

Stardrops October 1 2023

As we enter October, a new theme emerges...

Four planetary energies, the Sun, South Node, Mars and the next Solar Eclipse on Oct 14 in Libra, and five if you add Mercury moving into Libra on October 5, motivate us for more gentler days, we want more love in our life. Contemplation on what that would look like for you and how to create it. Before we get into the challenges to this ideal vision, and there are some, let's explore what Libra can do for us.

By the way, we have everything it takes in order to bring down into our hands, the desired outcome we seek, and there are forces indirectly (and one possibly direct this month) which we must navigate around, jump hurdles, dodge some bullets. But, we can gain much at the end of this month if we keep moving forward and don't give up.

How Libra energies might show up for you

- Focusing more upon Music and Sound, Atmosphere, beauty, art, graphics, design, symmetry and spacial refinement.

- Relationship building and nurturing, reaching out, spending beautiful time with special people.
- Involved in collaborations, partnering, give and take, mutual goals.
- Focusing intently upon a particular end goal financially
- Building a larger and more meaningful network of alliances, counseling, consulting
- Receiving nurturing council from a clear visioned person.
- Legal issues out of balance desiring ultimate fairness, challenges you desire changed and the road map to change them.
- Concentration on financial expansion and prudence at the same time every time we go on vacation we try to think of things to do that'll be really fun for us to do as a family at the same time

Because of the Mars conjoin South Node, and the next Solar Eclipse (New Moon in Libra) on Oct 14, we could be reminded of things from the past which we treasured, and desire to bring them back into our life, to re-experience these things in a new way.

The old will never be re-created exactly how it felt, however, Pluto square these Libra energies...the task of capturing the essence of extremely precious and treasured moments, experiences and even physical things once again, yet re-creating them for your NOW AND FUTURE higher self, would be the task at hand.

Can you think of any thing recently, you've been longing for and desire deeply to bring that back into your life again?

Take those moments, that snapshot, and create within it a newness of how this might look for you in your present and future situations.

Our Relationships, old feelings, way of life with our core values resurface. Because Mars and the South Node are in Libra, and Venus rules Libra, we'll be concentrating also upon where Venus is now. Venus is in Leo up to October 8.

Of course, Libra has much to do with love and connecting, relaxation, ease and partnering, but also any thing we value, which brings joy and satisfaction in some form. It's not the same as Leo's need for pleasure yet there is an element of that in there but with more need for relationship.

We've been discussing Venus in Leo quite a lot in these past four months and its emphasis upon regaining self respect, courage and confidence, designing your Vision Boards, and visualizing how you just know your life should look like!

Venus ruling the South Node, Mars, Sun and Solar Eclipse brings a desire to capture the best beautiful things we loved about our life, and bring that into our present, or at least preserve them, as I said. Mars in Libra conjoin Node is mainly Oct 3 - 11 along with the Venus in Leo making a Finger of God,

October 3-7, expect a re-valuing of your most important things A real push from within to get those goals realized.

Pluto in Capricorn lining up in a square to all this Libra, could demand our ultimate patience, up to the 14th and creates some delays and fuzzy interference that seems to be for no reason, delaying projects possibly creating some friction with other people in our lives, especially over conflicting values or finances.

Globally challenges in the world with non-negotiations, harsh brutal positions, indulgent delusional postures taken and a re-examining of several legal and/or political actions from the past, revisiting these actions.....It could represent a freeze or blocked up energy between those Places of power . A Stalemate.

For the rest of us sometimes Pluto in a square, will try to diffuse, create more problems. Did as interference to overcome rather than assign to give up on the Libra we want to integrate into our lives.....

- ★ Justice
- ★ Balance and fairness
- ★ Seeing both sides of a story
- ★ Love Cooperation and alliances
- ★ Beauty and Music Wealth and Financial ease.

The Leo Venus during these past four months was to ignite a belief within us, of realizing something great and believe we can achieve it.

