1. Full Moon in Cancer on December 26, 2023

I love the idea that much of our consciousness is existing in a magnificent reality at a higher dimension where infinity is experienced.

Wonderful work is ongoing among our community of friends and divine beings on the other side of this limited 3rd dimension. Our awareness recognizes all creation emanates from an immense love everywhere which is the source of this profound existence, dimension. Yet, this 3rd we live in, and our physical planet is very important.

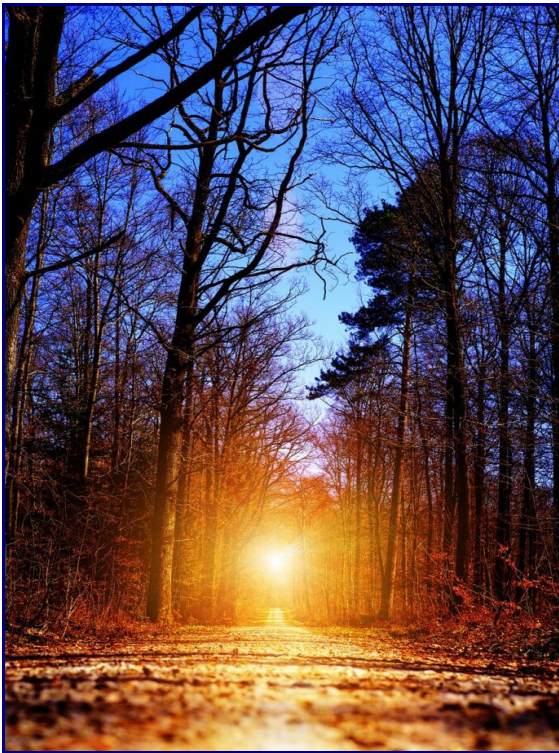

We have been under the illusion, this incredible existence above, can't be achieved in this realm, but all that is changing, and it's causing certain forces to be very upset.

As we are crucial extensions of our Higher Self "down here" attempting to bring heaven into this world, from the inside – out, We face a variety of levels of interference where a different sort of counterproductive energies or beings are also fighting to survive.

They use astrology along with other means, to stop our progress. They piggy back on certain astrological cycles and attempt to amplify disruptive "transits and progressions" for individuals and humanity, in certain geographic locations or just targeting certain activities, in order to create setbacks or stop them altogether. There seems to be a need for them to create emotional distress. We counteract these interference in various ways. I know people who simply do not fall prey to harsh astrology at all, as their consciousness just doesn't react. I am amazed at this and am constantly learning from them.

Mostly, we can insulate ourselves throughout our lives from most of this interference, and live a fairly functional life – unless you begin to accelerate upwards in your mind, your desires and expectations. What if you came into this world already accelerating, awake and wanting more than just what this world was projecting onto you? Can you imagine the strange and disruptive patterns which might come upon that person simply asking questions and desiring more truth and progress, more reality than just this mundane experience? The force is motivated to invert heaven and perpetually project mediocrity as the way onto humanity. We must revolt against mediocrity and accepting the social lowest common denominator. Do you think the Etheric Realms accept mediocrity?

I believe we're busting out of that old matrix and naturally moving upwards, and simultaneously, the things which are countering this upward expansive force, are doubling down with their chaotic opposition. We can see it in the world, there is no denial any longer, we're in some crazy form of psychic energetic battle. But I don't look at it as a battle, but a Capricornian force, as to who will end up with the Power and Blueprint of Capricorn, in control.

It takes determination and strategic living, there is no other way but up, and I think, we're all living this now, conscious or unconsciously. The focus upon Capricorn is twofold: One- Pluto will be in it's final 29 degrees of Capricorn, once in 243 or so years, and even though Pluto has been relegated to a non – planet, I know, it's one of the most powerful forces in our present solar system for us personally as we track our cycles each year. It amplifies deeply and relentlessly, either our highest aspirations under Capricornian power and status, implementing systems for ourselves and in the world or the misuse of Capricorn, corruption corporate, economic, law and now AI power, and so much more. As Pluto has been moving through this sign since 2008, it has grown in not only our own impact on the world, but the more shadowy forces also stepping up their influence.

