Stardrops November 22 2026

Let's begin with our partially sobering, but mostly victorious. Let's enter the exciting new cycle now beginning.

Planetary Cycles

November 22 - 24 begins with the Sun entering Sagittarius trine Neptune in Aries, sextiles Pluto in Aquarius
This is a perfect start as it will empower us to take on a strong vision how things "should be", holding that vision in numerous areas, personal, family, professional and the world.
As we enter the Sagittarius cycle, it has the capacity to make our wishes magnified, and our expectations great. This is not being unrealistic, it's holding a standard, a level to rise to in our field, which is important to sustain, as we face other things swirling around us, which tempt to lower that standard down to the lowest common denominator. This period helps to stimulate our vision as to what is possible and could be achieved!
Think about this as a very real potential in your own life, and as usual, I suggest we all write it down. Sagittarius has an expansive quality to it – a positive outlook and hopeful belief in good things coming out of hard times. It also alters and adjusts our limited vision we might be accustom to, into an alternate view, a different way of seeing something - shifting our attitude, adjusting our plan or path. This cycle will continue with the Sun in Sagittarius, up through December 21.

With the Sun radiant in Sagittarius, it is inspiring this shift even more so, as it trines Neptune which helps draw down insight from that ethereal realm. Neptune also tends to protect magically your ideal outcome. It helps us connect dots fill in the gaps to our understanding of things.
This period can help you with greater abstract imaginative side of yourself, enhancing your nature to step into a greater Self. It helps us understand more as to why this or that is occurring around you. It can enhance clarity as to how to perform through the weeks ahead in a new way with a new attitude. Even though this may be only for a few days, we could see it as the launch of the new cycle.

As you walk through this stream of Sun/Neptune/Pluto influence, you might take a deeper look at yourself and your regular habitual self versus a new glimmer of insight of your potential you can walk into. Make a note of it and allow it to sink in as this is very real, and your next assignment.
We can expect new information coming our way which adds a bit more understanding of the big picture. You could be inspired to increase your efforts because you are suddenly believing more in your ability to accomplish important things. This is also helped by the Pluto sextile Sun, and Neptune. Greater confidence in your self's ability to realize dreams, expand your message, increase your moral example or mentoring coaching of others into a stronger higher vision of what could be. A positive start for the next several weeks.

Nov 25 Sun at 3* Sagittarius oppose my Uranus at 3* Gemini
Today, the potential for separating out from some situation you notice is projecting on us the past belief, or even a social projection put upon you (us) could be revealed. This is a separating out from something not good. A separating or pushing away of something we don't want to take on. A strong intention to not follow the norm, the predicted news or theme and this might be in your personal life, your work/group, or global trends. It is a strong impulse to exercise your own will and intention to bring into reality what you want and feel is your path.
On the flip side, disruptive attitudes or positions coming from others, could challenge our plans, and yet don't forget the 22-24 positive Sun trends which brought a new vision to you of anything is do-able, it just might take a modified form and more persistence.

Mars

"Archangel Michael, protect us now in all ways. Provide a safety net for us to live freely each day. Disrupt and dissolve all forms of irregular war harming society in any form. Seal all in an invincible shield of love and magnify divine solutions quickly for any event erupting."

November 25 2026
Mars enters Virgo, preparing to turn retro – (Begins officially November 25, 2026 – July 14, 2027)
If you are moving through life with enough on your plate already – and have little awareness of what's been going on globally since end of September 2026, the Mars is describing a period of time we all must navigate around irritation, worry and frustrations and more.
Whenever Mars begins to turn retrograde, I prepare. With this Mars retro in Virgo, I have had a bad feeling about it since June 2026 when I began meditating upon what it could do.
Virgo relates to the Military, as it is a zodiac sign of service among other things, and our entire daily functioning of society. It involves all the themes I'm listing below. This cycle started to kick in October, pick up speed in November, until it reaches culmination of events November 25 to January 10 2027, when it officially stations and turns retro. That's a long time for us to be living daily in this sort of tension. It's because of Virgo.