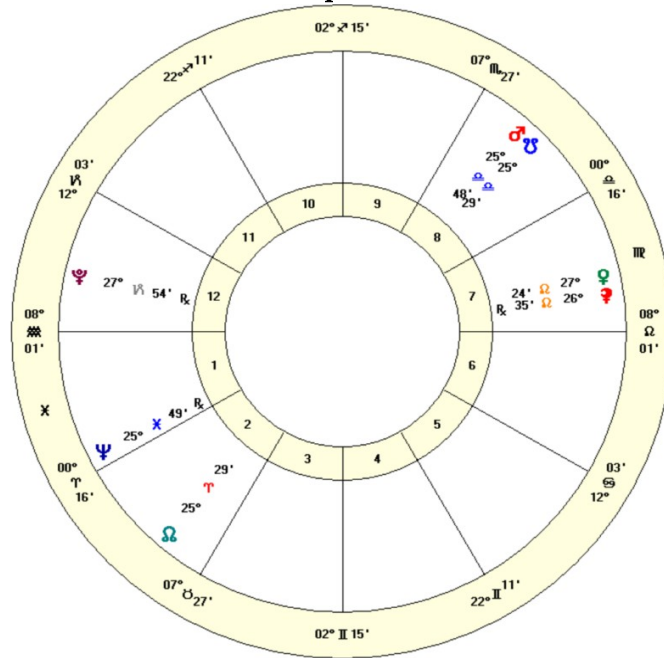

The challenges we have been involved in globally, as poly crisis events onto humanity massively distract us from going after something we Divinely deserve.

Multiple catastrophic events, not even with a week or so reprieve, but one after another, sometimes in the same day, jars the senses.

Pluto's dark side - a darker nature of Pluto in Capricornian, disrupting security. We're bringing Pluto in Capricorn issue up because Mars now, and South Node in Libra has been in square (conflict) with Pluto In Capricorn since the 1st week of August. It impacts our relationships, our projects and aspirations, attempting to diminish heartfelt carefree spirit and replace it with the Plutonian stoicism and hardship, under intimidating control. As Mars moves towards the square to Pluto Zach and conjoin the South Node on October 4- 11 an event may come to a head. Social disruptions, clashes around the world can erupt. Politically, socially, economically.

October 4 - 8 Venus Finger of God The Need to shift priorities into that one best plan

Finger Of God

We're Not only dealing with an increase of complex global scenarios but this Venus in Leo can join Black Moon in Leo in a double finger of God I believe is challenging good people all over the world to shift the energy turn the Tide and begin taking back our quality way of life pers You need to onally and globally. I feel finger of Gods are serious challenges and cannot be avoided. Personally the Venus in Leo double Finger of God cycle, October 3rd or 4th -8th, causes key shifts in our life. You need to make the right choice in some form. In order to stay on track with your important priorities, it will be necessary to make adjustments, shift your focus and concentrate upon certain tasks which will get you to the important end goals...these concepts will be strongly emphasized, the importance of making big decisions about what we need to focus on during these days - shift of values, prioritizing new ideas and ideals...it draws upon all that Libra stuff we mentioned above and the right way to move forward with it.

Sometimes it's a business deal, a relationship choice...other times it might be some position you must take with a person, or a career decision...a health path or finances. Something that you can feel is truly important, and other ideas we would normally feel were fine for us suddenly, get demoted.

(Finger Of God cycle, Venus in Leo 26-29* Conjoin the Black Moon in Leo, both inconjunct Neptune in Pisces at 25* and Pluto in Capricorn at 27*

Mars at 22 - 27* Libra conjoin South Node at 25(Libra sextile Venus in Leo at 25-29* Leo both inconjunct Neptune at 25* Pisces.)

I'm reiterating, more for myself, no matter what assails you during this 1st week of October, keep your cool and believe in that Leo vision which was downloaded into your being for the past four months! I keep harping on that week after week, but you know, it's hard to hold it when we're interfered with. My message to myself and all of us, don't lose the big picture of where you know you need to be or go in life. Don't lose it! With the Black Moon conjoin Venus in Leo (See the chart above) it's crucial we achieve this thing, no matter how much time and effort it takes. If you don't read anything else beyond this point, you've gotten the most important message for today.

Mercury oppose Neptune
October 2 - 6

The last piece of our September theme, hyper focusing upon a project all September, perfecting the architectural design and desire of the thing, executing exactly how you desire its results, mentally laboring over every detail and functionality. At some point in September, from the 14th on...Neptune lined up in opposition introducing fuzzy indescribable disappointments, yet somehow we're still pushing through In order to achieve something important. This was the Virgo energy (in past posts) trine Jupiter and Uranus, and also one opposition to Neptune.