Secondly, our Sun is now moving into Capricorn on the 22nd, and a Full Moon follows in Cancer, opposing Capricorn.

So it is crucial we get it, we're building matrices of light to counteract an artificial matrix.

Out of respect for the higher Capricornian rules of this dimension while we are here, we can work within this reality, the planets, dates/times and draw down higher blueprints into our physical world. Capricorn is ruled by Saturn which governs over, timetables, force fields, matrices, blueprints and dates. Yes, we can change reality, and our goal is to transcend these limitations, manipulations and the fallen matrix which has been thrust upon this world. Isn't it amazing however, that as determined as this negative force has been on this planet to enforce an artificial matrix, the Light continues to bust through and advance in its destination towards the Great Central Sun reality. As above so below is the plan.

Imagine coming into a body in this earth, and your magnificent being must somehow remember portions of your plan, trust your inclinations, very specific blueprints for a very specific purpose in order to advance, personally and globally, everything! You come into this body and the spirit/soul consciousness begins pressing its creative force outwards every moment of your life, your blueprint of love. It presses it outwards by your ideas, feelings, desires, accomplishments, motivations inspirations, and your innate need to create something honest, heartfelt and wonderful beginning with your first breath.

I know, it isn't perfect and it doesn't have to be a perfect life. We must TRY however to be true... and yes, there has been tremendous suffering, opposition and circumstances attempting to stop you from doing this. It's so complicated, its unbelievable, yet, progress is made.

We discover methods to push through density. Sound and our ability to communicate our needs, to speak, express ourselves and project our ideas onto our world is our power. Also, the deep focus of our imagination and thinking. Our emotional awareness. All these abilities assist us.

So finding the way to overcome, by sound and the word, music and affirmations, speech and focus of our minds, physical mastery by loving the power inherent within our body, through visualization and positive frequencies anyway that works for you, can literally alter you, and alter the harsher astrological planetary influences which are subject to manipulation.

I embrace and use the positive astrological cycles and work towards transcending the more challenging planetary cycles into their highest transformative potential. I do this by using a positive affirmation and include the planet's position, degree and aspect to a planet in my own birth chart during a particular time frame. I call for the transmutation and transformation of this planetary influence, and ask it to be replaced by the highest positive energy.

This is called an astrological call. This is my technique. You can achieve this in an astrological update for a few months or a year or more ahead. It's easy. As we move into Aquarius, it's time to take astrology to the next level, oh alchemists!

In one form or another, people are transcending their astrological cycles regardless of whether they are aware of it or not. It's absolutely amazing to me!

Most importantly, overcoming the hijackers of this realm who have been attempting to manipulate the worldly astrology to entrap, manipulate us and attempt to stop altogether our massive epic progress has been the main purpose of understanding planetary cycles.

I've known this since I was thirteen, when I received my first pile of astrological books. This massive awakening and movement upwards of a particular percentage of our population is happening. They are transforming this world into a higher Earth and changing a dark matrix into what was intended to be.

Whether it is because we are at the end of the Kali Yuga cycle, or our solar system streaming through a higher frequency, a disruptive area of our galaxy, or simply some magnificent cosmic waves bombarding our solar system, captured by our Sun, which then transmits a new higher frequency, neutrinos and waves onto our bodies, DNA, our consciousness and matter, I don't know. But, I've been catching wisps of these conversations since 2009 with a variety of interviews from astrophysicists to spiritual researchers relaying these important pieces of information.

We have strange rumors of Cern and other Hadron collider tech altering reality, shifting time/space, even to the point of suggesting in 2012 December, we were moved to another dimension, another earth like reality as something happened to our old world. Even though we have no proof, something feels off and people have expressed this concern to me for over a decade now. I see it has been increasingly disturbing since I experienced these changes notably since May 1998.

Sounds like Science Fiction – yet, it might explain alternate realities bleeding into this one we know, occurring randomly as I can recall, all the way back to 1998 on. But we can't discuss this with any seriousness, as again, it's almost a moving target, a diffused confusing subject, so messed up one can't put their finger on any one reason something feels so whacked out!

Why am I going on and on about all of this crazy stuff? Because our divine identities, our consciousness must stay intact and clear during all of these possible manipulations, in order to do our job down here.

