

STARDROPS DECEMBER 11, 2022

Dec 10-12th Sun in Sagittarius sextile Saturn in Aquarius

The Sun's radiance in Sagittarius blends with Saturn's need for practical steps in the days ahead. This cycle helps bring to us harmonious support, collaboration and connections which lead to very productive outcomes. The focus would be upon truth and innovative exploration of ideas mixed with visionary optimism for the future. Planning is good on these dates.

Dec 14 Sun in Sagittarius at 22* square Neptune at 22* Pisces

The positive energy experienced from the 10th - 12th migrates into the 14th where certain issues pop up to be addressed. Simply straighten out others' opinions, attitudes and get things back on track for the rest of the week to go well.

Dec 15 Mercury at 12* -13 Capricorn oppose Hades at 12* Cancer trine Node at 12* Taurus and inconjunct Mars at 13* Gemini

A weird day. Watch for people unknowingly challenging your harmony and good spirits. Typically this will be just a random energy not necessarily hitting everyone, but here and there causing some communication problems.

Dec 17 Mercury at 15° Capricorn trine Uranus at 15° Taurus

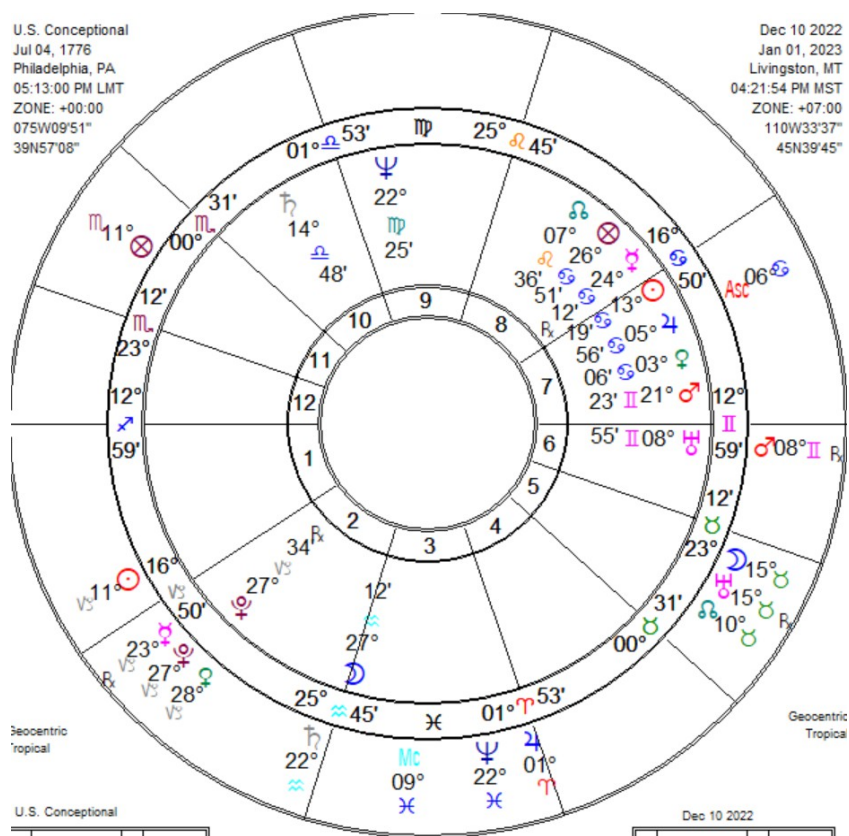

Our minds are turning towards the most grounded plans, common sense course of action now.

Capricorn brings a constructive routine, game plan in order to have a structure to follow. Everyday routines and responsible approach to what's on our plate is easy when Mercury begins moving through Capricorn and ends up in a retrograde on December 29, 2022. During this period it will be trine the innovative brilliant Uranus enhancing our routine and new blueprint plans with a vibrant desire to build something new and successful in our lives. We desire change and thanks to several accelerating planets we'll go into below, we're gaining the insight to bring about this change in a big way.

The world is going through another layer of revolutionary awakening again with Mercury stationary trine Uranus especially from Dec 17 - January 9, 2023. Breakthroughs in all Mercurian activities, news, information, facts and transparency discussions, debates, exchange of information are increasing. This is the dominant theme. Mercury in Capricorn has the power to influence, elevating conversations to a higher level. It will be objective and rising above the old judgmental polarization reaching an integrity position for the sake of accelerating humanity into freedom and liberation for the support of people's ultimate advancement.

January 1 - 23 2023 Transiting Mars stationary direct at 8° Gemini conjoin the U.S. Conceptional Chart 1776 Uranus at 8° Gemini in the 6th house.

