

The Crescendo And New Moon in Libra

Posted on September 24, 2022

STARDROPS SEPT 25, 2022

Planets are lining up culminating in a crescendo from September 25 up through November 8, 2022. There is a theme and it seems to be consistently about information, accurate and factual or diversions and deceptions.. Nothing new yet so many planetary alignments all pointing to the same themes, one after another reveals this is not just an everyday thing going on. (See table below).

Multi – activities are going on simultaneously. Some are instilling trauma, fear and defensiveness. There's a certain possibility for some suffering and potential for panicking. It seems in other arenas there is an attempt to pull off strategically calculated events yet they're way over the heads of leaders in general, and surprised as certain agendas might backfire.

Mostly, we are speaking of global events with this Stardrops. However, we're going to weave in and out of how we personally could be impacted by the energies of these planetary alignments. It's important to remain in total integrity September through November. It's as if the Universe had a magnifying glass testing people's thoughts, decisions, motives and truth for certain karmic accountability lessons we're all facing to come due. It's okay to go through these cycles as they create incredible growth and force out of us higher light and power in the long run. We will most likely be experiencing a step up of mental challenges with our choices we have before us, our decisions, and how we read something accurately in order to walk the correct path. These tests will also be presented to world leaders. What will they do when presented with hard options.

You' could feel weird now through November 8. It's not a normal astrological period. Something disorienting is going on so get your stuff in order, prioritize what truly matters now. It's not just a preparation heads up, it's also to clear one's environment, one's head from clutter, disorder and confusion.

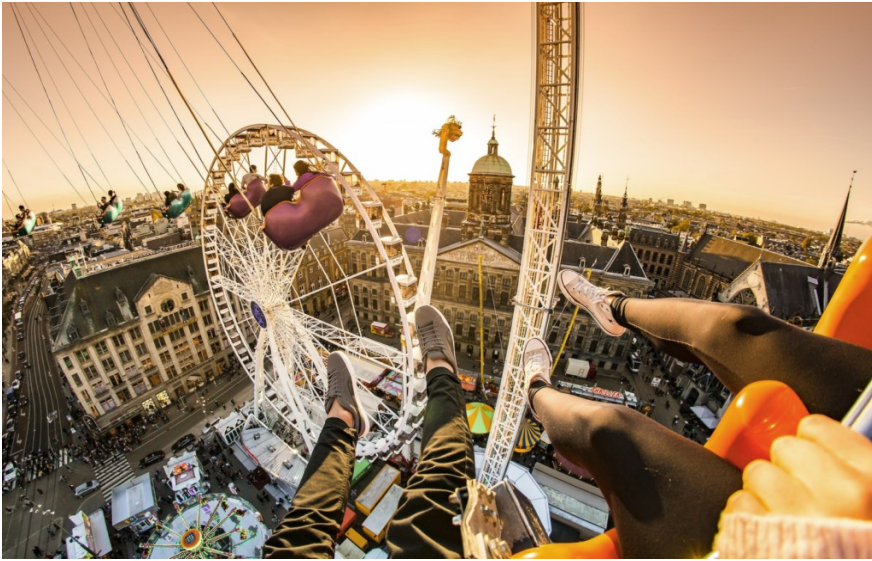

As Mercury continues retrograde in Libra and the New Moon in Libra emerges along with Mars in Gemini accelerating logical intelligent decisions and actions, all of these planetary alignments point towards mental logical action taken with most areas of our lives. the primary goal is to embrace REALITY. What is Real and what has been unreal? Truths will come out, personally and globally. They assist our ability to focus and put things in proper order.

Our relationships are also going to be very important now. Don't assume another person will handle things or is always so capable or clear. Personal accountability is key now. Always verify, reach out, connect and re-connect. be helpful. Try not to wait for the other person to get it together or approach an issue. Try not to lean on others too much to take care of everything.

Communication is going to be crucial along with taking care of correspondence, emails, connecting. Also your data, your own information you need to take care of, whatever it is – put these things in a practical physically reachable organized place rather than just upload them on the cloud. If you care about something, store it in a real physical place. These are just ideas as things could break down. If you could, backups you can tangibly hold in your hands, would be good. Many things are pointing to disruption with internet.

If you're new to Stardrops, this is not a normal post and it's not meant to overwhelm, but it is an overwhelming amount of information in this post.

With that said, here we go!.....

September 25, 2022 New Moon at 2° Libra oppose Jupiter at 2° Aries

The power of the New Moon inspires us to reach out and embrace others who might have different opinions, experiences or even challenging personalities. This cycle will either help us understand the truth about a complex person and situation, in order to mend it and help, or feel the need to have clear boundaries and stay far away.