This is why I enjoy talking about sound, music, color, our voice, our words and affirmations of a powerful positive nature literally do create worlds. They assist us to powerfully sustain and anchor our personal reality we are attempting to build. We are builders. If we are aligned with what we feel inside is beautiful, good and higher form of living, and we capture moments throughout our week or months where we concentrate upon the wonderfulness, bring it into reality with a project we love, we win. Also the importance of meditation, a ritual of yoga moment in our day, or a walk in nature for the purpose of anchoring a higher reality, or a repeating affirmations such as....

"I AM now claiming and commanding that my world reflect the highest form of magnificence, abundance, health and productivity, for my greatest soul satisfaction possible this day, through the power of my Higher Self, now releasing infinite waves of perfection. My divine blueprint for this life is being realized. I accept each wave to manifest in my physical world around me, to bless my life and all whom I contact each day in a never ending cascade of progress and wonderment, now and forever!"

So, with respect to the pure matrix (not the projected matrix) at this end of year cycles where we are wrapping up certain things for 2023, there is still time to accomplish it, and to set a new blueprint moving into 2024.

Earth is KEY. Know that. What happens here, will have a domino effect upon systems everywhere. This is why we get up everyday and our will is talking to us, " You can do this, get up, get yourself set for another day of creating...you are making a difference." It doesn't seem that spectacular most times, does it! But it actually is. It is a spectacular thing you are doing and what is actually going on down here!! I can not emphasize that enough. You are doing it even in spite of yourself sometimes. Your inner presence is enough. Yet we want more than that. There is a power inside of you that is beyond what your outer mind knows. It penetrates other dimensions, realities, can bi-locate to a variety of places where your love and powers are needed.

By the time we're in the next New Moon cycle, on January 11, 2024 when the Sun and Moon conjoin with Pluto at 20 and 29* Capricorn, a new Divine Matrix locks in. It's now time to wrap up any leftover issues and tasks, launch new routines or activities which might still be in the works.

The Theme of Full Moon in Capricorn, December 26, 2023

There is a cosmic purpose behind the end of one year, and the start of a new year.

And this particular Full Moon on December 26 is perfect for completing this year's experience. As weird as 2023 has been, the Full Moon chart describes a fairly successful culmination with all of our past month's goals we felt were important to reach. It reflects grounding, pragmatic energies....a successful finishing of certain things we have been committed to. .

The Full Moon culmination in Cancer/Capricorn, is definitely a cycle for completion, for something to reach its fullness, especially now, at the end of the year cycle Full Moon could also represent the culmination of desires not only the past few weeks or months of a series of events but the entire 2023 agenda for you.

It reveals the REALITY of what has happened, the good and difficult, and creates a distinct closure, as if you just received your final analysis of your years' experiences. It reflects for us, an acceptance, and then the impetus to achieve a better situation in 2024 for some things we could handle better.

It's not going to feel very electric or special, simply through focus, discipline and consistency, we plugged away at life each day, with a particular feeling or idea inside of what we needed to keep going, achieve and accomplish, and now we are at the finish line assessing how we did. This is because of the Saturn trine the Moon in Cancer and sextile the Sun in Capricorn

The theme of this Full Moon also represents a culmination of cooperation with our past relationships. People helping you in some way, your work relationships, family and personal partnerships and love. It reveals a culmination of realistic mutual support. If you haven't experienced this sort of pragmatic cooperation, it's possible it might show up at least as respectful good behavior on the part of others, and the calming down to some degree of drama.

2. Jupiter turns direct on December 30, 2023 at 5* Taurus

Jupiter, our planet of expansive wisdom and motivation, finally moves forward after a long cycle of retrograde since September 4, 2023.

When retrograde, we have to be patient with certain issues related to all things Jupiter. People's opinions, judgments, dealing with others' realities, and properly handling our own perspective. We have to put some of these things on a shelf and allow them to evolve as Jupiter has gone inward, or underground in a way.

Now, the energy of Jupiter's wisdom can progress forward with a new awareness of how to move forward in our life. It is a positive constructive expansion within our minds. It is in Taurus, so it's going to be about money, purchases, income and our material needs. It will be exposing aggressive economic plans rolling out globally.