Personally, I would be expecting a step up of crisis of some form, at work. Whatever situation has recently shown up in your life with service, helpfulness, work/employment, or your staff, co-workers could escalate. Virgo also deals with every day routines and functional tasks.

- Whatever issue involving tech, websites, data, security, programs/software security – could escalate.

- Issues pertaining to accidents, illnesses, health and body safety, security and immune system could escalate.

- Problems with animals, pets, and also issues with injustices and unfairness, petty picky fault finding and negative thinking, could escalate.

- Machinery and equipment failures, suddenly utility services not working properly, mechanical or tech/software failures, glitches or attacks;

- Any issues pertaining to unexpected extreme bizarre incidences with military, armed forces, militia, national guard, weapons, not approved launches,overriding human decisions....these are all Virgo related issues, and we need to be prepared, these things could happen.

- Any issues where AI – Internet is in full control over any part of societies' functioning, medical, food, utilities, traffic regulation, appliances, heating cooling systems, medical hospitals, surgical procedures, incident by incident or batches, could happen.

- Global and National financial data across the board in any area, in agencies, areas we take for granted, functional daily activity, suddenly changes, could become compromised.

- Issues regarding health, body, wellness could escalate and/or be finally looked into and fixed.

Again, the cycle began October, building through November, peaking December up through January. Continues through February 2027. The entire theme runs up through mid-July 2027.

The Positive Side of Mars Retrograde

The positive side of Mars retro, would offer us an increase of intense motivation to concentrate upon something worth achieving. It could be anything which is a practical useful thing. Possibly to secure our life in any area you're being inspired to do so. Globally, there could be movement towards fixing and stabilizing some of the areas in the list above.

Mars in Virgo retro inspires us to work harder, target detailed vulnerabilities, to actively engage in an excellent project performance analysis, as if your life depended on it! This will also feel strong from now up through next July 2027.

Concentration and targeting specific problems which must be repaired, fixed, resolved.
It's possible, this should be all we experience with Mars retrograde, a productive time of efficiency, service and increasing the perfecting of many things. Ideally, none of these other negative activities in the above list should disrupt us– no emergencies, no breakdown of functionality, only a powerful motivation to upgrade, fix, prepare and secure the basic functionality of our every day lives. This, is also ideal Virgo.

The emerging of an advanced form of health rejuvenating technology machines or devices also could emerge during this period, as Virgo relates to health.

The concentration upon a transformation of break away financial communities demanding independence from transaction disruptions or manipulations would be possible.

The motivation to step up new innovative business/work/daily use of devices, software, machines and equipment without AI vulnerabilities.

In the news, documentaries, interviews and exposures of exactly what is happening globally, deceptions and false information etc...This is Uranus in Gemini square Mars in Virgo. The Mars in Virgo challenges the disruptive rogue side of Uranus in Gemini and could assist the right s of people in every situation, for freedom.

Uranus in Gemini square Mars in Virgo

Uranus has already been building new themes and technological systems especially involving economic currency plans since 2018 when it moved into Taurus, but now, with Mars retro square Uranus up to May 2027, it has become like a war to preserve intellectual data, info, movement of our very lives, travel, transportation, mobility itself – to protect true Uranus independence and autonomy, freedom against a science fiction backdrop.
There may even be good intentions behind surveillance, flushing out particular beings mimicking as normal. Monitoring their movements for the safety of society.

I still believe the revolutionary Uranus/Pluto/Neptune transits which began to lock in for the next few years, since last June 2026, are for a higher more refined alignment for millions. These communities of bright lights who long for Home, and still desire to bring some form of that Heaven down here into their earth existence have a power within, to realize this dream, regardless of the escalation and sophistication of the war.
Not only for their own pleasure, but for a higher functioning society now and for the future all time.

