

Stardrops December 4 2022

Welcome to December! Can you believe 2022 is almost gone? So much change, learning, discoveries and tests of the spirit in one short span of time, surely there must be a grand purpose in this quantum race to the Sun.

Let's begin with our quick daily updates and finish with the conclusion of the biggest event happening in the century.

Dec 2 - 6 2022

Venus 22° Sagittarius square Neptune 22° Pisces

Sun inconjunct Hades at 12° Cancer

High focus of this cycle will be our belief conditioning as in our personal filters as to how we believe or know the world, our world, and what we believe or have been conditioned to think in a particular way. This will be seen personally and impact global social opinions with certain beliefs magnified under Sagittarius. It began to build last Dec 1, 2 and continues to escalate through the 2 - 56th. It presents contrast of information. but as usual, because of the square to Neptune many deceptions and misconstrued concepts will be confronted and dismantled. Prior to the past few days, issues which may not have been clear or understood before but now emerge. Typically, planets in square to Neptune demand facing something which has not been clear or known. Many times, the subject we're facing is not pleasant, so this time period brings it to light. It only lasts a few days, however, in light of the Mars retro in Gemini which intensifies all forms of learning, communications, social and revealing facts, this one small astrology cycle is definitely going to be one more trigger for a network sharing of facts and getting down to the truth. Remember, this is personally for you and you can witness it globally in big events taking place.

Beginning as early as mid last week, leading up to December 2nd - 6th, we are working towards a new conviction, some new clarity we must face, to challenge and address, as certain unpleasant things come to view. It is important to grasp something which normally with Neptune either doesn't want to be addressed, or we don't even know where to begin in order to get square with this information.

This weekend into Monday, we could feel emotionally overwhelmed and be up and then a bit down, yet the Venus/Mercury has the power within us to increase the vision, guidance and inner confidence to handle what is now in your lap and begin the process of resolving it.

This exposure we discover from Venus/Mercury could outpicture personally yet mostly globally. It requires creative effort to shift our focus from the negative to the optimistic and hopeful. Venus' energy can impact us with our moods/emotions first then as Mercury begins to square Neptune, the energy moves into our mental where we begin examining facts, research or have conversations to gain greater information.

Dec 5-7 Mercury 29* Sagittarius square Neptune and Jupiter 2 and 6th at 22 - 29* Pisces
These three days find us inspired to acquire knowledge in order to be well informed with a certain subject or issue at hand.

Where the previous cycle was more social/emotional based, moods etc..this cycle is emphasizes our need to intellectually analyze information - it is all about opening our minds and seeing a bigger picture. Taking in the information will give us the confidence we need to move forward with better plans. It will increase our vision and inspire us to embrace a higher way versus where we came from especially with the past Mars in Gemini square Neptune period (Sept 27 throughout November 21) of challenges. That past square had us driven into action to dismantle confusion, undermining and messes, personal and global.

Mercury semi-sextile Pluto at 26* Capricorn will be a few days of concentration and research, connecting the dots and putting much focus upon the details and exactness in order to have the precise outcome one desires.

Dec 6/8 Mercury enters Capricorn By the time we've entered the 7th of December, our minds are now engaged in more of a practical strategy, devoid of emotional idealism interference. Blueprints, strategies and incorporating a methodical plan will be in play for the next few weeks starting this week. You should see this in your own affairs and also progress made in certain areas in the world, regarding discussion and plans which have deeper more permanent progress.

Dec 6-8 While we're all in a sober space going through a checklist of necessary things to include in our game plan for the next few weeks or months ahead, the transit of the Sun at 15* Sagittarius inconjunct Uranus at 15* Taurus and Sun 16* Sagittarius oppose Mars at 16* Gemini retrograde is challenging us to new, sometimes controversial and opposing perspectives. We're shifting and adjusting how we see things.