U.S. Conceptional Chart 1776 - With Transits On Outer Wheel

This cycle caught my attention as a possible additional event taking place on top of the Mercury retro trine Uranus an intellectually revolutionary transparency for change because of new information. Will the Mars/Uranus action initiating something shocking? Game changing? It might be physical such as power grid issues or internet disruption. If so, then why is the military involved, since the 6th house is a national military house? It doesn't appear to be natural organic as Mars mostly deals with some form of an attack. Could it also be a new awareness occurring globally because of Epic disruption and action taken which creates a dramatic shift in our present timeline of our society. What is this thing that could erupt during the first wee of January 2023?

This energy could suddenly alter our path as a global community to a completely unique and higher offshoot of our previous path. Another branch?

A new timeline pathway is jetting off into a higher unpredictable direction. The Mars/Uranus is occurring in the U.S. 6th house. Meaning following... These are the following categories which could be highlighted during this cycle. All activities inciting intensely scrutinizing certain areas of social welfare.

Focus could be upon health care, health statistics, immunology, revelations and transparency within all areas of the health industry.....military, space, technology and networking of information, all activities involving the exposure, the revealing of information about health, military, employment, statistics, factions, groups and clicks, clubs and societies, key pieces of information released, agreements and contracts, commitments between parties which are suddenly exposed.

I feel this cycle is huge...the Mars/Uranus. It is occurring in the 6th house of the U.S. chart. Uranus also pulls in the 3rd house of information and news into the description as Uranus rules this house.

Mars rules the 4th Aries ruled house of security, land, territory, safety -and also the 11th house Scorpio bringing into play issues pertaining to the unconventional, radical, unthinkable... topics involvement the future, humanity's security and destiny - truth about society - which is also what Uranus represents.

Just the action of Mars conjoin Uranus for such a long time period is explosive energy spilling onto the world scene. I feel it has to do with big names and documentation of their true nature and agendas. It won't be heresay or speculative, but the truth as Uranus and Aquarius rules the truth and transparency. This is happening so people can make better decisions for the future. It should be important enough for it to be wildly discussed, no one can ignore these pieces of information. It might be starting already, but because we are not in the peak yet of this Mars conjoin Uranus, there is much more to come.

And we can not forget, as of August 21 2022 through March 25, 2023, remember? we are all witnessing an explosion of information, higher truth, knowledge, facts, documents and media exposure, huge changes in media, companies and other information sources. It's an intense period of saturating the world with so much information on every subject, one can hardly keep up, but it's all there.

We'll have to watch the build up of energy on this one along with the Mercury trine Uranus from December 17 - January 9, 2023 also involving news breaking out into the public. Nothing can be hidden with Uranus involved.

Jupiter's shift back into Aries on December 20, 2023.

From last May 2022 through October 26th 2022 we enjoyed Jupiter empowering us while in the assertive initiating action sign Aries. Much was accomplished thanks to this Jupiter in Aries.

When it combined its energies with the Mars in Gemini in late August, they created a wonderful synthesis. As the two sextiled each other Mars in Gemini enhanced our ability to think more clearly, digesting information, wisdom and bringing a clarity of mind. We wanted to cut through and act on facts, moving our lives forward with greater confidence with our decisions. In addition to an increase of mind power came a heightened guidance from divine sources, an increase of inner knowing, intuitive trust. Jupiter in Aries also contributed to initiating new cycles in our lives. Jupiter has an archangelic protection about it, infusing us with a sense of trust in whatever process we feel we must go through.

Combined with this energy of Jupiter in Aries, from May through October and returning again this December 20 - March 25, we can enjoy another round of inspired empowerment and productive logical action inspiring us for our benefit.

This is an excellent time to lay out your New Year's strategy, your personal tuned in goals. This energy from these two planets provide an inner knowing and confidence leaning towards optimism, a faith and innocent trust in a plan, whether it be personal, business, improvement on things which could normally be seen as either impossible or just too overwhelming. This cycle causes us to first plan the end goal we desire to achieve then simply get up every day and work that plan without overthinking everything.

This cycle is perfect for wrapping up 2022's last three months of peculiar muddled sidetracking and interference. That challenging period between end of September through November 21 when Mars squared Neptune was as if we were all required to take a detour for a few months and catch up on something unfinished and Jupiter moved back into Pisces. Truly we have navigated through some rough and peculiar waters over the past two and a half months. Now we re-enter the Jupiter in Aries, Mercury retro in Capricorn trine Uranus, Mars sextile Jupiter with greater clarity and knowledge much needed in order to plan out the next cycle of Victory.
