STARDROPS August 3 2023

Welcome to a special update on Pluto and the Nodes. I'm targeting this one cycle because of all the planetary cycles we've been in, this one seems to be an intrusive energy on many people's emotions, attitudes, moods and outlook in life. This is the one I've been watching since May. We can run our lives successfully while going through this Pluto cycle, but it's not fun sometimes. It can feel like your whole being isn't into it.

It's an energetic attack upon our sense of well being and happiness, and globally the step up of certain systems to control themes, narratives, information to the people in order to regain control how people see what's going on in the world. It could be coming from Tech, Projections, certain people who have immense power and huge mental and emotional energies and we might be picking up their negative thoughts, panic and sense of urgency. This Pluto square Nodes is showing a conflict with Pluto power versus Nodal society, humanity..a step up of a large percentage of the population awakening to several new explosive themes of information, as to what has really been happening in the world. On the other end, an increase of aggressive projections to maintain control before this truth and awareness takes over. It's a crazy energy. I feel we're all caught in the middle of this tension. So many new explosive pieces of information are being poured out into people's awareness.

Many people have commented to me they are feeling exceptionally anxious, down, scattered, listless, apathetic, depressed, uninspired, non productive or just simply uninterested in anything for the past few months, especially July 15 – Aug 3 (today).....I was reminded it might just be these Nodes squared by Pluto. We could blame it on any one thing we're dealing with personally at this time, but what if it isn't about you and your circumstances? What if it's coming from out there?

I'm sending this out with an affirmation, to counteract any sort of mass manipulative projecting onto our society with negative energies along with a heads up we might all be actually tuning into something which is building up and about to erupt in the world.

I wonder if this cycle is simply an indication, a symbolic moment in the sky we're all about to deal with something universally challenging. I copied four excerpts from past Stardrops articles about these Nodes and Pluto at the 2nd Section of this post.

My sense why some of us are experiencing disturbing moods and energies is:

1. We're sensitive souls and are picking up something big is coming, what? I'm not sure.
2. The Planet Pluto's energy alone, is electromagnetically creating a challenging period of time, from end of May up through August, peaking August 3.
3. Literal psychic projections combined with High Tech weaponized (for what reason I'm not sure) could be negatively influencing our energies, bodies, brains and emotions, cutting off many of our natural inspirations and motivation at this time, creating a sort of dull, anxious down feeling.
4. We're absorbing a very intense panic by a certain group of individuals whose agenda is not working any longer and we sense their panic and their decision to take it up to the next level,it's a negative energy, and from what we know about their potential of increasing chaos on the planet, possibly we are aware at some level, this psychic/spiritual warfare has just stepped up to that undesirable next dangerous level.
5. Possibly it's all the above. These are some ideas I have as to why many are experiencing stress. Whatever this is, I personally desire to regain balance and well being. Anyway, thanks for tuning in as always! Christine

Section One

July 20 – August 15, peaking August 3 Pluto square Nodes 28* Aries/Libra

This is an interference with people's natural state to feel comfortable and secure, somewhat in control of their life.

The ways by which this Pluto could interfere and disrupt a sense of well being have been discussed with several of my friends. We're trying to track the disturbing energy...is it a technology which is projecting this deadened negating energy we're picking up? Is it just the planet Pluto's lower energies creating a huge damper on sensitive people's psyches?

The likelihood we're all tuning into something strange and potentially globally sabotaging at this time from mid July up through August 15, especially peaking July 31 – August 10, exact August 1,2,3...is also to be considered

We talked about this Pluto problem beginning to be revealed last May, and we projected a possible roll out of some disruptive agenda of control or potentially sabotaging activities in August. Mainly coming to a peak August 3, 4, 5.

Possibly this Pluto square the Nodes could be simply an astrology cycle which is mirroring what is really happening in some activity attempting to manipulate to prevent truth and acceleration from happening to the people.

. Pluto negates and tries to block something – the North Node in Aries deals with people's need to take action in their lives in constructive ways to regain control and confidence back into their lives.