It can open up progress or issues for each one of us to address with our physical functionality with our physical life and globally in the following areas:

- Engineering and Scientific Physics breakthroughs
- Technology in form of machines and devices
- A life of greater physical order and preparedness
- Energy
- Mechanics
- Financial needs
- Purchasing power
- Jobs

- All things biological
- Dirt, organics, minerals
- Bodies, medical needs
- Territorial issues such as countries' rights and ownership of their cultural and resources, people and ways
- Issues of ownership, personal rights, owning one's life, body, consciousness
- Territorial issues such as boundaries and borders.
- Territorial issues such as identity and AI, stealing ones' voice, essence, consciousness, image.

What this Jupiter turning direct does is bring these issues to the forefront of our awareness up through May 2024. Yes, one more thing!

Depending on what Jupiter is doing in your personal astrology chart, what house it is moving through and its aspects to your personal planets, will determine what your inspired motivation will be to harness and build upon some of these issues for yourself. It is definitely a time to get our physical needs organized. Now through May 2024.

3. Planetary Cycles for December 17 – 29th, 2023

Dec 17 2023 Venus at 15* Scorpio inconjunct Chiron at 15* Aries

Our social inclinations might be a bit off this day. It might be best to take it easy and not push oneself too much to fulfill others' expectations. Some obligations towards others might not be able to be avoided.

Dec 17 – 18 -19 Mercury 5* Capricorn retro trine Jupiter at 5* Taurus

A few days of optimistic progress with all sorts of every day types of tasks. Important progress is made, things get done, we can cut through and reach a nice level of satisfaction.

Our minds are practical, goal oriented these days. It's a positive time to rely upon good judgment with daily errands, tasks and work responsibilities. The mind is clear and positive, meetings go well. Our plans created during this time can be expansive and truly pay off in the future.

Dec 20-22 Venus at 19* Scorpio oppose Uranus at 19* Taurus

Issues with friendships or close relationships can be a bit strained as we either feel alienated, kept at arms length or we're purposely remaining distant from someone, or they distant from us. It can intensify the need to change our personal life in some way. A realization of the need to let go of things, make changes for the better and become more aware of a new way of looking at situations could be important to address. Especially in regards to others in our life. Bad habits are seen more clearly, and we want to break them.

Dec 20-23 Mercury at 2* Capricorn sextile Saturn at 2* Pisces

Mercury's ability to focus upon details and share information of a practical useful nature is strong this day. Contracts, sales, signing papers, making important decisions can all be positive today. When we experience sextiles especially like this one, helpful talks take place between you and others, where both sides feel genuinely heard. Plans can be made to support each other and wonderful outcomes can come from these ideas.

December 20-23 Mars at 19* Sagittarius inconjunct Uranus at 19* Taurus

Our energy, motivations, drive and need to take action can be out of sync with others today. Accidents need to be watched out for along with all sorts of mishaps, things breaking, close calls while driving. Take no risks and watch out for overdoing it when physically active. Careful with machinery. Tech problems can happen during these dates. Try not to rush or allow oneself to be anxious about anything during this period as it can draw to us unexpected problems.

Sun enters Capricorn December 22, 2023

Dec 23 Venus at 22* Scorpio inconjunct Node at 22* Aries

From Dec 18 up through the 24th of December, it might be a good idea to watch more carefully our spending. Also, an inconjunct from Venus to the Nodes could be any sort of stress in regards to either social events we need to either give or attend, which are inconvenient, gifts or anything Holiday related in the form of a disappointment or frustration in some way. This is not a terribly serious cycle so keep it in perspective, whatever could be a trip up or mistake, a misjudgment or social faux pas today. Just let it go and remain positive.

Dec 24 Sun at 2* Capricorn sextile Saturn 2* Pisces

The ones in our life we tend to look up to and have some powerful presence or authority will be exceptionally harmonious during this date. This is a positive time for feeling for the most part, all things are in order and others are happy and the day flows nicely.

Dec 24 Mars 22* Sagittarius trine Node at 22* Aries

A positive time for experiencing that boisterous optimism of Sagittarius, full of generosity, openhearted and love. The trine to the Node brings gratitude among others and opportunities to connect with supportive people.