Most will feel an inclination to reach out and to connect with others. Relationships will be a high focus, however it is in an opposition. There will be a strong tendency to become aware of others' issues or problems in an extreme way. Jupiter in an opposition can create problems such as inflated idealistic outlook on how the outcome of a situation might play out. Overly optimistic about some part of our future, money, wealth, negotiations, assuming too much in relationships, meetings, cooperation or ease of life, ease of relationships, or ease of living in some way one might have in their mind. Again, foreign ideas, foreign issues, travel, or legal issues can be up for addressing at this time. For some, confronting an intensely arrogant or immature situation/individual could be the challenge. Globally, there are big concerns over a step up of fanatical narrow minded religious and/or cultural posturing, their opinions, mass beliefs leading to cultural polarizing, war, economy, ultimatums or beliefs in an idealistic outcome could end up being proven off or wrong, challenged. Reading a situation wrong only to discover the reaction is miscalculated, harsh or over-reacting. Either side, one side or another, it's a complicated polarizing situation. Even though Libra New Moon is for harmony, peace and desiring to please others, the other side of Libra is open enemies and a declaration of war. Now notice how it's opposing fiery Jupiter in Aries, a righteous justified posturing attitude, and we have an issue. This New Moon however, is not enough power to trigger global or personal confrontations. We'll go through the more triggering issues below.

Spiritual speaking, many could be tested with a very human part of themselves desiring to maintain human control over their life situation. Yet the New Moon could be offering advanced blessings if one could surrender to the Higher Self's involvement in one's circumstances now.

If only one would accept the relationship with the Higher Self (Libra) and trust there is a divine path leading to a happier outcome, if one would simply let go of the attempt to humanely figure out how to control the situation on one's own terms a more wonderful solution and path could be unveiled before us.

The revealing of an opposing side – another side – a black and white factual revelation presented in order to challenge delusion, unreality...moral challenges, moral conflicts is before many. It might just be the awakening of many as to who and/or what the true destructive activity really is originating from. Uncomfortably within particular political and power activities. A forced facing of a new reality of a situation, which can not be ignored. Facts brought to light.

It begins September 25, 2022 and runs up to October 9 to the Full Moon in Aries

After having said all that, this is a difficult New Moon for any desire to make a new beginning in one's life, or to reach out, build relationships with important people, commit to an agreement, a negotiation and reach a realistic expectation for the future involving another person, business, agency or activity one is expecting cooperation with.

Money could be involved with also the hope or prospect of financial expansion and security, more time for love, ease and friendships.

But because of the Jupiter in Aries opposing the New Moon, over-expansion, over extending, overly optimistic, placing too much trust or idealistic expectations or assumptions in this arrangement, putting too much upon yourself, or you putting it upon another is not good. This could also be mistakes in judgment politically among advisors, leaders of nations. Assumptions things are better than they are – or assumptions of bluffing, assumptions of a private agreement but not so – it could turn out to be a huge surprise with the agreement, or private arrangement discovering it was not real or valid.

I don't want to make too much of this cycle, just an idea to ponder. In case any of this makes sense to you, globally or even personally at this time. It's not the most positive New Moon for a new beginning, I believe it's more of a test or we're handed what we call an initiation to pass, to embrace our Real Self, and surrender our control over having our way.... we're all creating a new start with something, possibly it's a new Reality beginning. Let's be open minded and possibly take action in a new way.

My greater concerns are the Mars in Gemini – Mercury moving station direct in Virgo on October 1, and Neptune in Pisces (below), along with other cycles impacting the U.S. Charts from now through November 2022.

It's incredibly complex. The basic premise I uncovered was there definitely is validity to the rumors something big is in the works.

Please check out the middle column on the table below, and notice how many eventful astrological cycles involving communications, aggression, action taken, a switch flipped, media, information, networking or problem with networking, internet and data are all coming to a very intense peak. Look at how many dates are lining up coincidentally to a small narrow period of time. You can skip through this table of events and get to the rest of Stardrops where you'll find the synopsis to these events in the table.

departments or organizations declaring mandates, pronouncements and action taken to attempt to implement these decisions. Personally, a time to intensely push forward to accomplish important tasks, work, health, practical activities.

Table Of September Through November Events

Stardrops daily update continues...

Sept 23 – 26 The Sun in Libra opposes exactly the Jupiter in Aries ( see new moon description above). This is the exact date of a form of waking up where a truth is coming to the surface regarding an individual. It could be a situation as stark reality comes out – We have already been experiencing this in the past years, but now it comes clear.

Sept 26 – 27 Venus conjoins Mercury retrograde at 26° Virgo trine Pluto at 26° Capricorn ( and continues through October 7)

This cycle is strong and positive for social connections with others, constructive work together. Socially, much harmony, cooperation and positive meetings and time together is spent, but typically for a practical useful reason – this cycle extends to October 7 and is similar to the late May into June 2022 Mercury Station in Taurus coming out of Retrograde station direct trine Pluto in Capricorn.