When Pluto interferes, something comes along to try to stop that positive action from taking place. That is where we're at today. Something is attempting to block us, prevent progress personally, humanity, globally.

So many issues could represent this interference. Back in May we were thinking it was mainly the economic reset announced as a go, then I felt it was targeting August to be launched. I also said, it would fail.

Now we're watching a manipulative display of UFO and advanced technology, secret space underworld government, threats from outer space and inner dimensional beings discussed in Congress....Why now? Why is this happening during Pluto square Nodes?

Pluto governs over underground, underworld, hell, trafficking, UFOs, manipulations and destruction, These are typical negative energies of the Planet Pluto. Did I see a new report they uncovered underground baby farms in Ukraine just yesterday? It was on a mainstream news channel. Why is all of it coming out in full force now? Something has triggered this explosion of extreme controversial information.

Several other highly charged events continue to emerge peaking last week from July 25 – up through August 5....and on.

Typically, as with many Pluto cycles, it's just the beginning. Whatever controversial issues started these past few weeks, is just the beginning.

Whatever these challenges are we can flip this experience to be a reverse action. The arrogance and manipulations to have plutonian control over society and control over the information and how it is to be perceived, can be actually exposed, exposed and negated as Pluto can be used to block the negative agendas rather than humanity being tricked.

Do you see? What this astrology cycle is showing us, is there is a potential launching of some extreme control over people to curtail their lives via economic, the UFO narrative, politically, social control, mandates and global statements of policing information... trends or attempts to control people's thinking..In a very intense stepped up way over very hot specific subjects...but when the people begin challenging and questioning the motives behind the suspicious narrative, the more negative manipulative agenda then backfires. We can harness the energy of Pluto to block its attempt to do harm. Pluto then shuts down the very source of negative controlling.

Personally – this energy of Pluto square is why many are feeling stuck, frozen, apathetic and wondering what this “negative mood” they are experiencing is about...we grasp at the possible origin of this difficult energy, an almost non productive energy, and this is why I am suspicious there is something tech merged with psychic thought projection possibly being projected out onto the population in order to control and dumb down or depress society. As I write this, it sounds crazy – however, I know there is verification certain departments have this technology and psychic capabilities to influence masses as all this newly exposed information has erupted just in the past few weeks on the world scene. Whatever it is, it needs to be reversed and dissolved.

AFFIRMATION

“I Am One with Divine Intercession of the Great Archangels, the Power of Love, to enter into the cause and cores of all destructive manipulative agendas which move against the natural existence and creative progress in the world of beautiful souls. I call to the great I AM Divine Presence of Universal Perfection and all precious beings of light in service to God to replace all darkness with pure light, progress and advancement towards freedom. All negative planetary energies, the Moon, Saturn, Pluto’s potential disruptive influence upon our planet, is now dissolved forever and replaced with pure divine love and freedom now. “

SECTION TWO

Driven To Perfect and Invest Oneself – starfires.com

The Nodes moving into Aries/Libra

On July 18th 2023 the Nodes move into Aries/Libra and shift the social trend towards increased idealism, possible retaliation and aggression. The nodes might take the injustice themes,, the idea of taking back control at any cost.

Because these nodes are square to transiting Pluto at the same time (July 18 to at least August 18th, 2023, a sharp clash between the idealist social trends demanding change and regaining control and abusive Pluto control factors could begin dangerously.

The nodes represent financial economic trends also, what we value, up to July 18th. Because the Nodes have been in Taurus/Scorpio (financial, economy, medical, death, sex, trafficking, manipulations, having and surrendering things, acquiring versus giving up and sacrificing) and it comes to a head in July trine the Mars in Virgo, we're looking at a moment in time where all these Taurus/Scorpio issues pop out into the open and a new fiery movement takes over to confront the injustices. The public's minds have now verification behind corruption and has popped, in a good way.

Soon after July 18th, because the Nodes will then move into Aries, things could take a more aggressive turn. On all sides. A forced retaliation upon the injustices and a backlash of violent or manipulative operation upon Node social circles or trends could escalate.