Use this period to gather information and sit with it before a decision is made. Some challenging issue goes against our own intuitive course of action. It's difficult to get a read on these days from the 4th to the 9th as I always want to discover a positive course of action for any strange cycles. But this cycle we're in has to do with research and expanding our thinking. It's a powerful time to be taking in truth, new information and allowing it to do it's perfect job eventually inspiring us to move forward with not only the best course of action, but an emotionally intuitively Knowing, this is the way to go.

I reflect back to last week's Stardrops, to use this time to walk gently and quietly through the weeks ahead as we observe events unfold and process, then later, utilize the new Capricorn Venus, Mercury period for strategy but not necessarily making any final conclusions or decisions. We seem to be adjusting to new information we'll need to put this info into action at a later date.

On the one hand personally and/or globally powerful insights and information could expand one's understanding of pertinent issues yet this period is simply a starting point, trusting that a larger presence for our guidance and clarity will be soon follow during the end of December going into January. Mars reaching a crescendo as it begins to turn direct leaving retrograde in Gemini on January 1 - 12th will be inspiring us to stronger action and we're entering another Mercury retro in Capricorn December 29. This Mercury will also contribute to the mental clarity with not only pragmatic info, but strong intuitive path revealed. We should feel this clarity beginning around December 20th Both of these cycles increase that sharp insight as to a new approach, action required and decisiveness coming. Just in time for the New Year!

Dec 9 Mars at 15 * Gemini retro semi-sextile Uranus at 15* Taurus with Venus at 29* Sagittarius square Jupiter 29* Pisces

Be on the cautious side with relationship decisions, expenses or planning events. Hints of financial changes, questions and some speculation regarding digital resets versus other pathways for greater security will come out. Our money and what we do with it, our purchases or any other financial expectations we could have, is opening up for discussion, research and positive alternatives. There are great opinions (Jupiter) and high optimism, yet not exactly the most reliable day for final decisions financially and socially, things just don't work out the way you wanted. A good idea to is to remain a bit low key today, nothing too dramatic and as we said before, watch and learn.

Dec 10 Venus enters Capricorn Welcome to twenty two days of greater reliability with our judgment. It's very much a time of increase of self discipline. and motivation for our money, social events, relationship decisions and personal planning. There's a goal in your mind and you're determined to make the emotional sacrifices now to achieve your vision. Whether it is financial, purchasing, health and diet, fitness, work and professional ambition, love, you have a much better chance to achieve this end goal or at least feel positive about the journey now Venus and Mercury are both in Capricorn. This cycle will continue up to January 2, 2023

Dec 12 Sun at 20* Sagittarius sextile Saturn at 20* Aquarius

Finally, you can see the light and a definite plan is beginning to formulate, a bit of, clarity and empowerment where we can wrap our minds around something which feels clear and logical. This cycle resonates with who we are and what feels right for us. Use the 10th - 13th, especially the 12th for taking another step towards increasing your own power to where you desire to go with your future plans.

Dec `13-14* Mercury at 11* Capricorn trine Node at 11* Taurus and Sun at 22* Sagittarius square Neptune at 22* Pisces

A useful day to get your life in order. A great day to feel creative and express your inner heart's inclinations and if you so feel inclined to share it with others. It's the power of the Sun which is our source of creativity and desire to shine connecting with the Node bringing harmonious relationships, receptive hearts open to working with you or embracing what you want to get across or present to others. At the same time, the square to Neptune could indicate a confusion which needs to either be exposed or sorted out now. People you're connecting with should be receptive as you present your ideas.

Pluto Return in the U.S. Conceptional 1776 chart, the last peak since February 21, 2022. We are now in the last six weeks of that infamous Pluto cycle. The first and last six weeks of a Pluto transit truly increases the drama unfolding of a specific event which always changes our lives in some epic way.

December 28 2022 is the final date of this Pluto transit we've been witnessing all 2022. The start of the countdown of the final cycle would have been on November 20th 2022. Each week that goes by leads up to a major dramatic crescendo, yet week by week the drama continues to build until we witness an increase of global epic situations in several areas of the world which should be pretty eventful.