Dec 25 Venus at 25* Scorpio trine Neptune at 25* Pisces

Deep and powerful feelings move us to think higher than our usual old manner. Our hearts can expand during this day with a sense of reverence and specialness in the air.

Dec 26-28 Mercury and Mars both at 25* Sagittarius square Neptune at 25* Pisces

The 26th through the 28th brings challenges of deception, distortions, projection and confusion in some form. We need to be realistic now, avoiding escapism, getting carried away with emotions or ideas which are actually not accurate or real. or any form of sinking into some sort of discouraging state of mind.

Dec 27 Mercury at 24* Sagittarius retrograde conjoin Mars

The combination of these two planets definitely increases our mental capacity to expand possibilities, embrace situations which we might otherwise turn down, but are good for us to embrace. We want to expand, grow, open ourselves up to great potentials. The Mercury inspires our thoughts to project specific exciting ideas into our future strongly. This is a great time for travel, teaching, coaching, learning something new. It lasts only a few days of guided inspiration however, Mercury and Mars, mind and drive, are linked nicely with Venus which will also move into Sagittarius on the 29th up through January 23rd. So we have this nice momentum going for us to increase and bring to our physical world, the thing we would desire to realize or at least launch our 2024 with great expectations! In lieu of the Mars/Mercury square Neptune deception or distortions avoid judgmental complaining, as they might not be totally accurate and could cause trouble.

Dec 27 Sun at 5* Capricorn trine Jupiter at 5* Taurus

Our Sun can represent our greatest creative desires. Think about anything you desire to have, realize or become. This day, combined with the others above which are also from the 25th into the 29th, enhances our faith and belief, whatever it is we want to accomplish, we can do it!

Dec 28 Venus at 29* Scorpio sextile Pluto at 29* Capricorn

Sextiles bring us together with people whom we like. There is a mutual support and cooperation. We have each others' backs. Venus' last day in Scorpio could mean the sharing and interaction with others is focused upon healing of some sort, pooling our resources together and discussing things which are intensely resourceful, creative and brings about wonderful sense of accomplishment. Agreeing to a plan, a positive healing and transformative experience, all looks very good now.

Dec 29 Venus moves into Sagittarius

Our social relationship planet of love moves into the fiery sign Sagittarius, bringing an increase of heart felt optimism into our world. An increase of some form of enthusiastic optimism to experience and feel much more hope, caring for our life, others and the desire to expand our consciousness. Also, travel is in the air!

How is this optimism and love be expanded? Anywhere in your life where you may have felt stuck, now a new re-birth of capableness, a feeling of more energy to achieve something very fulfilling, possibly even expanding personal knowledge, physical fitness, or simply feeling that optimism and confidence to go out and get something accomplished you may have not allowed yourself to do, before. This cycle continues up through January 22, 2024.

4. A disconcerting cycle for the U.S. Natal 1789 Astrology.

I've been putting this off for too long....

The check marks are the peaks for this astrology cycle. The last time the U.S. went through this cycle was....never.

During September and October, conversations were flying around predicting a blackout potential false flag event to occur sometime between December 2023 – April 2024, bigger than 9/11.

I was keen to discover where astrologically this might show up. As I reviewed planetary aspects in the heavens, and yes, noted the Jupiter/Uranus conjunction in end of March through April 2024, and the next huge Solar Eclipse in April 8 2024, I went to the U.S. Charts; 1776 and 1789, which I use both primarily over any other U.S. astrology charts. I thought, larger than 9/11? There may have been several astrological energies creating the 9/11 event but the one for me which stood out was transiting Mars at 1° Capricorn inconjunct Uranus at 1° Leo in the 1789 chart's 11th house of the people and unexpected aggressive attacks. I have personal reasons to know this is a potentially deadly transit. It only had a window of 3 days, however, it was to me the trigger.

Low and behold, (and I knew this was coming for years, but suspended my judgment about it ) was a much larger potentially disruptive cycle impacting America in numerous ways and layers and layers of incidences as Pluto at 1° Aquarius opposes the U.S. Natal 1789 Uranus at 1° Leo. I was looking for it, that planet which might replicate in some form, the 9/11 incident only worse.

