

Stardrops May 18, 2025

In addition to your May zodiac Sun Sign forecasts posted on the most recent Starfires, Click for Review....here are the global planetary cycles for the rest of May. If you haven't checked out that post, I invite you to see what is in the Stars for your Sun Sign.

For the past few weeks, some have experienced dramatic unexpected interference with the people in their lives. Schedules have been shifted, timelines set back, accidents, incidences or even fatalities have erupted which have forced them to accept a change of outcome.

I haven't seen a trend like this for some time. After searching planetary influences nothing really hit me as the cause of this. Maybe it was the Uranus conjoin Sun on the Full Moon beginning May 12th, however, my gut feeling it isn't in the stars. When these themes have occurred before, they are random, coming out of nowhere and not exactly fitting in with the astrology. This one is messing with our inner clock, the intuition which tells us, such and such should be happening by now – what is sharply disrupting this? An energy which wants to jar the timeline, set us off into an unexpected direction we never planned. Yes, it does sound like a Uranus/Aquarian energy, however, I'm not so sure.

AFFIRMATION

"I AM the full power and divine control over my life plan now. I call to all Divine Presences to roll back and dissolve all negative projections, interference, and negative powers causing unnecessary influences, accidents or mishaps, causing alterations of the Divine Timeline for myself and the world. I AM in Full God Control of my life plan each day!"

So, today, I want to inspire you to demand and claim your right to find your way through any upsetting inconveniences which threw you out of sync with your destinations planned.

With Saturn at the tail end of Pisces, conjoining Neptune, the need to confront mysterious factors on the planet which continue to shape shift with undermining force, will soon be replaced with Saturn in Aries, conjoin Neptune in Aries. The activation of warriors. Regaining control over one's destiny,. Claiming the right to obtain personal needs, fulfilling expectations and pushing away all projections and interference coming through whatever source which has had a power to disrupt your life. We are doing this now.

You know the way – in silence, you tune in – you know. Something is off, something needs to get set right. Harness the energy of Saturn in Aries beginning now, for 2 1/2 years, to move this invisible enemy out of reach, and take control back of your world. I tell you it can be done.

SATURN MOVING INTO ARIES, CONJOIN NEPTUNE IN PISCES

As Saturn moves into Aries, the nature of Saturn's demands discipline, practice and progress, but mostly, personal mastery and advancement. Saturn wants to make our breakthroughs and worthy ideas concrete, to crystallize them. Saturn put things into the physical such as systems, ideal projects realized, new jobs, inspired visions, organization and schedules. When Saturn moves into Aries, our expectations and plans have a stronger drive to be exactly how you want them to be, or, we're dealing with someone else's "My Way" attitude and you need to decide, to resist or comply.

It is a strong cycle from May 2025 – 2027 for expressing yourself. It can open the way for all of us to identify more and more, with a higher Presence above, integrated inside of our hearts, acting in everything in our world. We can allow It to take over, and surrender to its perfect action simply by being aware it is possible. Magical days are ahead for those who work towards that reality. It takes practice.

The previous cycle of Saturn in Pisces was like an architect designing one's plan and had us dreaming about our ideal. It was necessary for also sorting through losses, disappointments, overcoming fears and waste.

With this water sign of dreams, came battling doubts and whether we could ever reach them. Now, Aries projects a confident, simplistic attitude of "Stop over-thinking everything, just get up and do it! Be it! Obtain it!"

Yes, the lesser traits of Aries could appear self-absorbed, bossy and a need for immediate gratification, but let's just harness the positive of this Saturn in Aries period, and allow it to push us, motivate us and move into action. Since Aries is ruled by Mars, and Mars is aggressive, assertive energy, you might look at this cycle as if we sense an urgency, a push to wrap something up quickly, as we are in war mode in a way to get everything done, in place, reach specific outcomes before it is too late. Before, what is too late?

With Saturn conjoining Neptune, the nebulous, mysterious or unidentified threats will be revealed and this exposure to what has been hidden is going to speed up stripping away the unexplained, and discovering that which has been hidden. Saturn in Aries is like waves of energy bringing us back to one-disjointedness, relentless concentration until a thing is finished. Activities, issues or situations which have not made sense up to this point can be penetrated and transformed.