As we've been examining this Pluto conjoin the U.S. Pluto in Starfires Articles now for twenty years, we've been watching it build leading up to 2022. (Officially began to peak exact February 21 2022 through December 28, 2822, not experienced since 1776). A quick reminder to put it bluntly, whether you relate to this or not, I have always seen this Pluto as a second MASSIVE revolution towards humanity's liberation - a revolutionary drive to overthrow inhumane treatment, limitations placed upon our divine potential. This cycle is only the beginning of many many years of awakening towards that accomplishment. I see our earthly existence consisting of many layers of frequencies rising and stacked upwards and downwards, as if each frequency was a plane of life people find themselves upon. More and more of humanity are rising up the levels of these planes intuitively evolving to reach some of the higher planes of happiness where the Etheric Planes begin. These higher planes is where we can go out of our bodies at night to travel to classrooms and retreats of very divine beings to learn and assimilate profound teachings, then return to our bodies, awaken and in small doses, begin to have more confidence in conducting our thinking in new better ways. This is happening everywhere in large numbers of the population.

How can one planet (Pluto) trigger such immense revolutionary and permanent transformational change? It must be the theory that each planet holds its own Akashic Records accumulated for millions, billions of years, and just like a stargate the correct formula, sign and aspects locks in and a particular purpose held within that Planets' magnetic powers starts to release upon the earth.

The incredible changes and awakening happening during this time is about challenging the abuses of power and mistreatment of humans in every area we can imagine assuming ownership over humans, their bodies, assets, time and economics etc.. and all degrees of oppression from mild to the extreme. Even though it is happening in the U.S. Astrology, my predictions as early as 2000, was this time it was to be a universal global revolution for all people everywhere, an awakening towards overthrowing oppression, motivating each person's divinity and individuality, their right to experience supreme sovereign creative self expression to thrive and be able to evolve in every capacity.

It would be based upon original seed blueprint which takes us back to when earth experienced Golden Ages past. The corruptions which occurred from invasive interference on earth has attempted to ruin this spark of the individual potential uniting with that Divine Happiness, and in every single area of global oppression, this 2022 would be the pinnacle of explosive events towards overthrowing earth's saboteurs to allow the ultimate potential of a human being to unfold.

As we move from week to week leading up to December 26th, we'll see questioning of abuses of power reach that pinnacle moment of change, and rapid unraveling of oppressive control begin which has been entrenched for so long.

Once we're past the 26th point, a new power to encourage and animate higher values from this moment forward will be unstoppable for many years, as we now move forward into that Aquarian Age of Humanity's potential period. To capture this big event requires tuning into creative news outlets on the internet in order to track in real time, what's really going on throughout the world. It's incredible. You won't find this on normal cable news channels.

This is an incredibly exciting time even though it has and will feel like a long and hard times...and just like the last time Pluto was at this degree of 27* Capricorn, an escalation of oppression was also building up more noticeably several years and months before and after 1776 to shut it down. Look at this period as one more golden layer laid upon the last, at a higher more profound level as we are moving into the Aquarian Age. Previous times, for the past two thousand years have been in the idealistic sign of Pisces where there were still deceptions at play as the last revolution and blueprints were being laid for freedom.

Aquarius brings such a sharp intelligence, every detail is considered, noted and demands transformation, transparency, an upgrade, progressive change and cooperation. This age brings global humanity synchronicity and accountability objectivity into every corner versus in the past, a small group making the Pisces sacrifices required to evoke the big changes which occurred. Now 'we're all in this together, and again, it's the entire World. Aquarius is intelligent, the alchemy of humanity. It's ruled by the unpredictable radical Uranus, and previous sub-ruler Saturn, which expects full accountability. What an incredible time to be alive!

Thanks for supporting Starfires and hanging in there throughout another year of exciting unbelievable change, awakening and growth for us all. I'm sure each one of you have a story of self transcendence and transformation. I love reading your stories as we are like a million cells in one gigantic body of light moving towards the Sun of Infinite Perfection.