As you can see in the 2nd transit search below Mars also moves into Aquarius at 0-6° opposing the U.S. Natal Uranus days before.

Oppositions are different from inconjunct aspects, as they demand more of a confrontational forced issue which evokes a massive reaction from the people in several severe crisis of some sort. Because it lasts one year, the nature of these two planets opposing always creates the strongest inclination to feel we are under attack on numerous fronts, and being forced to retreat, to hide away or go aggressive upon the person or situation which is in an unbelievably alienating and threatening behavior to our well being. This transit sounds just awful I know, but I've watched several wonderful people go through this cycle in their own personal transits successfully in the past several years, and they have gotten through it without it compromising their lives and security. They simply kept their wits, managed their extreme emotional reactions to a problem which is always diametrically opposed to their values and logic, and even sometimes entire happiness and quality of life as they have known it, and decided to handle it internally. Now, for a country to go through this challenge, how do you think we are to respond to this thing which is occurring?

My first idea was blackout, internet disruptions, energy disruptions layered with a new potential threat to our quality of life and freedoms coming from an external source, most likely technological and militant, speculating. It could be real, it could be created. I don't know. Also there are other cards being played at the same time such as UFO tech, threats of major solar flare disruptions, magnetic pole shifts, asteroids, and other psyche manipulations always with Uranus and Pluto.

This is such a huge subject, I could not do it justice presenting this alone, as there continues to be more and more themes emerging as I go deeper, such as the next wave of Pluto transits square the U. S. Venus in 2025, then moving towards the Sun at 10* Taurus in 2029- 2030, now we're well into 2031 agenda. For another time.

Soooo....can you now see how vital your own little life is to hold the balance and build not only a magnificent, powerful determination to not allow a disruption of our epic massive awakening and world transformation to be stopped? And build your own Capricorn/Moon in Cancer security, solid base of readiness on so many levels!

5. Transit of Uranian Planet Hades square transiting North and South Nodes of the Moon

People keep asking when the economic crisis might occur. As I was searching for the Big Event, described above, I saw this aspect occurring mid May 2024 – through June, exact on June 12, 2024.

I'm not putting as much emphasis upon this sky event, however, Hades is trouble as we saw in the December 17, 2019 – February 28 2020 hard aspects significantly manipulating our society ( the nodes representing our social happiness and trends, along with our economic prosperity) especially on that early 2020 Lunar Eclipse. (I have a full commentary on this somewhere in my article Library during those months on the site.)

Anyway, if Hades behaves as a portal for darkness and is square to the Nodes which represent our money and societies' well being, this can not be good. It denotes a social economic challenge finally coming to a head.

As I said, I am watching this one, not placing too much emphasis upon this, as there are other astrology cycles such as the Pluto oppose U.S. Uranus, much more important, but you could see how one thing could compound this other cycle and so on.

We will address the big Uranus/Jupiter conjunction in April 15- 26, peaking April 20 2024 exact. It's a strong aspect for releasing energy onto humanities' breakthrough into a higher form of thriving and handling the ongoing darkness attempting to stupidly manipulate mankind. I believe always there are brilliant genius innovative groups and individuals who will be the forerunners of revolutionary Aquarian Age progress. With these two planets in Taurus, again we're looking at very functional brilliant physical and economic engineering, advancement for the betterment of all. This is my take, and the big picture.

The attitude of these individuals when approached by those who think they can blackmail, punish and manipulate these ones and their ideas, will be to literally laugh and ignore them, proceeding with their desire to build a better world in some form. Go back to that Jupiter in Taurus bullet list above, and these would be the areas of advancement.

I've always believed the Uranus/Jupiter conjunction is a signature of Aquarian Warriors who can not be compromised, as they stand for truth, progress, transparency and humanity above all else. These amazing people don't make money their priority, just truth, transparency, advancement and especially, FREEDOM!

So, here is a portion of some astrological ideas I've been pondering on for some time. If you are savvy with astrology, you'll know there are many more we could discuss. It's overwhelming sometimes to examine so extensively the cycles, but I have to thank my Virgo energies in my own chart to always help me discern and prioritize.

Vondir and have a joyous Holiday Season! Christine