Now we are in the tail end of that series of implementing much good, yet having to surrender circumstances which appeared impossible to alter.

These are the last days of that theme, we've got one more to go, the Neptune oppose Mercury in Virgo.....so try to release an old expectation. Adapt a new version, a slightly modified game plan for this one idea, and it might not involve certain people or situations you thought it would include, back in August and the 1st part of September. Plans have been altered, set back, but you have gotten so much figured out and put into place. Reflect on that!

September 29 - October 1 - 2

Transiting Mercury at 24-25* Virgo inconjunct North Node and oppose Neptune

A shift occurs with our thinking. We're re-evaluating how to move forward on a plan as this is the end of the Neptune surrendering something cycle, even while maybe still trying to hold onto it...and realizing we need to shift into a better and more realistic logical approach. Meetings are partially good, but some deviations to plans might occur. Be flexible.

October 2 2023 Venus at 25° Leo trine Node and inconjunct Neptune at 25° Pisces

A shift occurs exactly up to this October 2, and has been the culmination of something you might have been trying to incorporate into your work or life, yet fraught with frustrations- something has just felt out of sync, not right. This weekend is about getting back on track with the heart, with your true path again.

October 3 - 4 Mercury 27° Virgo trine Pluto Capricorn

Our mental powers are running high! Writing, creating, communications, meeting, strategies and organizing our work or personal is very strong. The brain is clear, details are laid out...and the Mercury oppose Neptune disoriented energy is as of today, a thing of the past! September may have had its highlights, but in general, I'm glad it's over.

October 3 - 4 Mars conjoin South Node in Libra Mercury leaves Virgo and enters Libra Oct 4

The inspiration to reconnect with what is real, of value and focus upon something from the past which had been lost or dismissed as inconsequential.

The power to re-align ourselves with building positive rapport with the people who come into our lives, and! Based upon a higher reality of the inner value of each individual. If we start from there, as the core, and move outwards, we'll always know how to be with others. Because this Mercury's theme is about relating, getting along, negotiating and putting oneself in others' shoes, each person's reality will be seen.

Oct 5 Mercury 1° Libra inconjunct Saturn in Pisces

At the start of this new Mercury energy, we run up against a limitation with how far do we go with embracing friendliness and seeing into the others' situations....before we find ourselves bending too much

Oct 4-6 Mars at 25° Libra inconjunct Neptune at 25° Pisces

Mars hits a snag.... Mars in Libra is meant to incorporate higher values and uncompromising priorities into ones affairs even when there are unsettled issues, gray areas which are difficult to nail down. With all inconjuncts which are frustrations, it's important to put energy into the positive Mars constructive game plan, regardless of the dysfunction of the Neptune at this time. Then shift to the circumstances in your affairs, which are less than desirable, and tackle them head on. Move out of old past habits which lead us nowhere.

Oct 6 2023 Venus at 27* Leo inconjunct Pluto at 27* Capricorn

As Venus in Leo makes its last effort to infuse us with love, courage and confidence in who we truly could be in life, it runs up against the control factors of limitation of Pluto in Capricorn one last time. Just as we noted in the previous inconjunct, concentrating upon the positive Venus plan of action to restart your new life with empowerment, inspite of the looming Pluto control, manipulations whether it is people in your life not behaving or cooperating in alignment with your values, or larger systems manipulating economy, global events etc.....we have no choice but to move upwards and claim our empowerment with what Venus has been trying to show us we are capable of, these past four months.

Oct 7 Sun at 13* Libra inconjunct Jupiter at 13* Taurus

Another shift and inconvenience are required , so many inconjuncts! With the empowerment of Sun in Libra's new drive to reach out and connect, nurture and invest in people, friendships and build a bridge between the old and the new, Jupiter in Taurus 'opinions, judgments and unyielding beliefs about something is interfering with these new opportunities awaiting. The shift could be to take each day at a time, from October 1 - 8, and vow to concentrate on the need to reach out to others and increase the flow of leadership, love and heart to one another and allow a shift (the inconjunct) to happen.