Sept 27-29 Mars at 19° Gemini trine Saturn at 19° Aquarius

Constructive action motivating energy poured into desiring more order, executing your organizational duties and rising to the occasion to settle things. Time to take charge and plan, schedule, address issues. Have those important conversations now – the key meetings and visits – logical decisions are made for our own future well being. Plans are laid down, and you're making progress! For more info on this challenging yet amazing Mars cycle, you might want to check out the Mars Post Here.

Sept 27-29 Jupiter in Aries semi-square Uranus at 18° Taurus A slight anxious period of changeable plans, people are a bit shaky or unreliable. A bit of irritability and impatience over situations that should have been handled by now.

Sept 29 – Oct 1 Venus enters Libra and opposes Jupiter in Aries. Socially, are we expecting more from others than they can really carry out? Maintaining a positive balance between supporting someone exactly where they're at, yet presenting a different way to see something, and let it rest.

October 1 and 2nd Mercury turns Direct at 24° Virgo Mercury leaves retrograde.

Highlighted Events and the Chart Wheels

The Solar Eclipse on October 25, 2022 at 2° Scorpio conjoins Venus

This event is a ways away – yet falls into our September – October period. It will be the next New Moon yet eclipse in addition. Scorpio helps us concentrate upon taking our problems and placing them into pieces – concentrations upon tasks, or issues which helps it be more doable. It is the time to focus more intensely on the resolution of things, yet doing it in chunks. This is the way to eventually accomplish the end goal. We'll talk more about this in a month, but for now, it's a heads up that many of these challenges and shifts occurring in the world are leading to the potential time frame around October 25 of successfully navigating through whatever happens with penetrating tenacity and vision.

The Lunar Eclipse on November 8 at 16* Taurus

It's always good to know when the next Lunar Eclipse occurs. A time to block off your calendar the potential of some globally heightened emotional reactions, events or situations which appear over the top. Personally, deciding to play it cool during this period is a good idea. Nothing dramatic, no huge risks taken or being talked into any unusually high risk situation or expense. Emotionally staying balanced and keep it smooth, nothing dramatic.

Transiting Mars, Neptune and Mercury retro/direct
 September 27 through November 8, peaking on two particular dates – Mars square Neptune-October 27 – November 8; Mercury oppose Neptune – September 27 – October 7.

This is the main planetary alignment which has been on my mind since last April 29th Solar Eclipse post. It simply escalates the necessity for discernment with the information we have become increasingly aware of. On the one hand, we want to be courageous and confident, not overcome with the Neptune’s projection of fear of loss etc...yet on the other hand, Mars in Gemini and the Mercury station in Virgo compels dissecting the facts and data, and realizing unless this is examined, the Neptune might lead to some form of loss or disappointment in some way. We don’t have to project some horrible exaggerated event before us, it might just be a detail in our lives, or some understandable situation we’re having to handle. But think of this coming to a head in the world at this time. It’s involving any one issue we’re globally dealing with at this time. Later, we’ll see how it’s lining up with the U.S. Charts. The focus or solution of this cycle, would be Mars as you can see, it’s creating a T-Square and the Mars is the long stick of the T. That’s the way out. Factually addressing the issue, with logic and action taken in order to deal with the reality before you now.

Sept 24 – Nov 8 – with peaks on Sept 27 – Oct 2, and Oct 27 – Nov 8

October 1 – Nov 27, 2022 Transiting Mars in Gemini between 19 – 21° Gemini oppose the U.S. (natal1789) Progressed Mercury at 20° Sagittarius and the transit of Mars moving towards a wide opposition to Progressed U.S. (Natal1789) Sun at 28° Sagittarius and Progressed Mercury at 20° Sagittarius. (Below)

Peaks October 25 – Nov 8, 2022

We place the event that we just described above, now in the scenario of the U.S. and its relationship with the world. It can also reflect what the people are being forced to handle. Just this opposition alone, creates a potential tension of being confronted with information which bursts one's bubble in some way. Mars is forcing a reality check personally not only to the leadership (Sun) but forcing a reaction, a decision (Mercury). Sagittarius' challenge is to deal with facts and the here and now. It is being challenged to polarize with words, statements, reports and statistics, challenges of real time information which are escalating into a crescendo of a reality alteration for many.