Many people will take the impulsive and bold nature of North Node in Aries and begin coming out on several controversial subjects up through January 12th 2025)

It's a time of idealistic fighting for causes, assertive and confrontational bold energy, fearless and willing to take any action necessary in order to challenge yet not without consequences. How will these Nodes in Aries/Libra impact your average person? From July 18 up to January 2025 it will inspire greater bold yet simple approaches to our every day issues, our tasks, relationships, the way we look at our lives. It will inspire us to think in ways which create more control over our days and weeks. Aries is about self expression, identity and having a feeling of control over situations. It could be much more simplistic and black and white perspective such as..."I'm either in or out, invested or not, care or not care, committed or leave " There isn't any gray field. It will be energizing and moving forward with plans with much more assertiveness. It can instigate confronting unfinished business. It should be more self motivating.

The downside could be its simplistic one track agenda and possibly not considering a higher wisdom but concerned only with a specific outcome reached no matter what.

The Refreshing Step Taken – starfires.com
July 20-26 2023 Grand Cross with Pluto, Sun and Nodes
(continuing through August 2023)

There are the numerous ways this could play out in people's individual lives. It means for us personally, we're very clear what we want things to be like but Pluto is a tangible and energetic negative looming in the background, appearing to block us from taking action on the vision we must realize.

It might be a hurdle we must jump over, something external, or even something in our nature. One solution is to replace our weaknesses with the invincible belief we can override any of these obstacles.

This is a great time to nail it.. Whether its energetic, outside of ourselves or our own attitudes, we can do this!

This could be subconscious beliefs or as deep as our Dweller on the Threshold, which is that conglomerate negative stuff interfacing with us. It tries to negate, deny and stop us from progressing. We can dismantle it by a determination to marry a higher road but many times, we need a personal dramatic shift or conversion in our way of looking at ourselves and our life.

Pluto in a hard astrological aspect (angle) will always trigger that substance of the Dweller we need to overcome. We can easily overcome it. It takes visualization, focus, affirmations and determination every day to find a way no matter what, to reach certain goals. People in our life can help us stay on track with these aspirations.

I feel this is the number one theme July/August we could be privately working on within ourselves, self limitation and that mysterious energy which attempts to delay, negate or diminish our progress.

Again, this is a great time to re-align ourselves to re-start and launch something good for ourselves. This is the positive of Aries' Node nature. Not just that this Aries node is a great time to launch new self initiative, it's a great time to discover there's actual energetic obstacles that keep trying to block and sabotage us from initiating these new positive inspirations. It's a great cycle to identify them and try to find the root of them, where did they come from? Is it external? It might be. Is it internal ...very well could be. Look at this cycle as challenging and dismantling yet another layer of this ridiculously annoying and sabotaging energy.

AFFIRMATION

I AM Initiating a probe into my entire world to help reveal to me the potentially sabotaging energies to my personal advancement in this life and the release of the direct solutions laid out to me easily to replace them with my True Divine Magnificent Self Now."

Globally, we could notice an increase of confrontational controversial positions people are taking against something which has been attempting to undermine and control also It will be the coming out with knowledge leading people to take a hard stand on either side of these issues emerging right now.

This can lead to strong initiatives launched to push a narrative. Without that Divine standard of integrity guiding groups and individual's platforms, the efforts would be simply human perspectives and that's never going to lead to higher progress. We all know at some level, there is a higher ideal blueprint that surrounds everything and everyone. Countries, organizations, people, businesses. This divine ideal standard which was actually realized in many Golden Age civilizations in the past, where the majority of the people agreed a higher loving standard was the most self preserving path to live in.

Information and events exposure is going to get even more confrontational and aggressive with the push of each agenda in the next few months.

The South Node in Libra means we've tried diplomacy, kindness, believing in negotiations, conversation and seeing both sides' position, and now Aries the warrior has the lead in this situation of conflicting global visions for the world. For groups and social communities, spiritual higher minded gatherings, drawing down the divine blueprint potentials of each challenging activity, organization or business, political matrix etc.. Could be the key, the important focus of this cycle..