I've been aware of this Mars in Virgo square Uranus cycle for months now, and knew it was at least going to escalate Military action in November/December on....2026. Mars retrogrades cause an increase of potential hostility, increased violence and aggressive confrontations. This Mars in Virgo has an intense behavior of injustice, retaliation not only in military events increasing, but escalating troubles in all things related to Virgo. Because this Mars also is in square to Uranus in Gemini, all forms of communications, data, IT, Tech continues to be attacked. Even though this cycle officially does not begin to really intensify until November 25, we usually begin to see Mars' behavior acting out, even a month or two earlier than the exact start of it. So from Mid October up through November, it has engaged. The worst of this Mars agitation will be November 30 – December 7 when Mars begins a three times in seven months disruptive square to Uranus in Gemini. This potential for disruption of communication, energy, electric, internet, acceleration of AI hacking and numerous other unpredictable attacks could continue throughout this entire cycle up through May.

Mars square Uranus Peak Dates

November 30 – December 7 2026
February 14 – 18, 2027
May 22 – 30, 2027

Even though these are three crescendo moments where we could see an escalation of events, (even a week before and after these peaks) the entire time from November through May, it's happening. But also, the opportunity to get so much accomplished, as the square can create intense motivation to achieve something important and practical.

The Full Moon plays into this square, as on November 24 we have a full moon, and the Uranus conjoins the Moon, and squares the Mars. As we know from past reviews of Full Moons, it's influence begins increasing a distinct theme way before the actual Full Moon happens. By the Full Moon, it has our full attention.

This is a time, from late October up through November where there is a roll out of events until it reaches a maximum saturation moment – November 24th.
I feel this has to do with whatever has been prodding you to get done by November 24, up to even November 28 When Mars moves into Virgo officially. By the end of the month try to have certain issues squared away.

I would be holding a positive intention for things to be fully functioning, for continual abundance, cooperation, protection and safety for every thing we need to maintain for our societies' functionality (which is very much, a Virgo trait) as we walk through a period of disruptions, truly beginning on the Full Moon November 24 up through the end of February 2027. Just because the Full Moon will crest on November 24, doesn't mean the crisis is over – it means the public (moon) is now beginning to get it, to experience the totality of n what this new theme is all about, and our global situation. Uranus conjoining the Full Moon, tells us the world is unstable.

The above dates under Mars square Uranus are moments of stronger potential crisis, but also our clarity becoming very sharp as to exactly how this war is being fought on humanity right now and what we should do. Virgo also deals with priorities, discernment and smart choices.

Remain in the productive, functional, practical posture, which is the theme of Virgo now through mid July 2027. Mars officially is retrograde from January10, 2027 – April 1, 2027, but, will remain moving through Virgo up to July 14, 2027. It is in Virgo November 28, 2026- July 14, 2027 and is the period I would say we are adjusting and bracing for continual inconveniences, yet concentrating upon the most efficient use of our time, work, energy.

Millions experiencing a heightened desire for change within, transformation, liberation from the old self to a Higher Way.
June 2025 began. June 2026- 2033

A continuing increase of frequency and light infuses our world. It compels us towards a more refined intelligence and preference for things which enhance our lives rather that diminish life. For many It's like waking up from a long sleep as we move through Uranus in Gemini, trine Pluto in Aquarius, sextile Neptune in Aries which did start June 2026 and lasts a long while.
I'm still discovering changes happening inside of me, old habits or preferences for this or that, which aren't exactly the highest choices, these are dropping away, naturally – as if layer by layer, I'm becoming a new person.

During this period, no matter what erupts on the world scene, chaos is running parallel with this awakening, as a violent reaction to the acceleration we're moving through for a more refined self.

The intense light descending is pulling millions up into it, and those activities which are the polar opposite of this light, dramatically react to what is happening they can not control. This could explain how such positive astrological times we are living in, including the Pluto in Aquarius potential for a profoundly liberating age beginning, appears to be mixed in with a chaos and attacks increasing. The very things Aquarius and Uranus represent, advanced technology for the solution to humanity's suffering, seems to be turning rogue, manipulated. Of course it has been in the works for decades, however, these Uranus/Mars retrograde periods, Uranus in Gemini trine Pluto in Aquarius, could also be infiltrated by darker beings, just waiting for this time to come where it could be harnessed for a darker purpose. The positive astrology could be used by darkness. Affirmations protecting this acceleration of life and block it from being used by darker energies would be a good thing for all of us to be giving.

