

Mars 2024-2025

The big Mars Retrograde is coming.

As you can see in the table below, Mars moves into Leo exactly on November 3, 2024. This intensifies all things LEO which is typically a dramatic, bold and theatrical sign.

Mars and Leo energies-November 3 – January 5, 2025; Returns April 17 –

- Leadership dynamism, respect, dignity.
- Authority and Maturity versus arrogant, reckless, maniacal
- Taking Risks, overly confident
- Taking a gamble, speculations
- Investments of all sorts
- Professional sales, business growth and expansion
- Financial growth pertaining to super charged energy invested in one's projects
- Confidence
- Children and education, childcare and all things pertaining to babies, the young.
- Creative dynamic entrepreneurship activities accelerated.
- Politics and those governing
- Our confidence in ourselves, our need to be admired, self respect, dignity
- Quality of Life, enjoyment.

Some of these qualities are neither good or bad, simply triggered and high focus during this Mars cycle. Mars will remain in Leo up to January 6, 2025, intensifying the best or the worst of the list above.

It can also reveal positive out picturing of these traits, and expose the absolute worst situations, where something has definitely got out of hand in abuse of these traits.

At that point on January 6, 2024, as it is retrograde which makes Mars appears in the sky to move backwards, it moves back into Cancer all the way to April 17, 2025.

Themes for Mars in Cancer January 6- April 17, 2025:

- Parenting decisions, protection and concentration upon the family's well being

- Children's education, direction, childcare, food, health, diet or emotional well being.
- Heightened emotional reactions in 2025.
- Having enough. Budgeting, saving for a rainy day.
- Dynamic world scene theatrics
- All things Money, metals, Crypto and means of exchange for goods and services.
- Something about the MOON
- Something about Underground.
- Food, all things food. Security, storage, acquiring food.
- Commerce, business sales, focus upon personal, national and world economy.
- Security, borders, protection of cities.
- Nationalism, patriotism.
- Cartel and organized crime families (something dramatic occurring here)
- National industry, increasing productivity.
- Military – (even though Military comes under Virgo, it represents protection, defense, which is Cancer). Something big regarding the Military and war.

This Mars moving into Cancer, changes the theme to security, protecting what needs to be secured. Personal finances needing to be accumulated. Food, water, energy and fuel issues concentrated upon. It doesn't have to be dramatic, but it could.

Issues pertaining to our housing, homes, economics, interest rates, abundance or lack.

Because of...

- Mars in Cancer's trine to Saturn in Pisces – February 6, 2025 – April 8 2025
- Mars in Cancer sextiles Uranus in Taurus – January 20 – April 7, 2025
- Mars in Cancer trine Neptune in Pisces – January 14 – April 18, 2025
- Mars in Cancer trine North Node in during this time... April 1 – 10, 2025

.....it is hopefully a very favorable time for experiencing positive solutions and progress for this Mars.

In the time of January through April 17, 2025, these aspects act as stabilizers and bring out the best opportunities for success and advancement, accomplishing all the positive outcomes for the things on the Cancer list.

Saturn trine Mars, February – April, causes a matter-of-fact sort of attitude or observation that even though we are all still concerned with our security and money, and well-being, Saturn creates a situation where official solutions, bills passed or regulations in a constructive way, could be implemented all February through April 2025. Personally, it provides stability, common sense and at least an organized patient sort of progress, where trust is involved in following a practical yet idealistic plan.

Jupiter will still be in Gemini during this time, causing somewhat of an ethical mind expanding and logical theme for the 1st half of the year 2025. This Jupiter can assist in good judgment against impulsive irrational poor judgment of the Jupiter square Saturn discussed above, and any impulsive Mars triggers.

Mars in Leo, November through January 6, can threaten, bluff or declare a particularly bold and difficult position, mandate or demand, but after Jan 6 as it moves into Cancer that is when it might trigger a knee jerk reaction, a retaliation in defense.

In a positive sense, it will light a fire to get things done, changed, reversed (retrograde) reviewed and re-done. In a challenging sense, it could also mean simultaneously, things are heating up violating borders, boundaries, safety, prices, and in general an escalation of not feeling secure.

It looks to me like a crisis in several areas escalating, where the positive aspects (dates above) can manage and re-direct these more difficult Martian energies in a constructive way.

This Mars in Cancer on or around February 23rd leaves retrograde dynamically exposing problems with those intensely attempting to secure things, batten down the hatches and scrambling to make changes quickly.

In November, Mars in Leo begins a dynamic display of theater, it comes in strong. As we approach January 2025, it moves into Cancer, now dealing with domestic problems of all kinds, with the intent on stirring things up so much, it demands changes to take place immediately.

Here is a run-down of Mars' aspect to the planets:

- Mars stationary retro at 6* Leo between November 20 – December 15, exact Dec 6, 2024
- Stationary direct February 23, 2025, at 17* Cancer trine Saturn in Pisces (stabilizing)
- February 6 – April 8, 2025, Mars station trine Saturn in Pisces
- Jan 20, 2025- April 7, 2025, Mars sextile Uranus
- April 1 – 10 2025 Mars trines North Node at 27* Pisces (conjoin Neptune)
- January 14, 2025 – April 18 2025 Mars trine Neptune in Pisces

One cycle which is disturbing would be Mars at 29* Cancer to 2* Leo oppose Pluto at 29* Capricorn, October 18 – November 10, peaking exactly on November 3-6, 2024. It returns December 31 – January 5, 2025.

This is an extreme potential of a false flag or challenging event taking place, abuse of power in some obvious way. It could cause an event to erupt at the price of someone's life, where a situation occurs where the U.S. election must be delayed or shut down. Because it's so quick, and there are other stabilizing planets aspecting at this time, it might just be an incident which gets handled. Of course, this might also be occurring somewhere else in the world, it does not have to be U.S. related. The other November 4-7 astrology is positive, such as the Saturn trine Sun, and more. We'll cover this soon. It would not be right for me to neglect this Mars aspect since we have gone so heavily into this planet's movements.
