes, job interviews? Involvement with groups or a community? It's important to allow the new safe and positive change of environment into your heart during this unique period!

Friends and groups are highly emphasized as satisfying to you. People are accelerating in truth and spiritual progress. You love your friends and reach out as they reach out to you. Are you working on an alchemy, an intention you and your group are attempting to bring into physical manifestation?

New car, new decorating, new food and diet? New body work? Mars in Gemini stimulates your mind to comprehend a deeper level of what is going on and where this puts you in the world, during these chaotic times. You are progressive and fortunate now because of the people in your life are linked together by an amazing golden chord. Be amazing and always speak your truth now, as you provide the vision for others to learn and grow. Alignment with truth is what you're here for now, and utilizing your vision and intention, affirmation for all good, to change the world.....and people are listening and love you!

PISCES

Mars in Gemini square Sun in Pisces

August 21, 2022 to March 25, 2023

(Oct 30 2022 Mars turns retro in at 25° Gemini)

(Mars turns direct exactly Jan 12, 2023 at 8° Gemini)

Mars in Gemini's purpose for eight months in your life is to challenge you to notice certain realities about yourself and what others' roles have been in your world. Mars magically GUIDES you as if a higher messenger has gotten your attention completely, downloading insights into your mind about you, your life, your problem, where you have been stuck and isn't it about time we transformed this pattern?

It helps you take the next steps to be and do something very different - move outside the old self and walk right into your true Presence in an instant. Mars also provides Information regarding your health, biology, viruses, longevity and body mechanisms, nutrients, medicine and serums could be catching your attention. Higher powers are connecting the dots for you with key information of life longevity. Study and research is needed in order to truly understand some of these subjects and how they apply to you. Magical Mars communicates insights into your mind in waves of insights, as to how you are to become masterful and transcend your old self. You are in training to be a True Master Of Love. These insights create bridges to cross in order to be even more successful with your business professional goals and building positive relationships. These relationships will be more transparent and trustworthy as both parties are at a point in life where what do we have to lose but reveal our intent and expectations yet also enjoy thoroughly each others' companionship.

It is also helping you to be more objective as you deal with individuals who might not get you or share the same approach to relationships as your nature is inclined to live. It compels discussion with important people in your life.

You might experience a greater acceptance to both parts of yourself, your idealism and visions and superior refined intellect. The need for them to be blended. You can combine both with new realistic plans, agree to meet others in a more practical functional way and be consistent with this new approach. Know you are extremely idealistic and somewhat impatient for others to get it, but at the same time, realize how much you desire union and friendship, so willing to drop that side of yourself and reach out. This would be a good thing, and I believe Mars is pushing you along those lines.

This example is for business and personal love. People know you're smart and sacrifice, but they also need personal time with you. Take advantage of the power of this aspect to make your own position clear and stay focused upon facts however, taking that higher idealistic role, expressing what you would have expected, then reaching a truce would be Mars transmitting to you the need for this or that union regardless of the obstacles.

Interrogation won't work with you, so if you find yourself being scolded, simply remind them to take another approach as you are open to understanding what is at the very root of this issue, rather than disappear into one of your projects or other worlds which no one has entrance to. . Try to stay reasonable. Yet in an argument, you both might actually have a point. If it is true, agree to both perspectives and find a higher way to move forward. Don't assume important people in your life such as partners, employers, coworkers are remembering to fit you into their plans. It's not personal, double check or call them to pin down arrangements. Mars wants you to communicate, to connect and plan with others, not to be alone.

Mars in Gemini square Pisces stimulates and puts pressure to think about ultimate future needs, money, the world condition and personal goals. It drives you to achieve, even though you would rather do other things. You can see the handwriting on the wall and you're usually correct.

Mars is positive for bringing into the physical, the things you know you must have in place for you and your loved ones to be prepared and ready for anything. You are intuitive, prophetic and tuned in. Trust what you're receiving as information, and try to follow through logically, as best as you can. Have an amazing Mars in Gemini period of enhancing your quality of life by negotiating, making truce, planning, including others not normally considered or easy, and bringing your needs into the physical world around you now. Trust the intuitive transmission of Mars in Gemini, as it communicates your every step these eight months.

APPOINTMENTS

Receive Starfires Newsletters

sirius@starfires.com

www.starfires.com