The progress towards ultimate freedom is relentless, invincible, and some form of a declaration of war against the misuse of the Aquarian Age of Freedom's purposes has been declared.

Let's continue....

Nov 26 Mercury at 16* Scorpio trine Hades at 16* Cancer
A day of intuitive confident insight into how something is to be solved, approached and handled which previously might have been tricky. Progress is made even though it might feel like a bit of a sacrifice...this has been going on since the 1st of November –yet it's still a potential for constructive action.

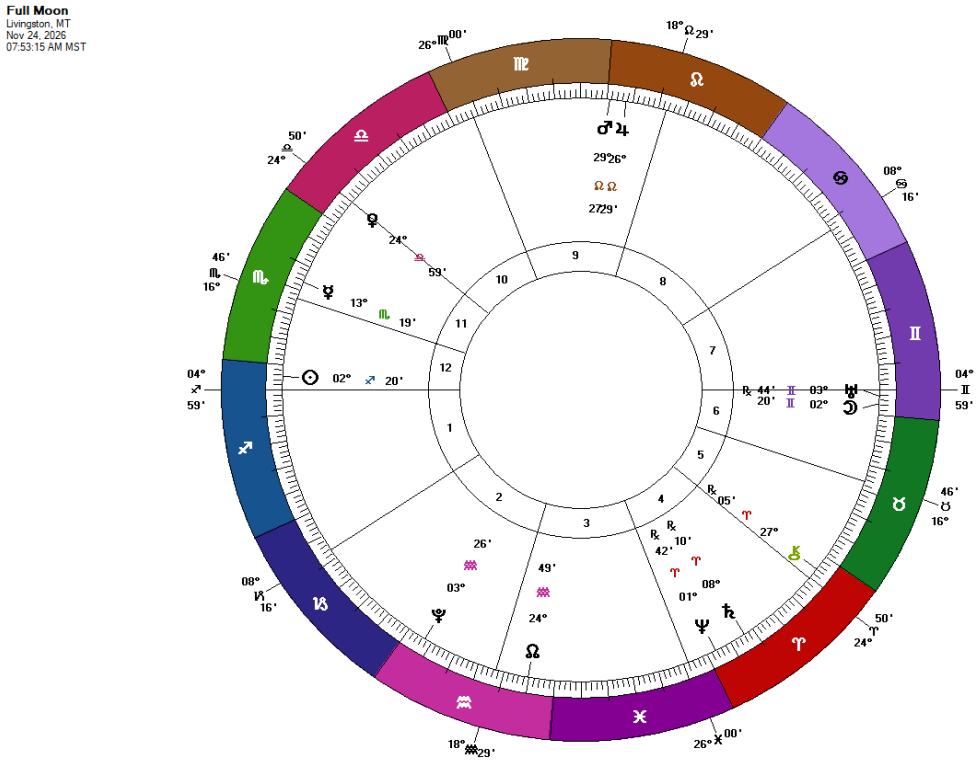

November 27 – 28 - 29 Venus at 26* Libra sextile transiting Jupiter at 26*Leo
During these days, social meetings, connections, support and kindness comes our way. Themes involving form, geometry, beauty, music and love, are enhanced. It is very positive for social get together s', friendship and relationships.
Some positive things involving finance could happen. Greater confidence, courage, self initiative and actions to create order and ease of living in some way. Design and beauty, style or appearance of something might be involved.
Love, friendships, thoughtfulness and the heart swelling with reflection on our friends, events, happy times with others puts us in a more positive outlook. We're grateful for something important.

November 20 – December 7 (exact November 28 – 29 -30th) Transiting Uranus at 3* Gemini trine Pluto at 3* Aquarius
An incredibly productive period for getting to the core of some problem. This is the 2nd crescendo time of this particular event. (The first was July 2026) Breakthroughs in our personal lives with important projects finalized. Breakthroughs with tech solutions. Out of nowhere insights and original ideas come to us involving a transformation or creation of some new endeavor, a new role or awareness of a plan – a breakthrough, an idea, a desire to take something to the next level of excellence and future success.