You can do it with anything...by drawing down the highest potential/outcome for Any one particular activity and allowing that divine Blueprint to be the dominant visualization can bring these activities to a higher functioning level. A Divine Being who has perfect wisdom for the Blueprint of each thing, each person, each situation, is the Master R, the Great Divine Director Along with our highest self. In Indian world of hierarchy it is Ganesh. By calling for the highest outcome possible and vision of a perfect Matrix for each situation we take an advance step forward of empowered Alchemy replacing frustration and powerlessness with being co-creators with the Universes highest beauty in this physical world. By replacing the negatives and interference with those who desire to have their own human manipulations on a lot of these outer world activities with the divine ultimate blueprint , holding that vision in place could literally transform one by one our world. Wouldn't it be amazing to have access to information and insight of a divine blueprint for each particular activity! This is all fitting for a North Node in Aries cycle.

Many Changes Are Coming – starfires.com

June 6 – 9 Venus square Nodes it forms a cross with Pluto. Began May 2023

Something is attempting to infiltrate socially our economic/social world, and as we reflected on this in a larger way last week with Pluto square the Jupiter North Node in Taurus conjunction two themes emerge:

1. Because of Pluto, (Pluto square Jupiter/Node for past week into June) it appears to be a global system which attempts to sneak up and around the people's awareness, in order to infiltrate and control, pulling everyone into one large community via their money,also because of Pluto involved, it's so complicated for those who desire to release this new system globally, it's impossible to successfully orchestrate every single piece of it, including worst case scenarios in our economy. What I see instead are islands of independent solutions emerging in nations, communities counteracting this power grab of Pluto.
2. Remember, all our thoughts, actions and positive energies are bringing a new reality into our physical material world around us to live in. Even though the statistics parade before our eyes as to how dire everything is another positive solution and reality is manifesting in spite of the looming economic disaster. How is this happening?

Careful Planning For Your New Vision – starfires.com

May 23 – June 1, peaking exact on May 27, 28, 29. Jupiter in Taurus conjoin Node in Taurus.

If you have been experiencing an increase of focus on your work/financial potential and expanding this area to fulfill either your money goals, budgeting, or how your new vision of your career could offer you greater alignment with your inner satisfaction or life purpose, it might be because of this one cycle.

If you don't work, it would apply to your social life, your creative side and outlook on your life. How can you experience greater fulfillment in life, connect with the people we care about the most in a more solid and valuable way, and increase the value and richness of our skills, resources, our possessions? What we do have to work with and what we desire to acquire for ourselves. It could be materials, possessions, building and re-construction ...it might be a job, career, educational skill enhancement – or just basically sticking up for what you know is right for you and holding on to that vision of your values now, living your truth as much as you can in your interactions with others.

Globally, we spoke about this cycle last week under Jupiter conjoin Node square Pluto in Aquarius. It's 2 degrees separate, yet still applies. This is around June 1 – 6 an attempt to launch a global digital currency re-set, but it is also the determination to own (Taurus) people, socially, social structures, build a new society. Because its square to Pluto it will partially fail hard. That's my sense of it. This is because Jupiter conjoin Node is expansion of a social desire to own one's life and all they possess in general. It is the highest expression of this cycle, and it signifies a launch for years ahead with this new mindset...Jupiter deals with philosophy of life, attitudes, beliefs of what is right and the highest way. Because it is in Taurus, it deals with personal values, desires but mainly ownership of one's life, self, things, money and banking and worth.

The square to Pluto would mean, even in spite of ones' confusion or ideological viewpoints influenced by the mainstream projections, the universal highest good for humanity, especially a specific percentage of the population, will be governed by the Highest Will and the cultural positive outpicturng of Jupiter in Taurus, which is about all these wonderful basic things we're taking about here. Expansion in the desire to own one's life and be true to one's inner values . So, we'll have to see if this trend is actualized in some way for the next months ahead.

Thank You for your support and work of just being here and holding this enormous balance for our world transitioning to truth. Christine