The old familiar attitude wasn't bad, should not be devalued, it's just that right now, there's a strong push to advance your life in a higher way.. The Jupiter tried and true values and beliefs, the old way of seeing life is still quality and will never go away! Whether there is a separating shift that needs to happen in order to advance, or use a tactic of shelving some other attitude for a while while re-evaluating the new priorities in front of you, (which is more important right now,) holding on to some familiar position or taking leaps of progress to reach a bigger goal which could have greater blessings... Even while dealing with some inconveniences or frustrations. We can always preserve and keep that precious Jupiter thing we treasure, it's just a little shift to adjust to something new.

Oct 7-11th Mars at 27* Libra square Pluto at 27* Capricorn

Here is a culmination moment where a disruptive thing could occur globally, but also a bit of a rough ride requiring us to jump a hurdle rather take the lesser path, freeze and give up. This leads to the apparent death and ending of an old way – an old way of looking at maybe one thing from the past... An old pattern an old way of looking at something or an old way of working. ...to decide to not be that way anymore, or to not go back to that one thing we don't wish to bring with us into the new future. It's a culmination moment It can also in addition, be a rough week in regards to global elite's abuse of power.

Venus leaves Leo on Oct 4 2023 and enters Virgo

It's time to say goodbye to Venus retrograde from June – October 8 2023. As we described above, it's taken us all on a journey of increasing the heart, your inner potential for courageous acceptance as to who you truly are, what you are capable of, your children's issues, education, your leadership towards others regardless of what else is going on around you, and your vision restored of a quality of life you divinely deserve. As it moves into Virgo on the 4th of October, the theme shifts to one of details, service, perfection and micro focusing upon what's out of place.

Fixing things and noting every detailed step towards your new life, new plans could be now put into place for your future. Fashion, clothes, wardrobe, fastidious order organization, design and color, graphics, anything related to beauty symmetry refinement but with an element of perfection and hyper organizing would be involved in every detail of this new cycle.

October 10 Pluto ends retrograde, goes Direct and squares Mars on Oct 9 – 13

As Pluto leaves retrograde, it builds up it's momentum and power to be released from now into January 2024 for one of the last rounds in the sign of Capricorn. It has been in Capricorn since 2008. Then Pluto returns to Capricorn again from September 2 to Nov 19, 2024 one last time.

Personally, we might feel a surge of motivation kick in on October 9 -10 to really energize our lives, our projects, or goals in order to act strongly on what we want to achieve. It will be some form of deadline, whether real or intuited at this time, you desire to reach for yourself. It could be a deadline to achieve something significant for yourself by the end of the year.

But Pluto is going to square Mars October 7 – 11 as it stations Direct. That is too much power and volatile energy building up on the globe at one time. This runs into the next Solar Eclipse on October 14 in Libra – also square Pluto in Capricorn. It would be the challenging week to be aware of globally. Hard incidences could occur.

As Pluto moves into Aquarius in January 2024, the energy will shift into community advancement....it will change from implementing rules, structures and systems of achievement to people and communities, transparency and alchemy.

The September 29 Full Moon in Aries recap

The entire Full Moon cycle from September 29 up to the Solar Eclipse on October 14, in Libra ...

We've reached maximum culmination of getting the message loud and clear what is on our plate to manifest for ourselves and others...and facing the stark reality as to how we are to get there!

Experiencing the fullness of your new wisdom and experience...your mind clear as to the course of action, no matter what it is you've realized you'd like to achieve, whether it is work/perfecting/order and upgrading some thing in your life. Getting your priorities back. This cycle provides the perfect platform, the next jumping off point for what life now brings to you to accomplish. Remember, it started all summer, with Venus in Leo, downloading your worth and a Divine Desire to experience something great.

September was the push to mentally strategically game it out – with some opposition from Neptune – September 29 Full Moon in Aries, reached the culmination of your plan, your awareness as to how your vision is to be implemented....and the rest of October is putting it into action. I hope some can relate to this picture I've been painting for these past four months.

Whatever it is, there were stages of evolving, shifting and rising above certain dilemmas. Were they mental projections? Facing worst fears etc...?

It doesn't always have to be about work or projects either! It can be relationship goals, domestic goals, family issues or body/health ideals. Whatever it is, I suspect all of you have gone through several weeks of transformation, layers and many steps of evolving into your next best treasured objective as to how you desire to proceed....but many things had to be uncovered, let go of, or put on a shelf. We all did hard work getting here.

From October 1 - 14th, up to the date of the next Solar Eclipse is riddled with inconjuncts as you can see in the run down of the transits above.