November 29 Sun at 8* Sagittarius trine Saturn at 8* Aries.
Our projects, our appointments, events, significant moments we are counting on for reliability are successful now. This includes the people we count on the most to assist us with achieving an key outcome, our professionals, family or those who are important in our lives, are reliable... stable. We can count on others' wisdom and common sense. We can commit, take action, and trust a strong and positive day helps us now.

November 29 Mars at 0-2* Virgo inconjunct Neptune at 1* Aries
At the same time, fuzziness regarding one part of the outcome of a situation can be bothersome. It causes either trust in the unknown to work out alright even though it's still unclear, or maybe even some apprehension and confusion is dealt with. These two days can run in to some disappointment or in hindsight, error of judgment regarding one thing left unresolved from the November 28 – 30 period, especially on the 29th. Try to ask the right questions about those issues which seem unclear until you come up with the perfect solution.

Full Moon November 24 2026

Theme for the Full Moon Personally:

- Take advantage of this time, from all November into December 8 *New Moon, for examining what's left undone in your affairs which needs to be wrapped up.

- Know, you are being supported by intensely original inspiring and resourceful energies. You could feel an increase of will, determination and confidence prompting you to take action, and improve on something now, in your world. Something has upgraded your life.

- Support, kindness and stability surround these next two weeks, yet you're walking in an ever increasing chaotic world which does require serious preparedness. Anchor yourself with what you need, and stabilize. Confidence in your future stability and growth can feel very real now.

As we have mentioned under the Mars Retro square Uranus cycle (end of November 2026; February 2027; May 2027) the Full Moon could magnify unexpected crisis with communications, news, unexpected revelations. Unpredictable internet, electric or travel issues. Unexpected work disruptions and other emergencies especially targeting military activities and info received which prompts new decisions globally....this is because the Mars moving retro, is square Uranus and Moon in Gemini. Uranus conjoins Full Moon in Gemini has the potential for unpredictable unconventional disruptions, emergencies, upsets and crisis in all activities involving Gemini issues, which we've been covering in this article.

Jupiter in late Leo, is also in a square to the Moon/Uranus, which tells me, in regarding important global areas, we're running up against something dense and stupid, backwards with global leadership in several areas, and very poor judgment. A potential for being in incredibly complicated conflict of interests, in a bind between actions and movement where either way, there are glitches and negative results to consider, yet one might feel bound to move forward.
During these Jupiter squares, I try to not do anything, but alas, I flunk about 50% of these tests of Jupiter in a square to some planet, as I simply can't find any other way around them but to move forward with the messy plan.
This is our entire November yet mostly culminating on the 16th to the 24th, then continuing for the next few weeks afterwards.
Fortunately, the Moon/Uranus in Gemini are in positive angles to Neptune and Pluto, empowering resourcefulness, solutions, excellent original insights and engineering capabilities. It's positive for bypassing vulnerabilities. It's positive for intention to solve anything no matter what it is.

The Moon/Uranus aspect to Neptune bringing helpfulness, negotiations, cooperation from others. It's good for medical, healing. It's positive for all creative work. It acts as a grace or mercy intervention from either higher forms of support, or people who step in and heal/support/advice and provide the right information and decisions which are needed the most during these times. Take this personally, and it can also be globally.

The Sun in Sagittarius, as covered earlier, is in a stable trine to Neptune/Saturn in Aries. This releases a confidence with decisions made earlier, and knowing whatever next steps you are taking, are the right steps in order to learn, discover and lead to your ultimate goal you want to reach.

This can also be some progress in a way, for greater stability and order for the most part, while the disruptive Uranus/Moon square Mars is playing out. Clarity and direction, stability and stronger boundaries, security measures and solutions can be put forth, not only globally but in our own lives now.
The wrap up of this entire cycle would be to prepare for the unexpected disruption of our every day functional lives, yet remaining confident some form of larger work is going on. Holding a vision for maintaining a standard of living involving freedom, autonomy and independence from future control and interference, and all the back up solutions necessary to ensure this, will come out of this period.

Thank you for being here, and let's see how much our own expectations with life maintains all functionality and progress in all ways!