Because Aries is a fast-moving sign, it will be one thing after another rushing past us to be processed and handled.

For the world of new leaders, peculiar, unimaginable, and mysterious activities will require a re-arrangement of global community positions and offer progress, leading the world towards the future, tech and space with new moral ethical platforms.

This has already begun in 2025, but each month which goes by throughout 2025 – 2026 will be clearer what murkiness we've been living in. Our own lives will become busier as black and white stark reality must be dealt with and transcended for a better life. It is for ourselves and on the world scene. People will also behave more impatiently, confrontational, bold and challenging the old Neptunian hidden issues, denial and side-stepping or re-directing of issues. An air of impatience is occurring.

For us personally, I truly believe it's a time for capturing the ideal Neptunian dream, it doesn't matter if it is business, projects, home/family, finances or spiritual immersion in the All That Is, Saturn creates discipline and locks in the vision to make it part of our top priority it brings it into reality now through action and focus. It is an Alchemical Process we are entering – sped up!

Saturn rules Time, Neptune is the dissolver, so are we moving into a cycle where time/space can be transcended? Dissolved? Saturn can make permanent Neptune's etheric influence. Could there be not only physical tech but spiritual advancement within our consciousness which is overriding the Matrix itself?

What an interesting two years, and yes, I do feel we are on a higher timeline, and something urgent is to be realized within our own personal lives. It is for our fulfillment, and possibly for our safety. It is for being in the right place at the right time, and also for humanity and for Earth to go the direction our Highest Presence desires it to go.

Jupiter in Cancer square Saturn in Aries

From June 9, 2025 to June 29, 2026, Jupiter expands and emanates good fortune and powerful feelings towards family, love, marriage. It intensifies all things beautiful with our family members, new babies, new life and opportunity for abundance, money, home, real estate and growth.

This period of time where Jupiter is in Cancer, will begin with one more square to Saturn. In general, this aspect has been going on since last end of July through August. It peaked July 28 – August 22, 2024; December 15 – January 4 2025;

Both of these dates, Saturn was still in that idealistic architect sign of Pisces of high standards, expectations, but sometimes not practical. Jupiter was still in Gemini the emphasis for one year from last year, was upon the mind, information, writing, talking and sharing. It expanded all things pertaining to our mental decision-making. (Mental Yellow signs are Gemini/Pisces). It increased the need for greater analysis, the practical planning versus ideal outcome of Saturn in Pisces, regardless of price, time or investment of energy.

However, there is a change in this square between these two planets. As of this June 10 – 23, 2025 we will have to be practical and realistic, one more time, as the square is occurring again. But this time, it is impulsive, impatient, wanting to cut through and just get it done, as the cycle of Jupiter square Saturn will be in Cancer/Aries.

The energy will feel different – it deals with urgency, action required, immediate decisions or commitments. It might be more physical (even physical labor, body transformation, or a new re-branding self, identity, business). The previous two were based upon talk, planning and even intellectual evaluation, discernment and decisions made based upon filtering ideas. It was testing the mind's ability to do something smarter and, on a budget, yet still end up with what you wanted. This time we are entering a time of personal power and expressing our need to be something, or have something, getting it launched, etc...

With all Jupiter squares, there are risks of investing time, energy, and money. We have trust and good intentions, but things happen, or others' judgment is not the best during these dates, so this is why I cautioned against just jumping into anything without really thinking it through. It absolutely demands research, spending more time making sure all people involved in processes and projects are on the same page. Even if they say they are, make them describe the procedure, the outcome, to just make sure. I bet there will be differences in one's mind compared to the others.

There can always be an element of pressure to commit along with this aspect. Don't succumb to the pressure, hold your ground, and take your time to really decide what you think is the best course of action – this last Jupiter/Saturn is a power energy, where the last two were mind, information, and intellect energies.

The power signs, Cancer/Capricorn/Aries/Libra want to get going, They are Blue and they have other things to tend to, so they hurry us to commit, make the decision, make the investment, or get on with the schedule, now! There can be waste, or there can be emergencies, where we're having to juggle what the best way, time, and path to take would be under duress, as we know we have to push ourselves to do something important which could be unavoidable – or is it? Maybe we actually do have a choice!