These inconjuncts create unexpected disruptions, one after another. The most severe are October 3-6 as this is the double Finger of God. These inconjuncts force us to make a huge effort just to get your normal things done each day. We feel off, disconnected. It is as if we're dodging weird energy that has a target on our desired outcome. Then, it runs right into the Mars square Pluto on the October 9-11th. Then the Solar Eclipse squared by Pluto. This can't be good! It might be used for another global incident(s). from October 9 - 14th or after. But I think it's high time we implemented the shields.

Our Experiment with the Massive Domes

Let's do an experiment. We're all aware something strange, a combo of techno-psychic phenomenon is interfering with our normal flow of life, individually and planetary, some large and some minor. It's time for us to rise above this nonsense. If we truly have the power within and above us at our disposal to eliminate interference, rise in our own invincibility to overcome lower vibrational attack, let's start using it! If it is true, our Presence above us, connected to our heart and soul has the brightness and power of a thousand Suns, we can draw this down and it will bring the desired lightness and protection around us All we need In order to bring down our desired results and our protection is in this higher presence above us.

If you feel inclined to give this experiment, we're going to daily recite things like:

“This project will go well for me” “I AM Always right on time with my important goals” “ I easily bypass opposition miraculously with the important things I desire to accomplish.”

We’re going to visualize and gaze at our images created, downloaded, pictures or photos which reflect what we want, meditate on our vision boards, drawn out designs or artistic renderings of what it is we desire to bring into fruition.

Visualize domes of light, whatever beautiful color you choose, and place these domes over cities, regions, especially hubs of importance, such as Internet hubs, transportation, food packaging and distribution facilities, our banks, medical clinics, airports, etc....and this visualization could also use an Affirmation to go with it, such as...

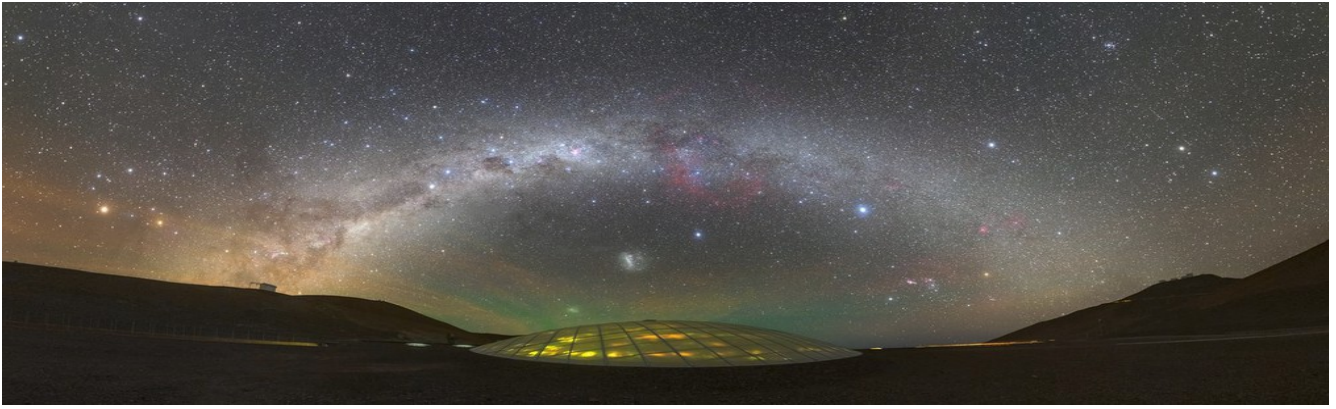

“I AM calling down into this world of 8.1 billion people, majestic domes of invincible, impenetrable substance to deflect any negative destructive acts of any kind now...Let these domes of light cover every key area of our society, my own home, town and the world.”

Use this sealing action around your own home, your town, see it in your minds eye. Let this be a ritual in addition to your own Vision board for personal needs daily. Do this Early in the morning, before the karma of the day descends.

Summery – You’ve come so far from this past June/July/Augus

You’ve analyzed your situation and how to put into action a strategy true to your inner values. Now you’re taking the steps to put it into action for the rest of the year. Part of the action plan is to override all inconveniences with a flick of the hand. And there will be inconveniences.....but we’re going to navigate around them, always holding your ultimate vision in your mind. Life happens, but certain paths forge through to the end no matter what.

Lots of Love, Christine