This cycle is matching so far, all the above, yet it is concerned with mental accuracy and attunement. Intelligent discernment and strategic plans, challenging some cultural or dominating social Sagittarius future focused expansive concepts, and instead leading one's life (or the country's future) towards smarter decisions in order to navigate away from Neptune problems. Neptune problems would be discomfort, loss, fear or succumbing to a weakened position – yet for some being in delusion in order to perpetuate the concept of freedom without dealing with how to truly obtain it. The T-Square in this chart is pointing to the Progressed U.S. Sun and Mercury – so the solution is to embrace the higher qualities of Sag, morality, ethics and raise the standard to our lives. Many Sagittarius visionary uplifting projecting onto our future ahead in order to work towards something great! While taking apart the details at hand which much get fixed now. (We're not including Mars in this configuration yet, as you can see, September 24 – Oct 9 period when Mercury is turning direct at September 24 and October 9 exactly peaking in the square specifically to the Sun. Mars won't line up with this configuration until October 27 – November 8, peaking on October 30 as it moves towards 25* Gemini and goes retrograde. (More Below)

(Progressed U.S. 1789 Chart and the Transit of Mercury retro turning direct with Transit of Neptune – all circled in RED) forming a t-square (above).

September 24 – October 9, peaks Oct 1, 2022)

October 1 and Oct 30. Mars (lower left below) as it enters the Grand Cross in the U.S. Progressed 1789 Chart, reaching a peak with the U.S. Progressed Mercury – and the Transiting Mercury turning station direct at 24* Virgo in this configuration on Oct 1/2, 2022 (See chart below)

Both charts, below and following, indicate times where the tension is increasing in regards to news, world leaders in a high tension confrontation and decision making time. Agreements, contracts, signed and sealed documents are possibly forced to be conducted, yet a loss of being in control and/ or very challenging situations are involved, where one or a few sides are definitely not happy with the decision which must be made. Personally, it simply increases tension with some area of our life, requiring us to go up higher and trust our intuitive and common sense nature as how to move forward.

(Yellow- wisdom, information, facts and data, knowledge) (chart above) – which is an initiation we’re all moving through, challenging us to use our Higher Mind, draw down inspiration and guidance while facing facts and clarity of reality in front of us. Just do the best you can. It’s suppose to navigate through some sort of inevitable situation in the highest visionary manner we can pull off! We’re all in this together!

Peaks for both Mars and Mercury’s strongest point to the Progressed Sun, and to each other... September 27 begins – October 1 – Oct 30 – November 9.

This configuration above, is an incredibly tight tension, forcing those who are in intellectually crucial positions in their lives, leadership roles or global positions of decision making on behalf of many, is incredibly challenging. Weighing all sides of of a situation, all facts and realities, known and unknown...but forced to act upon what one knows as truth. Loss or frustrations, disappointments and stressful issues are required to be faced, yet with logical course outlined, successful outcomes can be achieved. This intensifies the potential of disruption in all forms of internet, communications and staying connected or informed in the world, whether it is energy or internet, communications disruption or simply a sense of being kept in the dark over events played out during these time. A potential of deception attempts at every turn in the world. A tense time.

Peaks Sept 25 – 27, 2022 yet continues up through October 9. 2nd phase exactly on Oct 7 – 9.

This is a shift and inconvenience. Progressed Moon conjoins Natal Moon once every twenty seven years or so. So that is not extremely eventful. It's the line up with Transiting Mercury retro about to turn direct from September 27 – October 9 conjoining the Neptune and inconjunct both Moons right now, that's so interesting to me . It's simply one more aspect we're stacking on top of this planetary line up requiring us to keep ourselves pulled together and mentally adopt the most idealistic path to now walk on.

It also involved humanitarian and community adjustments and obligations leaders must to adjust. Decisions one can not avoid or get out of. Why is financial involved? The Moons rule Cancer, and we find Cancer on the 8th house of mutually invested joint resources, others money, financial deals globally with other allies or countries, financial arrangements which are making huge changes and adjustments. The Mercury is targeting Neptune – the planet of illusions, deception and invisible foreign activities exposed. Foreign as in countries, or foreign as in dealing with a foreign culture or 9th house consciousness the majority of Americans' can not conceive. Mercury is forcing Virgo details out into the open. The U.S. is going to wake up and Mercury and Mars are the triggers.

Facing the unknown, facing confusion, being kept in the dark, not knowing how to navigate through the escalation of mysterious events playing out in the world....Possibly some sort of loss of communication or loss of connection, loss of access to the normal ways we function – facing an uncomfortable situation. Trying to get our bearings as to what dichotomies are taking place with information given. Not all information given. Or information given which seems impossible.

A necessary adjustment could be enforced upon us during this time. It would be a major shift with how we conduct transactions, run our commerce or business, purchases, engage in communications, acquire information. A shift, transition period...on the one side, a big inconvenience – on the other side of the event, a shift towards coming up higher and advancing into a new method or operation which could circumvent the inconvenience. Personally, obligations to walk through a situation we might not be able to avoid. Sometimes inconjuncts from Mercury creates a disruption for the ones who are receiving the adjustment, or, it's an inconvenience and disruption experienced by the ones who are attempting to enforce the shift!
